IUPUI GETS NEW DIVISION

H
A Division of Public and Environmental Affairs has been established at IUPUI to offer a comprehensive range of programs in public service careers. The division, a part of Indiana University's system-wide School of Public and Environmental Affairs, will begin in Indianapolis with the IUPUI Metropolitan Studies Program, directed by Dr. John Liell, and Criminal Justice Education Program, directed by John H. Kragie.

Chancellor Maynard K. Hine said there also are plans for the division to begin a master's degree program in public affairs during the 1972-73 academic year.

The division also will offer a variety of non-degree and in-service training programs for employees of state and local government agencies.

The state-wide School of Public and Environmental Affairs is being established on the I.U. Bloomington, Indianapolis, and regional campuses under the direction of Dean Charles F. Bonser, former director of the university's Bureau of Business Research.

Chancellor Hine said a committee has begun to interview candidates for director of the IUPUI division of the school. "The public and environmental affairs programs represent a major element of progress for both Indianapolis and IUPUI," he said.

"This is the most urban of Indiana's public campuses. This is Indiana's largest city and the agencies of state and Federal government are concentrated here. We have some heavy obligations to support the administration of these agencies and to provide public service employees with the academic backgrounds which they want for their professions and careers," he said.

As examples of the possibilities, Dr. Hine pointed to the already established programs in metropolitan studies and criminal justice education.

Under Dr. Liell, the Metropolitan Studies Program has developed extensive research, service, and education programs directed toward the needs of neighborhood workers, poverty programs, and pre-school centers.

The Criminal Justice Education Program developed under Kragie has enrolled several hundred city, county, and state law enforcement officials in associate degree and baccalaureate degree programs in law enforcement.

LITTLE OLE WINE TASTERS

The IUPUI Women's Club is planning a jaunt to the "vineyards" of Vevay for the Wine Festival on Saturday, August 12. Bus leaves the Union Building at 10 a.m.; round-trip fare is $4.50. Families and friends are invited, too. For information, call Mary K. Gillam, Ext. 4751, or Shirlee Kendall, Ext. 296 (38th Street Campus).

NEW IRMP STAFFER

Mrs. Gladys E. Buckwalter, project director for the Indiana Regional Medical Program Nursing Coronary Care Project for the past three years, has joined the IRMP program staff.

Her duties will include the management of the continuing education program as it relates to nursing and allied health sciences. She also will continue to be responsible for the Nursing Coronary Care Project, which is conducted in co-operation with the School of Nursing.

SMILE

Faculty and staff I.D. photos are taken daily in the registrar's office at the Medical Center, Fesler Hall, Room 206. About three weeks later you'll get the embossed, plastic I.D. card for only $1. For information, call Ext. 7163.

Note: These cards can be very useful when traveling out of town. Often an up-to-date I.D. card can get you a 20 per cent discount on car rental and hotel rates. All you have to do is show that you're a card-carrier and ask for faculty rates.

MAILING LISTS AND LABELS

Because the 7040 computer is no longer in operation at the Research Computer Center, the computerized mailing list and labels program will be transferred to another computer.

The News Bureau will not have access to the computer program during August. This means that mailing lists and labels will not be available to users and that updating information will have to be delayed. Please continue to send the News Bureau any changes and deletions for the lists, but don't expect immediate results.

The ordering, distribution and general mailing list service will resume in September.

HERRON HAPPENINGS

The Israeli Dancers of the Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation will present a program of traditional folk dances at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the courtyard of the Herron School of Art. There is no admission charge.

Also on Wednesday, at 3:30 p.m. in the courtyard, the IUPUI Storybook Players will present "The Story Tellers," a dramatization of three popular fairy tales from other cultures. No charge for this, either.

Also on Wednesday afternoons, from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m., children from the first through fourth grades are invited to the Story Hour in the library, a weekly free feature of the Herron summer program. Youngsters listen to stories and songs and visit the Indianapolis Public Library Bookmobile which visits the courtyard during each Story Hour session.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Presentation -- The Control Data Corporation will make a presentation of its proposed time-sharing computer system at 1 p.m. Wednesday on the mezzanine of the Union Building. Interested users are invited to attend.

*

Seminar -- "Fetal and Embryonic Antigens in Cancer" will be discussed Friday by Dr. Norman G. Anderson, director of the Molecular Anatomy Program at the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) National Laboratory. Time is 2 p.m. Place is Lilly Center Auditorium, 893 South Delaware Street.

*

Give -- The Partner Membership Drive of the Central YMCA Urban Outreach for 1972 has passed the halfway point in obtaining more than 1,000 $25 partner members. Central no longer maintains its downtown facility but is taking its programs to facilities in local neighborhoods where needs arise. IUPUI-ites who would like to be "partners" should make checks payable to Central YMCA and send them to Virgil Hunt, assistant registrar, Fesler Hall, Room 200. Hunt is secretary of the YMCA board of directors.

*

Pick-Ups -- Post Office collection times are being changed all over the city. Be sure to check the new times on the collection boxes you normally use. New stickers on the boxes will tell you the location of the next closest box with a later collection. New times at the Campus Post Office and the box in front of the Allied Health Building are 1 p.m. and 4:05 p.m. The closest later collection is at LaRue Carter Hospital.

*

Have They Got Your Number? -- All additions, changes and deletions for the 1972 Campus Telephone Directory should be sent in writing to the Telephone Services Office no later than August 1. They live in University Hospital, Room A22.

*

Journal Needed -- John Johnson, junior medical student, wants a copy of the July, 1972, issue of the American Journal of Surgery. If you can help, call the School of Medicine.

*

Stack Time -- Summer hours for the School of Medicine Library are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays and 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

DIALING CLARIFICATION, OR, HOW DID I GET NOME, ALASKA?

To clear up some confusion that seems to have developed from last week's Green Sheet report on Centrex numbers at the 38th Street Campus, the following is offered:

Three departments at 38th Street do now have Centrex numbers; that is, they have a 264 prefix. They are Admissions, Ext. 4644; Continuing Education, Ext. 4501, and Registration, Ext. 4332. If you're calling these numbers from the Medical Center, all you need to dial are the four digits, without the 264. If you're at 38th Street and you are on the 264 exchange and calling another number on the 264 exchange, just dial the last four digits. You don't need to go through SUVON.

If you're at 38th Street and not on a Centrex phone, to reach the Medical Center, you must dial 8 (SUVON), then the last four digits.

Finally, if you're at the Medical Center and calling a non-Centrex number at 38th Street, dial 612 (SUVON) plus the three-digit extension.

It is recommended, however, that when you're calling the Medical Center from 38th Street or vice versa, you try the city lines first. (Dial 9 and the regular city number.) There are only nine SUVON circuits between the two campuses and they're often jammed, resulting in that familiar busy signal. So use the city lines first, then SUVON as a last resort.

All clear?

STONER NAMED I.U. TRUSTEE

The Indiana General Education Commission has elected Richard B. Stoner of Columbus to a term on the Indiana University board of trustees. Stoner, a Democratic national committeeman from Indiana, is a vice-president of Cummins Engine Company of Columbus. He will serve the two years remaining in the term of the late John D. Widaman II of Warsaw, who was killed in a plane crash in Asia.

The commission also re-elected as I.U. trustees Carl M. Gray of Petersburg and Robert E. Gates of Columbia City. Both have been trustees since 1967 and both will serve until June 30, 1975.
