

iupui

volume three, number thirty

july 22, 1973

MRS. FLORENCE McMASTER DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Florence R. McMaster, librarian and professor of law at the Indianapolis Law School, died Monday at Malibu, California. Graveside services were held Wednesday in Hillside Memorial Park at Los Angeles, California.

Contributions may be made to the Indiana University Foundation Florence R. McMaster Memorial Fund for the library at the Indianapolis Law School.

Mrs. McMaster received her bachelor of philosophy from the University of Toledo, bachelor of library science from the University of Illinois and bachelor of laws from Indiana University at Indianapolis. She was a member of the American Association of Law Libraries, the American Bar Association and Altrusa.

During the 27 years of her association with Indiana University, Mrs. McMaster participated in the growth of both the Law School and its library and was the driving force in the organization of the new law library and its service to successive classes of law students and practitioners within the state.

The author of many articles on legal research, she was awarded the American Jurisprudence Prize in Comparative Law in 1961. She is listed in Who's Who of American Women and was an advisory member to the Marquis Biographical Society. Shortly before her death, she received a plaque from the Indiana Law Review for outstanding service.

Mrs. McMaster transformed the original "rag-tag" collection of law books into a useful library of more than 125,000 volumes which has made the Indianapolis Law School library an asset to the state.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Roberta Steinberg of Malibu.

* * *

MRS. LEAMNSON NAMED ACTING DIRECTOR OF CONTINUING EDUCATION

Mrs. Marjorie P. Leamnsion, has been appointed acting director of Continuing Education Services at IUPUI. She replaces Prof. Frank E. Burley who stepped down under I.U. policy which requires administrators to relinquish their posts at age 65. Prof. Burley will continue at IUPUI as a part-time associate professor of electrical engineering technology and co-ordinator of continuing education.

Dr. Jack M. Ryder, IUPUI vice-chancellor and dean for administrative affairs, said Mrs. Leamnsion's appointment also brings a change of name for the department. Continuing Education Services indicates a broader mission for the non-credit and off-campus instructional arm of IUPUI.

(continued)

Mrs. Leamnson, former editor and co-owner with her husband, George, of the Zionsville Times, has been a co-ordinator of continuing education at IUPUI since February, 1970. She has planned and supervised many programs for women in public affairs and skill development courses.

She is a graduate of Zionsville High School and in 1947 earned a bachelor of science degree in journalism from Butler University. She is pursuing studies for a master's degree at Ball State University. A former editor for Shell Oil Company, she also has held positions at Northwestern University and the Indianapolis Times.

Mrs. Leamnson has won first-place awards from the National Woman's Press Club, the Indiana Woman's Press Club, the Hoosier State Press Association and Southern Illinois University for her news stories and columns. (The Leamnsons sold the Zionsville paper in 1968.)

Continuing education programs at IUPUI involve more than 12,000 adults in updating their professional, vocational and avocational skills.

* * *

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

The Tooth Person Wants You! -- The Department of Oral Health Research needs adult volunteers (over 18 years old) in the Indianapolis area to participate in the clinical testing of toothpastes and mouthwashes which affect tartar formation, stain accumulation or gum disease. Volunteers must be available for intermittent examinations until next May. Those acceptable for the program will get free dental cleanings, toothbrushes and toothpaste. For more information, call 264-8822.

A Day at Nashville -- Members of the IUPUI Women's Club and their guests will spend Saturday in Nashville -- shopping, dining at the Ramada Inn and seeing "Play It Again, Sam" at the Brown County Playhouse. Call Gerry Lunsford (Ext. 8506) or Evelyn Ziegler (Ext. 324) for more information.

"Mobility" Once Removed -- Six articles derived from papers presented at the seminar, "Effects of Mobility on the Wife," last year are in the May, 1973, issue of the Journal on Marriage and the Family. The unique seminar was sponsored by Allied Van Lines and the IUPUI Sociology Department and attracted a nationwide audience of scholars and business people.

Appointment -- Howard L. Wisner has been appointed acting assistant dean of the School of Engineering and Technology. He holds academic appointment as professor of industrial supervision. Wisner, who joined the Purdue-Indianapolis faculty in 1954, holds two Indiana University degrees, in physics and education.

Housing Needed -- Visiting research scientist will need to rent two-bedroom apartment or house from September 1 to October 20. If interested, call Ext. 4386.

* * *

TEACHERS TO LEARN HOW TO TEACH LAW

Elementary and secondary public school teachers in Indianapolis, Marion County and school systems in several surrounding counties will attend an Institute on the Administration of Justice at the Indianapolis Law School of IUPUI.

About 100 teachers will attend each of two two-week sessions to learn how issues of basic constitutional law relate to everyday life. Methods of teaching legal rights and responsibilities will be covered.

The institute classes will begin on Monday (July 23) and August 6. Each will be held five days each week.

Teachers who have enrolled are from all levels of elementary school, and from social studies, political science, sociology and several other areas of secondary school.

Law School faculty members and practicing attorneys will serve as lecturers for the institute. Discussion groups will be led by law students. The institute is supported by the Indianapolis Bar Association Foundation and the Indiana Criminal Justice Planning Agency, Region Five.

* * *

POSITIONS OPEN

Applications are being accepted for IUPUI Continuing Education Co-ordinator, Can be an administrative or faculty appointment. Public relations experience, organizational ability, communications skills helpful. Experience in planning and development of conferences and continuing education programs preferred. Send applications to the Continuing Education Office, 1201 East 38th Street.

A Social Studies Co-ordinator is needed at the Social Studies Development Center in Bloomington. Person should have five or more years of teaching in Indiana schools and have earned at least a master's degree. Co-ordinator would be involved in in-service and retraining programs, program of school visits, visiting scholar program, state-wide communication and co-ordinator of the master of arts in teaching social studies program. For more information, contact Thomas E. Brown, 306 Memorial West, Bloomington, (812) 337-3584.

* * *

TRAVELLERS

Dr. Hanus J. Grosz, professor of psychiatry at the Institute of Psychiatric Research, spent a week last month at the Fourth International Institute on the Prevention and Treatment of Drug Dependence in Belgrade, Yugoslavia. He chaired a seminar on "Propranolol in the Treatment of Alcohol and Heroin Addiction."

Dr. Erwin Boschmann, associate professor of chemistry, was in Moscow, USSR, last month to present a paper at the 15th International Conference on Co-ordination Chemistry.

(continued)

Cagliari, Italy, was the recent destination for Dr. M. H. Aprison, professor of biochemistry and chief of the Section of Neurobiology in the Institute of Psychiatric Research. The occasion was an international symposium on "5-Hydroxytryptamine and Other Indolealkylamines in Brain." Besides presenting a paper, Dr. Aprison chaired a session on "Identification and Biological Significance of Indolealkylamines in Brain."

Mexico City was the site of the recent 15th Quadrennial Congress of the International Council of Nurses attended by Mrs. Beatrice F. Robinson, associate professor of nursing; Dr. Rita F. Stein, director of nursing research and professor of nursing, and Dr. Mildred P. Adams, professor of nursing. The register showed 5,464 nurses from 84 countries at the conference and six new nations were admitted: Botswana, Senegal, Tanzania, Zaire, the Bahamas and Nicaragua.

Dr. Robert K. Stoelting, assistant professor of anesthesiology and pharmacology, presented lectures at the Seattle (Washington) Conference on Continuing Education in Anesthesia last month. His subject was "Autonomic Reflexes during Anesthesia and Circulatory Effects of Neuromuscular Blockers."

Dr. Vernon E. Leininger, assistant professor of radiology, presented a paper at the recent American Association of Physicists in Medicine meeting in Lexington. The paper was called "The Design, Operation and Use of the 35 MEV Linear Accelerator."

Dr. Paul J. Nagy, chairman of the Department of Philosophy, is in Williamstown, Massachusetts, for the Institute for Cross-Disciplinary Teaching and Research being held at Williams College. The institute is sponsored by the Society for Religion in Higher Education.

Dr. Burdellis L. Carter, professor and assistant dean in the School of Nursing, recently presented three papers on curriculum framework at the Loma Linda University School of Nursing. She also visited nursing schools at the University of California at San Francisco, Texas Women's University and the University of Texas. During a recent trip to Denmark, she also visited the School of Nursing and Nursing Service at the University of Copenhagen.

* * *

JEANNETTE MATTHEW LIBRARY
420 BLAKE ST