

green sheet

INDIANA UNIVERSITY-PURDUE UNIVERSITY AT INDIANAPOLIS

iupu

8P3 ✓
volume seven, number thirteen

april 3, 1977

SRI LANKA AMBASSADOR TO HEADLINE INTERNATIONAL DINNER

The "Third World" will take first priority next week at the Fourth Annual International Dinner at IUPUI. Neville Kanakarathne, ambassador to the United States from Sri Lanka (formerly Ceylon), will discuss "A View from the Third World" at the dinner Monday, April 11, at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria at the Union Building.

The problems and promises of the Third World, which generally encompasses the developing nations of Asia, the Middle East, Africa and Latin America, will be the focus of the program.

Ambassador Kanakarathne, a participant in Third World and international politics for more than 25 years, will offer his perspective on current political and economic issues. His background offers a wealth of experience in representing both his country and the United Nations. He served as a member of the Ceylon delegations to the U.N. from 1957 to 1961 and joined the U.N. secretariat on the personal invitation of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. In the 1960s he served as a legal and political adviser on a number of U.N. missions in the Congo, the Middle East, Malaysia and Cyprus.

Ambassador Kanakarathne's diplomatic activities also have extended to this hemisphere as leader of the Ceylon delegations to international meetings at Lima, Peru, and Georgetown, Guyana. Last August he was a member of the Sri Lanka delegation to the Fifth Conference of the Heads of State of the Governments of Non-Aligned Nations in Colombo. Most recently he was the chairman of the Sri Lanka delegation to the 31st session of the U.N. General Assembly.

The 53-year-old diplomat received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Ceylon, then moved on to Cambridge University in England for his bachelor of laws and master of arts degree. He is a "graduate" of former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's international seminar at Harvard University.

The dinner, sponsored by the Vice-President's Committee on International Programs and the IUPUI Lectures and Convocations Committee, has stimulated an active exchange of concerns and projects among students and scholars in the Indianapolis area. Some 37 foreign countries are represented among the faculty and student populations at IUPUI, and 26 of those countries are from the Third World arena.

Prepared by the Union Building Catering Service, the menu will offer a selection of international recipes from Third World countries -- Malagasy Republic, Vietnam, Mexico, Libya, Philippines, Honduras, Brazil.

Bill Schwarz, an IUB student, will perform with a variety of Indian musical instruments -- sitar, sarod, and tabla. Schwarz, who has studied with Ravi Shankar in Nepal, has given concerts in Europe and India, as well as the United States.

Tickets -- $3 for students and $5 for the general public -- are available at the Union lobby desk and at the International Programs Office, Room 105M in the Union. They also are available at the Blake Street Library and from these representatives: Gladys Phillips, allied health; Sabine Jessner and Tom Fedor, Cavanaugh; Fred Tucker, Sagamore; Victor Childers, business; Dr. Assad Mora, dentistry; Leslie Wood, education, speech and theater; Long Nguyen, engineering and technology; Ken Swisher, law; Dr. Pao-lo Yu, medicine; Carol King and Rebecca Markel, nursing; Hitwant Sidhu, physical education; Helen Zapp, Student Activity Board, and Don Wakefield, 38th Street Campus.

* * *

GRAB A PADDLE, OR, EVERYBODY INTO THE CREEK!

"Paddlin' Madeline Home" during the Circle City Circuit canoe race may be risky, but the big splash-off at Eagle Creek Park's Walnut Point on Saturday, April 16, at 9 a.m. promises water fun for competitors and spectators.

The canoe race is the highlight of the Circuit, a week-long campus festival sponsored by the IUPUI Student Association.

The Eagle Creek event will feature a VIP race with "captains" Chet Coppock, sports director at WISH; Bill Bereman of the Indiana Loves; Buster Bodine from WNAP; Craig Roberts from WRTV; Dr. Gerald C. Preusz, IUPUI dean of student services; Dr. Golam Mannan, associate dean for student services; and Jo Ellen Myers Sharp, editor of the Sagamore. Lou Sherman from WXLW will announce race heats, sinking canoes and winners.

Competitors include IUPUI students, faculty, and staff members, plus community participants. While 23 "paddlers" already are entered, the Student Association hopes that at least 50 competitors will splash across the finish line.

Applications are available at the IUPUI Student Association Office in Cavanaugh Hall. Sponsorship fees are $50, with all proceeds going to the IUPUI School of Physical Education. Sponsors are not required, but sponsoring organizations will have their name on T-shirts and in the canoe race program. (Rain date for the race will be April 23 at 11 a.m.) For more information, call Ext. 3907.

* * *

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE & SOMETIMES WHY

Think Fall -- Advanced registration for next fall's classes starts tomorrow (April 4) in Cavanaugh Hall. This includes all credit classes, including the much-expanded Weekend College program. The registration, which continues through April 20, is open in Room 301 weekdays: From 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays. Course schedules are available in that office.

Exhibits -- Pharmacy displays this week in University Hospital will be Astra Pharmaceuticals on Monday and W.B. Saunders Co. on Wednesday. Schering Corp. will have a display in Riley Hospital on Wednesday. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Seminar -- "Incidence and Distribution of Some Heritable Markers in the Kuwaiti Population," Medical Genetics Seminar by Khaled Al-nassar, graduate student; Riley Research, Room 139, 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Grand Rounds -- Dr. John Hollifield, assistant professor of medicine at Vanderbilt University, will discuss "The Use of Propranolols in the Treatment of Hypertension" during grand rounds at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday in Myers Auditorium of Wishard Memorial Hospital.

WAT's Going On -- "Anesthetic Considerations of Importance to the Surgeon" is this week's program in the Grand Rounds in Surgery series produced by WAT-21 Medical Television. Dr. Robert Stoelting, professor of pharmacology and anesthesiology, will lead the discussion, which will be shown Wednesday at noon in regular WAT-21 viewing areas.

Finale -- The last session in the medical-legal series of the School of Medicine Dean's Hour will feature a discussion on "Special Problems Involving Criminal Liabilities." Geoffrey Segar will direct the session Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Emerson Hall auditorium.

Another Opening -- The best works of the 42 graduating seniors at the Herron School of Art will go on display Friday (April 8) in the school's gallery. The public is invited to the opening from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Friday. The exhibition will continue through April 29. Gallery hours are 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays.

Coming Up -- Dr. Sprague H. Gardiner will talk about "Women" to the IUPUI Women's Club dinner meeting next Monday (April 11) at the Atkinson Hotel. The professor of obstetrics and gynecology will speak after the 6:30 p.m. roast beef dinner. (A 5:30 p.m. social hour also is scheduled.) Guests are invited and tickets are $6 per person. Reservations and checks should be sent to Alice Taylor, Cavanaugh 103, by Thursday (April 7).

Next Monday -- "Effects of Glutamate and Structurally Related Compounds on Cyclic Nucleotide Systems in the Brain," Pharmacology/Toxicology Seminar by Dr. Michael J. Schmidt from the Lilly Research Laboratories; Medical Science Building, Room 321, April 11 at noon.

* * *

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Early Bird Green Sheet -- Because of the Good Friday holiday, the good old Green Sheet will be written/assembled/slapped together/put to bed early this week. Ergo, please have all pertinent and/or printable information to the News Bureau by 5 p.m. Tuesday (April 5). That's Room 139 of the Administration Building.

New Hours & Numbers -- The Credit Union is now open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Numbers to call are Ext. 2424 for loan information, Ext. 3946 for savings information, and Ext. 4277 for the collection department.

Paperwork -- So that the Dean of the Faculties Office (Administration Building, Room 108) has time to prepare academic items for the trustees' May 6 meeting, complete paperwork for all academic appointments requiring trustee approval must be filed in that office by Friday, April 15.

Are You Normal? -- Normal volunteers are needed for a study involving corticosteroids. Applicants should be male, 21-40 years old and free of medical disease. Accepted volunteers will get 30 days' free room and board, plus $200. For more information, contact Dr. James W. Edmondson, 421 Emerson Hall, Ext. 3525.

JEANNETTE MATTHEW
LIBRARIAN, SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS
420 BLAKE STREET

*A News Bureau Publication
Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis
1100 West Michigan Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

SPECIAL BENEFIT BASKETBALL GAME FOR SPECIAL CHILDREN

Patients at the Medical Center's Cerebral Palsy Clinic are excited about this month's basketball game between the Indianapolis Olympians Wheelchair Team and a local celebrity team for a good reason: Proceeds will furnish a summer therapy facility for clinic patients at the Medical Center and provide camperships to Camp Riley for children with cerebral palsy.

The game will be played at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 16, at the Northwest High School gymnasium.

The Cerebral Palsy Cottage on the Medical Center grounds has been remodeled recently by students in the Construction Technology Program at IUPUI. They gutted, remodeled and enlarged the cottage as a building project under the direction of David L. Richardson, associate professor of architectural technology. The 24-year-old cottage is used by the C.P. Clinic to give patients a non-hospital setting for their activities. During the summer they will use the cottage for occupational and physical therapy projects.

Active in planning the basketball benefit, George Callahan Jr., a member of the C.P. Parent Association and a director of United Cerebral Palsy of Central Indiana, has added to his VIP list.

Coach of the celebrity team is George Theofanis, Butler basketball coach. Other star players will include Mayor William Hudnut; Police Chief Eugene Gallagher; Ray Crowe, Indianapolis Parks Department; Roy Shea, Indianapolis Zoo; Roger Brown, former Pacer; Jerry Harkness, WTHR; Craig Roberts, WRTV; Chet Coppock, WISH; Don Fischer, WIRE; State Senators John Mutz and Charles Bosma; Lyle Mannweiler, Joe Young, and Rodger Birchfield, Indianapolis News; Deputy Chief Jim Wells, Marion County Sheriff's Department, and O. Franklin Lowie, FBI. Sandy Allen of Shelbyville, the "world's tallest woman," also will make a guest appearance.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults, $1 for students between the ages of 6 and 18 and free for children under 6. Callahan also points out that persons can make donations that will be used to provide tickets for children and adults from the Cerebral Palsy Clinic and others who are physically handicapped. Tickets are available through the C.P. Parent Association, all Indianapolis fire stations and all Merchants Bank locations.

* * *

SYMPOSIUM SCHEDULED

"The Handicapped Child: Emerging Legal Issues" will be the topic for an all-day symposium next week sponsored by the Riley Child Development Center.

Scheduled for April 15 in Myers Auditorium at Wishard Memorial Hospital, the program will feature IUB law professors and an attorney from the Indiana State Department of Mental Health.

Advance registration will be handled by Mrs. Vicki Slunaker, Riley Hospital, Room A502 (Ext. 4464). Registration also will be accepted at the door.

* * *