39 A GUIDE TO GRANT REQUESTS

46 BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND STAFF

47 INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT
As was the case at so many foundations, the year 2002 brought a significant decline in the Public Welfare Foundation’s investment portfolio. While we had maintained our spending for several years, despite the reduction in our assets, we made the difficult decision last fall to reduce our operating costs and our grant level in 2003. We were able, however, to make these cuts without eliminating any of our eight program areas. Also, 71% of our grants in 2002 were for general support, which we believe is the most effective way to build organizational capacity.

The reduction in our grant level comes at a time of unprecedented need for our resources. Many organizations we have supported are struggling to survive in what is among the most difficult fundraising environments we have ever witnessed. While we remain committed to continuing our core program areas and to supporting most of the organizations we currently fund, we will need to make even tougher choices among the thousands of requests for support we receive annually.

We will need to re-emphasize the importance of our “service, advocacy and empowerment” strategy to make sure organizations we support are both responding to immediate urgent needs in their communities and are actively involved in efforts with other groups to promote policy changes and the commitment of public resources to address those needs on the largest scale possible.

As we re-assert our program strategies and commitments, we pause to give thanks to Rebecca Davis, who left the Foundation in November after 11 years of service as Senior Program Officer and 22 years in the Foundation’s employ. Becky’s commitment to the Foundation and her compassionate concern for the work of our grantees have left a permanent and highly valued mark on the Foundation’s programs. We appreciate her many contributions to the Foundation over the years and wish her well in the future.

In 2003, we will look for new opportunities to expand, and be more strategic with, our work on issues that are emerging as those “whose time have come.” With over 40 million Americans without health care insurance—a 80% of whom are working—the need to press for extending coverage to more Americans has new urgency and increasing public support. There is also a growing awareness about the need for tax reform that will be fair and equitable for all, especially for working families. We will also continue our support to efforts for compassionate welfare reform that provides families with the means and incentives to achieve and maintain sustainable, independent lives and to programs that enable the nearly 600,000 people released from prison each year to become productive members of their communities, and active citizens.

We continue to believe that the true test of the new global economy is not how many billionaires there are, but rather, how the lives of the two billion people in the world who live on $2 or less each day are improved. To that end, we will continue to support efforts around the world to end the poverty and injustice that marginalizes increasing numbers of people.

In all of our efforts we will be guided by the mandate of our founders, Charles and Claudia Marsh, who believed that the people who can most effectively develop and implement solutions to address a problem are those who are most affected by it. In 2003, as in the past, we will find hope for the future, despite these difficult times, in the work of concerned citizens and the private and public institutions they create around the globe. We enjoy the rare privilege of playing a small role in their efforts to achieve greater social and economic justice in the world. In doing so, we are confident that the creative solutions we help them to develop will ultimately overcome and overshadow the challenges they face.

THOMAS J. SCANLON
Chair

LARRY KRESSLEY
Executive Director
The Public Welfare Foundation was established by newspaper publisher Charles Edward Marsh. First incorporated in Texas, the Foundation was reincorporated in Delaware in 1951, and moved its office to Washington, D.C. in 1960. Mr. Marsh endowed the Foundation by donating three southern dailies: The Spartanburg Herald & Journal, The Tuscaloosa News, and The Gadsden Times. In 1985, the three newspapers were sold to The New York Times Company.

The Foundation’s concept of human welfare is broad. From the award of the first grant in 1948 to the present, the Foundation remains committed to supporting organizations that help people overcome barriers to full participation in society.

The Foundation pursues a strategy of “service, advocacy, and empowerment” for meeting basic human needs and promoting democratic participation for people around the globe. Inherent in this strategy is the belief that the people who are most affected by a problem should be involved in developing solutions to address it.

grant requests
funding policy

Our funding is focused in eight program areas:

- Community Economic Development and Participation
- Criminal Justice
- Disadvantaged Elderly
- Disadvantaged Youth
- Environment
- Health
- Human Rights and Global Security
- Population and Reproductive Health

We are most interested in organizations that address human needs, and take a particular interest in efforts that combine elements of service, advocacy and empowerment in their approach: service that solves specific problems; advocacy to address those needs in a more systemic way; and work to empower people in need so they play leading roles in achieving those remedies.

The Foundation is willing to take risks to help organizations with a sound idea, a reasonable plan for carrying it out, and a strong base in and commitment to their communities.

While most of our grants are made to organizations in the United States, the Foundation has always had no geographic restrictions and has increased its efforts to work directly with organizations in other countries.

The Foundation provides both general support and project-specific grants. Although most grants cover a period of one year, the Foundation accepts requests for funding renewals and also makes multi-year grants. Grants for one-time purposes are also considered.

The Foundation makes a conscious effort to remain flexible so it can respond to requests on a project-by-project basis, as well as to new, unusual, and immediate problems as they arise.

The Foundation does not accept requests to fund scholarships, graduate work, individuals, government projects, academic research or foreign study. Only when there is a close connection with our current work do we fund conferences, seminars or workshops, publications, video or media projects, endowments, capital grant or equipment requests.

The Directors subscribe to and reaffirm the concept of a working Board, in which every member gives the necessary time and personal interest to maintain the high standards of the Foundation.

It is Foundation policy that directors make known any special interest or connection between themselves and an applicant under consideration. The director may then participate in the discussion but may not vote on the application. There is no prejudice against such applicants nor are they disqualified for this reason.

Community Economic Development and Participation

grassroots or local organizations
Programs that are guided by and actively involve low-income people in addressing issues including homelessness, affordable housing and economic participation, and in providing direct service to low-income people in these and other issue areas. Particular interest in community organizing and leadership development and community and capacity building efforts.

low-wage workers
Programs that strengthen and support organizing efforts among low-wage workers to improve working conditions, seek improved wages, and address broader economic issues.

technical assistance to grassroots or local organizations
Programs that enhance the effectiveness of organizations by providing technical assistance, training or analysis on issues affecting low-income communities.

Advocacy and Policy Development

Advocacy and empowerment
Programs that promote local, state, national or international policies that reflect the needs of low-income communities.

Criminal Justice alternatives to incarceration
Programs that emphasize community-based sanctions, such as victim restitution, community service and community supervision, and include education and vocational training, and employment and counseling services. Also programs that provide help at arrest, detention, sentencing, probation, parole or release.

institutional programming
Programs to ensure that prisons and jails provide humane treatment and constructive services, including improvements aimed at returning offenders to the community as productive, law-abiding citizens. Also programs that offer services to offenders and their families during incarceration, transition, and upon their return to the community.

Legal representation of low-income persons
Programs that promote fair and effective legal representation for low-income defendants.

Violence Prevention

Programs that reduce violence, especially by addressing domestic and community violence, violence against women and crime victims, and the availability of guns and other weapons.

Advocacy and Policy Development

Programs that promote changes in public policy and practice to foster a more equitable criminal justice system including separate adult and juvenile justice systems.
Disadvantaged Elderly

direct services and general advocacy
Programs that focus on the basic needs of the indigent elderly, including health care, personal care, social services, the prevention of abuse, and nursing home reform.

community-based long term care
Programs that promote non-institutional community-based long-term care and comprehensive social services to promote independent living.

provider workforce
Programs that develop trained and appropriately compensated health service workers.

Disadvantaged Youth

employment, training and alternative education Programs that provide quality education, employment readiness services with job placement and other assistance for young people who have dropped out of school, experience chronic unemployment, and have minimal or no job skills, so that they may achieve independent living for themselves and their families.

eyearn intervention
Programs that promote positive youth development through services designed to prevent educational failure, delinquency, developmental delays, adverse health, or neglect. Services also include assistance to children whose parents are adolescents, affected by HIV/AIDS, involved in substance abuse, or incarcerated.

advocacy and policy development
Programs that promote systemic responsiveness to the needs of low-income young people within federal, state and local policies and practices.

sustainable development
Programs that promote environmentally sound stewardship of resources in the United States and other countries.

Health

health advocacy, access and reform
Local and state consumer organizations that interact with providers and government to improve community and state-based health care delivery systems, ensure that the medically underserved participate in systemic reform and seek to preserve nonprofit assets for use by communities to provide services to underserved people.

Environment

green resources or local organizations
Programs in local communities, in the United States and around the world, that work on environmental problems that pose a present or imminent health threat, especially in communities where there are the least resources to respond.

technical assistance to grassroots or local organizations
Programs that provide technical assistance to grassroots organizations in a wide range of disciplines including science, leadership development, public health, environmental law, media and organizational development.

hunger and nutrition
Community-based and national organizations that promote changes in food policy to eradicate hunger in the United States, especially among vulnerable populations including children, the elderly and the disabled.
occupational health and safety
Programs that work to improve hazardous working conditions, particularly as they affect workers with little power or means, and promote adequate health care and benefits for workers injured on the job.

mental health advocacy and services
Mental health consumer organizations that promote the empowerment, self-help and recovery of mental health care consumers.

Human Rights and Global Security
global security
Programs that provide information, public education, and advocacy on reducing weapon systems, eliminating biological and chemical weapons and land mines and restraining the spread of nuclear arms.

countering hate-motivated activity and discrimination
Efforts that address hate-motivated activity and discrimination directed at people because of their race, religion, gender, sexual orientation or national origin and that understand the connections between various forms of hate and discrimination and the necessity to address these problems comprehensively.

international human rights
Efforts to promote and protect economic, social, political and civil rights and to promote the development of democratic institutions around the world, with a focus on countries that are in political transition (including El Salvador, Haiti, Mexico, Northern Ireland and South Africa).

immigration and refugees
Community-based programs that provide services to and advocacy for immigrants and refugees to the United States.

Population and Reproductive Health
reproductive health for teens
Programs that provide comprehensive teen sexuality education focusing on preventing unplanned pregnancies and other reproductive health issues, including AIDS, and especially those programs that reach high-risk youth, work with parents and adults responsible for youth and involve teens in program design and implementation.

international reproductive health
Innovative community-based reproductive health programs that enhance the status of women with a focus on Africa.

reproductive rights
Programs that promote reproductive rights for all people.

Special Opportunities
Supports efforts that do not fit our funding criteria in other areas, but are identified by the Board of Directors as opportunities for the Foundation to play an important role in establishing, enhancing or replicating effective programs that primarily serve disadvantaged people. This program also includes the Trustee Initiated Grants and disaster relief.

Welfare Reform Fund
Supports community-based work, including organizing, networking, coalition building, advocacy efforts and monitoring that addresses the effects of welfare reform efforts.
how to apply

To determine if your request fits the Foundation's guidelines, visit our website at www.publicwelfare.org. The website provides information about funding priorities, policies and procedures. It also includes a list of past grants and an online letter of inquiry form.

New Applications

New applications—including both requests for first-time support and projects that have not received funding from the Foundation in the recent past—should be submitted in the form of a three-part letter of inquiry in English (see below). If we determine that a letter of inquiry fits our funding priorities, and if resources are available, we will request a full proposal.

The letter of inquiry must include:

1. cover sheet
   (one page) with the following information:
   ■ Name and address of the organization.
   ■ Name of executive director and contact person(s), telephone and fax numbers, e-mail and web addresses.
   ■ One paragraph summary of the organization’s mission.
   ■ One paragraph summary of the purpose of the request.
   ■ One sentence describing how the request fits the Foundation’s funding priorities.

   ■ The organization’s fiscal year.
   ■ Dollar total of project budget (if not general support).
   ■ Dollar amount being requested.
   ■ Dollar total committed from other funding sources.
   ■ Beginning and ending dates for which grant funds are requested.
   ■ Tax exempt status.

2. narrative
   (maximum of three pages) with the following:
   ■ The purpose of the request.
   ■ The problem or need being addressed.
   ■ The population or community involved in the program or organization, and how it is involved in the design and implementation of the work.
   ■ How you will address the problem or need you have identified.
   ■ How your work promotes long-term change.

3. financial information
   ■ For project support requests, include a project budget detailing anticipated income and expenses and an organizational budget detailing anticipated income and expenses.
   ■ For general support requests, include an organizational budget detailing anticipated income and expenses.

You may submit your inquiry online at www.publicwelfare.org or send it to:

Renewal Applications

If your organization is currently supported by the Foundation and you intend to apply for renewed funding, you must submit the following four parts in English:

1. final report cover sheet
   Use the form the Foundation sent with the check for the prior grant or download a copy from our website at www.publicwelfare.org/resources/Resources.asp.
   (Note that the executive director or other authorized signatory must sign the cover sheet indicating approval of the report. The signed cover sheet must be attached to the final report. If you e-mail your report you must also send a hard copy of the signed report by regular mail or fax.)

2. final report on the previous grant
   (Note that the grant period covered by the final report should be the same as the grant period stipulated in the grant notification letter unless you received an extension.)
   ■ In the final report, please provide detailed answers to the following four questions:
   ■ What major activities did the project or organization implement during the grant year?
   ■ How did the affected community or population get involved and provide input into the implementation of these activities?
   ■ What were the outcomes?
   ■ What were one or two major challenges the project or organization faced in implementing its work during the grant period and how were these challenges addressed?

Further information about these questions is available on our website.

■ As an alternative, you may provide a final report you have prepared for other purposes, provided that it includes answers to the four questions listed above. If a question has not been answered, you can answer it in an attached addendum.
3. income and expense or financial statement for previous grant period

- For project support grants, include the income and expenses for the entire project and for the organization.
- For general support grants, include the income and expenses for the organization.

4. request for renewed funding

(This is not applicable if you received a last-time or one-time grant.)

Renewal requests must include the following:

- A cover sheet that follows the same format as the cover sheet described in the above section on new applications or, alternatively, the cover sheet of the National Network of Grantmakers common grant application available from our website at www.publicwelfare.org/first_time/common_grant_app.asp.
- A narrative plan in which you describe what you expect to be the outcomes of the work to be performed in the next grant period. Also describe the activities, strategies and processes that you expect to employ to achieve these outcomes. Alternatively, you may submit a full proposal provided it includes a clear description of the expected outcomes of the proposed work. The full proposal may also follow the format of the common grant application of the National Network of Grantmakers.

- Financial information:
  - For project support requests, submit both a project budget and an organizational budget for the proposed grant period. Both budgets should detail anticipated income and expenses.
  - For general support requests, submit only the organizational budget.
  - Please submit a financial statement or an audit of your most recently completed fiscal year. An audit is preferred but not required.
- List of the current board of directors.
- A copy of your most recent tax status determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service.

In preparing your final report and request for renewed funding, we suggest you use the lists of required information as a last checklist before submission.

Timeline

Requests for new funding may be submitted at any time during the year. The review committee considers letters of inquiry on a regular basis. Requests for renewed funding can be submitted as soon as the grant period of the prior grant ends. Please note, however, that a decision can only be reached after the final report on the prior grant has been received and reviewed. Questions about the timing of submitting renewals should be directed to your program officer approximately three months before the end of the current grant period.

Our policy is to respond to letters of inquiry within 30 working days of receipt, either by requesting a full proposal or informing you of our decision to decline your request. Consequently, we ask that you allow at least 30 working days before following up on your letter. Once the Foundation has received a full proposal or an application for renewed funding, it usually takes an additional three to four months before a final decision is reached.

Meetings and Site Visits

Although the Foundation's staff would like to accommodate all requests to meet, we are only able to meet with those whose letters of inquiry have generated a request for a full proposal.

Whenever possible, site visits are made to organizations with requests pending at the Foundation. The staff travels throughout the year and makes an effort to arrange for site visits to be scheduled at mutually convenient times and with adequate notice.

Decision-Making Process

The Foundation staff is responsible for initial evaluation of funding requests. Both the board of directors and the executive director approve grants throughout the year. The board of directors or a committee of the board meets to consider funding requests eight times during the year.

The Foundation provides notification of its decisions at each stage of the application process. For each request, we make an effort to consider all possible connections within our categories of funding. Requests are rarely turned down because they are inadequately presented; rather, it is usually because the request falls outside of specific funding priorities in our program areas. Please also keep in mind that the requests made in worthy proposals we receive greatly exceed our resources.

Public Welfare Foundation is committed to maintaining an open forum for communicating the outcome of its decisions to grant seekers and recipients. Those who require additional information on any matter pertaining to present funding or the application process are encouraged to contact us.

THE PUBLIC WELFARE FOUNDATION, INC.
We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. as of October 31, 2002, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the foundation’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The financial statements of Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. as of October 31, 2001 were audited by other auditors whose report dated December 21, 2001, expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the 2002 financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. as of October 31, 2002 and the changes in net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

summary of significant accounting policies

October 31, 2002 and 2001

Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. (the "Foundation") was established in 1947 for the purpose of supporting benevolent, charitable, educational or missionary organizations that provide direct services meeting the basic human needs of seriously disadvantaged people and/or working for lasting improvements addressing these needs. Revenues earned are generated by the Foundation's investments. The Foundation uses that investment income (including gains) to fund grants to those organizations and other related expenses.

Use of estimates in preparing financial statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Basis of accounting

The financial statements of the Foundation have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting, which includes recognition of revenue as earned and expenses as incurred.

Amounts due from/to stockbrokers

The amounts due from (to) stockbrokers for securities with settlements pending result from sales (purchases) of securities made prior to the end of the fiscal year but settled after the fiscal year-end.

Investments

Short-term investments held for reinvestment are included with investments.

Investments are stated at fair value. Fair value of investments in marketable securities that are traded on a national securities exchange or listed on NASDAQ is based on current quoted market prices. Investments in limited partnership and other investment funds that invest in marketable securities are valued based on market values of the underlying securities.

In the absence of an active market for such investments, the fair value of investments in limited partnerships and other investment funds that invest in nonmarketable securities, real estate and oil and gas interests is based upon the cost of the investment, unless it has been determined that the asset has been impaired. A change in the estimated value may occur in the near term.

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gains or losses are determined using the proceeds from sales on a first-in, first-out basis. Realized gains include distributions of realized gains from mutual funds. Unrealized gains or losses are determined using quoted market prices and fair values at the respective year-ends.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment is stated at cost. Depreciation is provided by the straight-line method over 3 to 40 years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the term of the related lease or the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Grants payable

Grants are recorded when they are approved by the Board of Directors or the Executive Director of the Foundation, except for conditional grants, which are recorded when conditions are substantially met.

Income taxes

The Foundation is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is a private Foundation.

The Foundation is subject to an excise tax on net investment, including realized gains. In addition, certain minimum distributions are required to be made in accordance with a specified formula.

Reclassifications

Certain items in the 2001 financial statements have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation. Such reclassifications had no effect on previously reported net income.

This information is an integral part of the accompanying financial statements.

The Foundation has commitments to make additional investments of approximately $27,850,082 in other Investment Funds as of October 31, 2002. This includes $5,000,000 for an investment in an investment fund for which no payments have been made as of October 31, 2002. The Foundation cannot withdraw from these partnerships prior to their termination, pursuant to the partnership agreements, and there are restrictions on the transferability of its interest in these partnerships. Some partnerships have exit dates pursuant to the partnership agreement.

Substantially all of the Foundation’s short-term investments and stocks are under the control of a bank custodian.

note 2 — property and equipment

Property and equipment consist of the following:

note 3 — bonds payable

The Foundation is obligated to pay $11,000,000 in connection with the March 30, 2000 Public Welfare Foundation, Inc. issue of variable interest rate District of Columbia Revenue Series 2000 Revenue Bonds, maturing on March 1, 2025. The interest rate on the borrowings at October 31, 2002 is 1.85%. The bonds are collateralized by a bank letter of credit expiring March 30, 2010, and the bondholders may request mandatory redemption whenever there is either a change in the interest periods or letter of credit, or a change in the status of the bonds from nontaxable to taxable during the term of the bonds.

In the event this request is made, an agent has been retained to remarket any such bonds. If the bonds are redeemed, and not remarketed within 367 days, the Foundation must pay the bank the redemption amount plus interest. Assuming a 4.25% discount rate, the fair market value of the 25-year bonds is $6,393,628.

In addition, the bank has the right to annually, starting September 1, 2002, call for the following principal payments to reduce the outstanding bond principal to the following amounts:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>YEAR ENDED OCTOBER 31,</th>
<th>PRINCIPAL PAYMENT</th>
<th>OUTSTANDING PRINCIPAL BALANCE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2003</td>
<td>$  505,000</td>

<td>8,645,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2010</td>
<td>365,000</td>
<td>8,280,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The bond agreements place restrictions on the use of the land and building under renovation and limit other borrowings, and also require the Foundation to maintain a minimum level of net assets.

Interest expense included in other administrative expenses was $202,519 and $230,248 in 2002 and 2001, respectively.

note 4 — investment income, net

Interest and dividends from equity and debt securities consist of:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>2002</th>
<th>2001</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Dividends</td>
<td>$  3,490,764</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>TOTAL</td>
<td>$  9,360,979</td>
<td>$ 11,621,327</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other investment funds income, net, consists of the Foundation’s proportionate share of each of the funds’ total investment income.

note 5 — salaries and fringe benefits

Included in salaries and fringe benefits are contributions of $249,438 and $181,403 in 2002 and 2001, respectively, to a qualified defined contribution money purchase pension plan and trust, under which the Foundation is required to make contributions (net of forfeitures) of 20% of eligible employees’ total compensation.
note 6 — leases
The Foundation occupied rented premises through February 2001, at which time the leases expired. Rent expense included in other administrative expenses was $133,621 in 2001.

note 8 — concentrations of credit risk
The Foundation has funds deposited in financial institutions in excess of amounts insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). The balance in excess of amounts insured by the FDIC at June 30, 2002 was $409,554.

note 9 — minimum distribution requirement
The Internal Revenue Code requires that grants be paid in accordance with a specified formula. At October 31, 2002, the Foundation had distributed approximately $25,751,955 more than the required amount.

note 10 — cash flow disclosures
Cash paid for interest and taxes was as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>2002</th>

Note 11 — Disclosures about fair value of financial instruments

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate the value:

Cash and Short-Term Investments

The carrying value approximates fair value because of the short maturity of those instruments.

Long-Term Investments

The fair values are estimated based on quoted market prices for those or similar investments. For other investments for which there are no quoted market prices, the fair value has been based on market values supplied by the investee unless it has been determined the asset has been impaired.

Grants Payable

The fair value of grants payable is based on present value calculations using rates established for United States Treasury Bills.

Bonds Payable

The fair value of the bonds is estimated based on current rates offered on long-term Treasury Bills. The discount rate utilized was 4.25%.

The estimated value of the Foundation’s financial instruments is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>2002 CARRYING AMOUNT</th>

<th>2001 CARRYING AMOUNT</th>
