The Public Welfare Foundation was established in 1947 by Charles Edward Marsh, a newspaper publisher, and his wife Claudia. From our first grant in 1948 to the present, the Foundation’s concept of human welfare has been broad and flexible to address changing needs. Inherent in all of our work, however, is a continued commitment to the Marshs’ belief that the people who are most affected by a problem should be involved in creating and implementing solutions to address it.
Message from the Chair and Executive Director

“Different World Is Possible” is a rallying cry heard with increasing frequency from people who take seriously the outbreak of democracy that is now sweeping the globe and who want to make sure that even those who have been marginalized in the past have a voice in decisions that affect their lives. While the notion behind this slogan is as old as the human experience, its application today has achieved a new importance with an increased focus on civic engagement both in the United States and around the world. This different world will be built through many and varied causes and strategies, but at its core is a commitment to making real the hopes and aspirations of people in all corners of our planet.

Supporting those who work to build a different world has been central to the Public Welfare Foundation since its creation in 1947. It is echoed in the mandate from our founders, Charles and Claudia Marsh, who said that the Foundation’s “most important thread is our belief in ordinary people – people who, if they just have the resources and opportunities to address problems in their own communities that affect their own lives, are going to come up with some pretty creative and ultimately effective answers.”

The work we have supported over the past year is presented in the pages of this report. That work is as diverse as the communities in which it is done; the causes engaged and the strategies employed are as varied as human aspirations and the ways to realize them. But the common element in all of these efforts is our continued belief in Charles Marsh’s “most important thread.”

In addition to our ongoing programs, we initiated two new efforts during 2004 that also reflect our mandate. The Civic Participation Fund provided $475,000 in grants to 25 local, state, and regional organizations we are already supporting to mobilize people with whom they work to participate in the democratic process by educating them about their voting rights and the public policy issues that affect their lives. This Fund grew out of a board discussion about the important role organizations we support have played in encouraging greater civic participation. It is different from many existing civic participation funding efforts because it focuses on grassroots groups often not targeted; promotes voter education about issues of importance to them; and encourages the development of ongoing civic engagement strategies by organizations as a key component of their work. A second round of Civic Participation Fund grants will be made in 2005.

A new Initiative for Washington, D.C., was also developed in 2004 and launched at the start of 2005. The Foundation has had a long tradition of supporting organizations in the District of Columbia, understanding that Washington is a microcosm of social and economic problems that affect low-income people across the nation and realizing the importance of responding to needs in our own community. Unlike our Fund for Washington’s Children and Youth, which committed $2.5 million from 1997 - 2002 to youth service and advocacy organizations in the District’s poorest neighborhoods, the new Initiative takes a more strategic approach, focusing on specific issues that are priority concerns for the District and for us. This Initiative has already engaged Foundation program staff in more active involvement with local funders’ collaborative efforts to address local problems; in convening meetings of organizations we support so that experiences can be shared and new strategies developed; in supporting the replication in Washington of program models that have been successful elsewhere; and convening community meetings in our headquarters’ auditorium on issues of importance to the District. Of special interest is our continuing commitment to affordable housing through our partnership with Manna CDC to build ten homes on the Temperance Row property we own behind our headquarters in the True Reformer Building.

Our grantmaking in 2004 continued our tradition of supporting various strategies to address social and economic problems, deferring to the experience and preference of communities and their organizations to decide what works best. We continue to provide support to effective direct service programs that fill unmet needs and offer models for others to replicate. Other groups we support focus their work on changing public policy to address problems through advocacy campaigns. Some groups combine the two approaches and use their experience in providing services around human needs to inform policy advocacy efforts to bring greater resources to bear on the problems they address. Whatever the strategy they employ, the work of all the organizations we support involves civic participation and represents democracy in action.

In the coming years, the challenges we face will likely become even more difficult. The gap between rich and poor has not narrowed and the number of people left outside of the economy is growing. The retrenchment of government responsibility for meeting basic human needs also continues, leaving public education, health care and affordable housing at risk. Concern for environmental quality continues to be a priority for most Americans, but is often pitted as a choice against economic growth.

On all of these and other issues, we will continue to put our faith in Charles and Claudia Marsh’s “most important thread.” A different world is, indeed, possible and it will be created through the active involvement of groups like the ones we are privileged to support.

An Update on Last Year’s Message

Last year, our message featured the efforts of organizations we support to address two health problems in Africa, including the practice of female genital mutilation and cutting.

In February 2005, Larry and our colleague, Adisa Douglas, visited in The Gambia with one of the groups we wrote about, which is known as BAFROW (The Foundation for Research on Women’s Health, Productivity and the Environment). At a village ceremony, surrounded by 75 girls whose parents have pledged not to mutilate them and by former cutters who have put down their knives, Adisa and Larry were presented with a poem, which was written by the community. It reads in part:

“You gave us confidence to talk about taboos,
About cultural practices that needed to be changed,
You gave us the means to shield our children from negative social vices
And create avenues of better life options for them.
You helped us change the unchanged, and say the unsaid.”

A different world is possible!

Funding Priorities for 2005

General Funding Policy

The Public Welfare Foundation supports organizations that address human needs in disadvantaged communities, with strong emphasis on organizations that include service, advocacy and empowerment in their approach: service that remedies specific problems; advocacy that addresses those problems in a systemic way through changes in public policy; and strategies to empower people in need to play leading roles in achieving those policy changes and in remedying specific problems.

We also look for organizations that link their community and local work to other efforts to effect broader public policy change.

The Foundation provides both general support and project-specific grants. Although most grants cover a period of one year, the Foundation accepts requests for funding renewals and also makes multi-year grants. Grants for one-time purposes are also considered.

The Foundation makes a conscious effort to remain flexible so that it can respond to requests that address new, unusual, and immediate problems as they arise.

The Foundation does not accept requests to fund scholarships, graduate work, individuals, government projects, academic research or foreign study. Only when there is a close connection with our current work do we fund conferences, seminars or workshops, publications, video or media production projects, endowments, capital grants and equipment requests.

The Directors subscribe to and reaffirm the concept of a working Board, in which every member gives the necessary time and personal interest to maintain the high standards of the Foundation.

It is Foundation policy that members of the board of directors make known any special interest or connection between themselves and a proposal under consideration. The director may then participate in the discussion, but may not vote, on the proposal. There is no prejudice against such proposals nor are they disqualified for this reason.

NEW APPLICATIONS

New applications — including both requests for first-time support and projects that have not received funding from the Foundation in the recent past — should be submitted in the form of a three-part letter of inquiry in English (see below). If we determine that a letter of inquiry fits our funding priorities, and if resources are available, we will request a full proposal.

The letter of inquiry must include:

1. Cover Sheet
   (one page) with the following information:
   - Name and address of the organization.
   - Name of executive director and contact person(s), telephone and fax numbers, and web addresses.
   - Email address of contact person(s).
   - One paragraph summary of the organization’s mission.
   - One paragraph summary of the purpose of the request.
   - One sentence describing how the request fits the Foundation’s funding priorities.
   - The organization’s fiscal year.
   - Dollar total of project budget (if not general support).
   - Dollar amount being requested.
   - Dollar total committed from other funding sources.
   - Beginning and ending dates for which grant funds are requested.
   - Tax exempt status.

2. Narrative
   (maximum of three pages) with the following:
   - The purpose of the request.
   - The problem or need being addressed.
   - The population or community involved in the organization, and how it is involved in the design and implementation of your work.
   - How you will address the problem or need you have identified.
   - How your work promotes long-term change.

3. Financial Information
   - For project support requests, include a project budget detailing anticipated income and expenses and an organizational budget detailing anticipated income and expenses.
   - For general support requests, include an organizational budget detailing anticipated income and expenses.

You may submit your inquiry online at www.publicwelfare.org or send it to:

Review Committee
Public Welfare Foundation
1200 U Street, NW
Washington, DC 20009

To determine if your request fits the Foundation’s guidelines, visit our website at www.publicwelfare.org. The website provides current information about funding priorities, policies, and procedures. It also includes a list of past grants and an online letter of inquiry form.
RENEWAL APPLICATIONS

If your organization is currently supported by the Foundation and you intend to apply for renewed funding, you must submit the following four parts in English:

1. Final Report Cover Sheet
   - Use the form the Foundation sent with our report reminder letter toward the end of your grant period or download a copy from our website at http://www.publicwelfare.org/resources/resources.asp. (Note that the executive director or other authorized signatory must sign the cover sheet indicating approval of the report. The signed cover sheet must be attached to the final report. If you email your report you must also send a hard copy of the signed report by regular mail or fax.)

2. Final report on the previous grant
   (Note that the grant period covered by the final report should be the same as the grant period stipulated in the grant notification letter unless you received an extension.)

   In the final report, please provide detailed answers to the following four questions:
   - What major activities did the project or organization implement during the grant year?
   - How did the affected community or population get involved and provide input into the implementation of these activities?
   - What were the outcomes?
   - What were one or two major challenges the project or organization faced in implementing its work during the grant period and how were these challenges addressed?

   Further information about these questions is available on our website.

As an alternative, you may provide a final report you have prepared for other purposes, provided that it includes answers to the four questions listed above. If a question has not been answered, you can answer it in an attached addendum.

3. Income and Expense or Financial Statement for Previous Grant Period
   - For project support grants, include the income and expenses for the entire project and for the organization.
   - For general support grants, include the income and expenses for the organization.

4. Request for Renewed Funding
   (This is not applicable if you received a last-time or one-time grant.)

   Renewal requests must include the following:
   - A cover sheet that follows the same format as the cover sheet described in the above section on new applications.
   - A narrative plan in which you describe what you expect to be the outcomes of the work to be performed in the next grant period. Also describe the activities, strategies, and processes that you expect to employ to achieve these outcomes. Alternatively, you may submit a full proposal provided it includes a clear description of the expected outcomes of the proposed work. The full proposal may also follow the format of the common grant application of the National Network of Grantmakers available from our website at http://www.publicwelfare.org/first_time/common_grant_app.asp.
Financial information
- For project support requests, submit both a project budget and an organizational budget for the proposed grant period. Both budgets should detail anticipated income and expenses.
- For general support requests, submit only the organizational budget.
- Please submit a financial statement or an audit of your most recently completed fiscal year. An audit is preferred but not required.

- List of the current board of directors.
- A copy of your most recent tax status determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service.

In preparing your final report and request for renewed funding, we suggest you use the lists of required information as a last checklist before submission.

TIMELINE

Requests for new funding may be submitted at any time during the year. The review committee considers letters of inquiry on a regular basis. Requests for renewed funding can be submitted as soon as the grant period of the prior grant ends. Please note, however, that a decision can only be reached after the final report on the prior grant has been received and reviewed. Questions about the timing of submitting renewals should be directed to your program officer approximately three months before the end of the current grant period.

Our policy is to respond to letters of inquiry within 30 working days of receipt, either by requesting a full proposal or informing you of our decision to decline your request. Consequently, we ask that you allow a full 30 working days before following up on your letter. Once the Foundation has received a full proposal or an application for renewed funding, it usually takes an additional three to four months before a final decision is reached.

MEETINGS AND SITE VISITS

Although the Foundation would like to accommodate all requests to meet, we are only able to meet with those whose letters of inquiry have been determined by the Review Committee to closely fit the Foundation's priorities.

Whenever possible, site visits are made to organizations with requests pending at the Foundation. The staff travels throughout the year and makes an effort to arrange for site visits to be scheduled at mutually convenient times and with adequate notice.

DECISION-MAKING PROCESS

The Foundation staff is responsible for initial evaluation of funding requests. Both the board of directors and the executive director approve grants throughout the year. The board of directors or a committee of the board meets to consider funding requests eight times during the year.

The Foundation provides notification of its decisions at each stage of the application process. For each request, we make an effort to consider all possible connections within our categories of funding. Requests are rarely turned down because they are inadequately presented; rather, it is usually because the request falls outside of specific funding priorities in our program areas. Please also keep in mind that we receive more worthy proposals than we have resources available to fund them.

Public Welfare Foundation is committed to maintaining an open forum for communicating the outcome of its decisions to grant seekers and recipients. Those who require additional information on any matter pertaining to present funding or the application process are encouraged to contact us.
Independent Auditor’s Report

Board of Directors
Public Welfare Foundation, Inc.
Washington, D.C.

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. as of October 31, 2004 and 2003, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Foundation’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. as of October 31, 2004 and 2003 and the changes in net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

These financial statements should be read only in connection with the accompanying summary of significant accounting policies and notes to financial statements.
Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. (the “Foundation”) was established in 1947, incorporated in Texas and reincorporated in Delaware in 1951, for the purpose of supporting benevolent, charitable, educational or missionary organizations that provide direct services meeting the basic human needs of seriously disadvantaged people and/or working for lasting improvements addressing these needs. Revenues earned are generated by the Foundation’s investments. The Foundation uses that investment income (including gains) to fund grants to those organizations and other related expenses.

USE OF ESTIMATES IN PREPARING FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

The financial statements of the Foundation have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting, which includes recognition of revenue as earned and expenses as incurred.

AMOUNTS DUE FROM/TO STOCKBROKERS

The amounts due from (to) stockbrokers for securities with settlements pending result from sales (purchases) of securities made prior to the end of the fiscal year but settled after the fiscal year-end.

INVESTMENTS

Short-term investments held for reinvestment are included with investments. Investments are stated at fair value. Fair value of investments in marketable securities that are traded on a national securities exchange or listed on NASDAQ is based on current quoted market prices. Investments in limited partnership and other investment funds that invest in marketable securities are valued based on market values of the underlying securities.

In the absence of an active market for such investments, the fair values of investments in limited partnerships and other investment funds that invest in nonmarketable securities, real estate and oil and gas interests are based upon the cost of the investment, unless it has been determined that the asset has been impaired. A change in the estimated value may occur in the near term.

Because of the inherent uncertainty of valuation, estimated values may differ significantly from values that would have been used had a ready market for investments existed, and the differences could be material.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gains or losses are determined using the proceeds from sales on a first-in, first-out basis. Realized gains include distributions of realized gains from mutual funds. Unrealized gains or losses are determined using quoted market prices and fair values at the respective year-ends.

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation is provided by the straight-line method over 3 to 40 years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the term of the related lease or the estimated useful lives of the assets.

GRANTS PAYABLE

Grants are recorded when they are approved by the Board of Directors or the Executive Director of the Foundation, except for conditional grants, which are recorded when conditions are substantially met.

INCOME TAXES

The Foundation is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is a private foundation.

The Foundation is subject to an excise tax on net investment income, including realized gains. In addition, certain minimum distributions are required to be made in accordance with a specified formula.

The Foundation has commitments to make additional investments of approximately $42,236,688 in other investment funds as of October 31, 2004. This includes $12,500,000 for investments in investment funds for which no payments have been made as of October 31, 2004. The Foundation cannot withdraw from these partnerships prior to their termination, pursuant to the partnership agreements, and there are restrictions on the transferability of its interest in these partnerships. Some partnerships have exit dates pursuant to the partnership agreement.

Substantially all of the Foundation’s short-term investments and stocks are under the control of a bank custodian.

NOTE 3 – BONDS PAYABLE
The Foundation is obligated to pay $11,000,000 in connection with the March 30, 2000 Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. issue of variable interest rate District of Columbia Revenue Series 2000 Revenue Bonds, maturing on March 1, 2025. The interest rate on the borrowings at October 31, 2004 is 1.71%. The bonds are collateralized by a bank letter of credit expiring March 30, 2010, and the bondholders may request mandatory redemption whenever there is either a change in the interest periods or letter of credit, or a change in the status of the bonds from nontaxable to taxable during the term of the bonds.

In the event this request is made, an agent has been retained to remarket any such bonds. If the bonds are redeemed, and not remarshaled within 367 days, the Foundation must pay the bank the redemption amount plus interest. Assuming a 4.85% discount rate, the fair market value of the 25-year bonds is $6,939,951 as of October 31, 2004 (2003 was a 5.21% discount rate and the fair market value of the 25-year bonds was $6,598,620).

In addition, the bank has the right to annually, starting September 1, 2003, call for the following principal payments to reduce the outstanding bond principal:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year Ended October 31</th>
<th>Principal Payment</th>
</tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tbody>
</table>

Interest expense included in other administrative expenses was $196,297 and $148,033 in 2004 and 2003, respectively.

NOTE 9 – DISCLOSURES ABOUT FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS
The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate the value:

Cash and short-term investments
The carrying value approximates fair value because of the short maturity of those instruments.

Long-term investments
The fair values are estimated based on quoted market prices for those or similar investments. For other investments for which there are no quoted market prices, the fair value has been based on market values supplied by the investee unless it has been determined the asset has been impaired.

Grants payable
The fair value of grants payable is based on present value calculations using rates established for United States Treasury Bills.

Bonds payable
The fair value of the bonds is estimated based on current rates offered on long-term Treasury Bills. The discount rate utilized was 4.85% (5.21% for 2003).

The estimated value of the Foundation’s financial instruments is as follows:

<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Carrying Amount</th>
