NEW PHONE ADVICE: ENJOY, PLAY WITH THEM, BE FRIENDLY

John Williams, director of Communications, which for two years has been working on our new, $9.58 million dollar telephone system, says that after July 5, when the new system switches on forever, he hopes everyone on campus will play with and learn how to use their new "telephone instruments" and that everyone will relax and be friendly about any problems we have in learning to use them. "After all," John says, "we have been in the dark ages with our 20-year-old phone system, and we are taking a giant leap in futuristic communications." Ma Bell, who got the contract for the new phones after going through a demanding bidding and choice system that had input from people all over campus, has installed, according to John, the very best, most reliant and greatest system of its kind available anywhere. You might like to know that, attached to each of the 65,000 new phones sets on desks about campus, are six pairs of wires, two of which have special insulating shields for high speed data transfer from computers. The wiring alone cost $2.5 million, and according to John, every penny spent on the giant project has been watched carefully, "like you'd watch your pet raccoon," he said. Following is some important information about your new system:

Notice from IUPUI Telecommunications The new telephone system conversion will be July 5 beginning at 6 a.m. New telephones will be placed before the end of June. Everyone is encouraged to practice with the features of the new telephones. However, off-campus local calls, long distance calls, paging system calls and calls to the campus operator must be placed from the OLD telephones until July 5. Please do not dial "0" on the new telephones until July 5.

Also, interum directories for the new telephone system will be distributed the week of June 16. Please keep your regular campus directory; you will need it for reference.

LINDLE, SPIEGEL CELEBRATE 61 COLLECTIVE YEARS

George R. Lindle, who has kept our fiscal house in order for many years, and Marjorie Spiegel, who has looked after our vice president for a quarter of a century, are both retiring. A retirement party for Lindle, director of budgeting and fiscal affairs who came to us 36 years ago, is June 20, 2-5 p.m., on the mezzanine of the Union Building. Among his many accomplishments, which includes a dedicated staff who wish him well but will miss him greatly, Lindle consistently displayed outstanding business acumen in financial matters, always improving the financial position of all departments and divisions. "Margie" Spiegel, administrative assistant to Vice President Glenn W. Irwin, Jr., M.D., has cheerfully and kindly gone about her duties, during work and on her own time, so that "no job description could ever contain the many services she performs for our entire campus family." Margie's retirement celebration is June 27, 2-4 p.m., main conference room, Administration Building. All are welcome to both celebrations.

GOOD NEWS! All the bridges on streets over the canal leading to campus from the east will not close as scheduled. Work is delayed on the New York St. canal bridge, so that street will stay open until sometime in August. East of West Street, Ohio Street is closed and Michigan closes June 17. Blake St. on campus is closed and Agnes remains a mess--one-way south.

POWERFUL MRI ON DISPLAY FOR ALL JUNE 18

Our new, first-of-its-kind magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) unit now in operation on campus. Everyone is invited to see the MRI which is used in the diagnosis and treatment of complicated disorders such as cerebral cancers and artery diseases. The MRI unit is sponsoring an open house June 18, 2-5 p.m., 701 West Drive, between the two oldest west wings of Riley Hospital. The MRI cannot be operative that day, but the MRI physicians and technicians will be, and they can answer any questions you may have.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Sire Celebration--Contrary to what you may have heard, it was not American Greeting or Hallmark that started celebrating fatherhood on the third Sunday of June. It was Mrs. John B. Dodd of Spokane, WA, on June 19, 1910. President Calvin Coolidge liked and supported the idea in 1924, but it was not until 1966 that the idea became a presidential proclamation, and not until 1972 that it became Public Law 92-278. Happy Day, Dads. And, note, you may want to drag dear ol' dad to the zoo June 15 for the "Almost America's Cup," a display and run of radio-controlled miniature vessels. Other specials are planned. Call 547-3577.

Moving Experiences--Upward Bound Project and International Student Services have moved to new locations which you are invited to visit. Upward Bound moved to 1357 E. 38th St. New phone number is 925-2005 before July 5, Ext. 4-2147 after that. Burdellis Carter, director of International Student Services, has moved her group to the Union Building, Room 574, where there are offices and a lounge. Call Ext. 7294. (Add a 4 after July 5.)

Nursing Hosts Mother/Baby Program--Maternal and Child Health Care Nurses from ours and five nearby states met at the School of Nursing this month for an annual meeting to learn special things about their specialty. Short courses focused on programs for handicapped and high-risk children; caring for ventilator-assisted children in the home, and a school-based program for adolescents which is showing success in promoting good sexual and anti-drug abuse practices. And, they learned how to get their state legislators to support health care programs.

Gymnastics Champs--McDonald's Championships of the USA are at Market Square Arena, June 19-22. Call 297-5151.

Getting In Correctly--Communications Support Services is compiling our new campus telephone directory. You are asked to make any necessary changes and return the print-out you have received no later than June 16. The print-out is to be returned even if it is correct. Just write "correct" on it and return it. Call Ext. 4338.

Silver Salute to Peace Corps--A program celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Peace Corps was in Lecture Hall on campus recently. Many people from our campus participated. They include Richard Fredland, director, International Programs; Frederick Bein (Peace Corps Brazil), chairman, Geography Dept.; Barbara Jackson, director, Women's Studies, and Naseem Ahmed, assistant director, Field Studies International IUPUI.

Last June Green Sheet--The Green Sheet is on summer schedule, and this is the second and last issue for June. The next publication date is July 6 with deadline July 1 at 5 p.m.

Final Reminder--Final registration for Summer Session II is June 26-27; classes begin June 30. Call Ext. 4591.

SEARCH BEGINS FOR CONFERENCE FACILITY MANAGER

Vice President Glenn W. Irwin, Jr., M.D., has appointed people to serve on the Advisory Selection Committee for the position of Manager of Conference Facilities at IUPUI. They are Scott Evenbeck (chairman), Robert Baxter, John Boquist, David Bostwick, Beverly Hill, George Lukemeyer, Robert Martin, William McGowan, Danilo Orescanin, Cliff Robinson, James Roche Jr. and James Weigand. Applications for the national search are due by July 1. The person named to the position will be responsible for opening and managing the Conference Center now under construction east of University Hospital. Dr. Irwin asks that questions concerning the Conference Center be referred to either Robert Baxter, Ext. 2211, or Scott Evenbeck, Ext. 4501, until the appointment is made. Interested persons can submit a resume and a letter of application to Marcia Free, Personnel Dept., UV 124. IUPUI is an AA/EO Employer

FOREIGN STUDY COMPLETE

IUPUI had the lion's share of the 450 international students who resided last year in our fair city, so the study "Indianapolis and Its Ties to the World" reveals. Also in the study by the IUPUI Office of International Programs, it is reported that we still have with us a senior research scholar from the USSR and people representing 58 other countries. In fall of '85 we had 231 foreign students and 58 visiting scholars. According to Richard A. Fredland, director of the programs, and the study's project manager, Garry Newman, the study takes a deep look at the city's foreign students, travel, trade and religion. It is hoped that the information will inspire area residents to see our community's vast international ties. The report says, "In this troubled time in global relations, we should take advantage of the extensive number of international students in our area to try to comprehend the method of thinking of those with whom we interact in the international arena." Abstracts and copies of the report are available. Call Newman at Ext. 2081, or Fredland at Ext. 4881.-JG.

MEETING STIRS NOSTALGIA IN HERRON GRADS

Graduates, some in their 70s, returned to the Herron School of Art, formerly the John Herron Art Institute, recently and spent an evening of dinner, carriage rides and wandering through time since the early 1900s. Graduates came from the East Coast, Florida and Alabama, from Arizona. Margot Wright, 75, drove from New Jersey with a friend to attend her first reunion since her graduation in 1932. Working her way through Herron by running a restaurant, Wright since her graduation has been a spy for the US Naval Intelligence, an antique buyer and research librarian for French and Company in New York where her clients included Rockefeller and Walter Chrysler. She has met Greta Garbo and has had the pleasure of selling four $450,000 tapestries to J. Paul Getty. Wright still paints in watercolors and brought some of her pieces to share with alumni who were urged to bring their works to the reunion.-SR.

FOREIGN SPEAKERS CAN TEST FOR SPECIAL ENGLISH COURSES

Internationals and permanent US residents whose native language is not English can inquire now about taking "English as a Second Language" courses that begin next fall. Testing is in late summer. The English Dept. offers several special courses. Some are credit courses, others are not. For information about the courses, call Dr. Ulla Conner, Ext. 2258.

Reminder: After July 5, all internal phone extension numbers will be five digits. In most cases, you simply add a 4 before the existing numbers, but some areas on campus have new numbers. Check with your operator.

AFFLICTED, FAMILIES, PHYSICIANS IN LOWE'S MEETING

There are children, mostly boys, who suffer multiple symptoms from Lowe's Syndrome, a rare disease that causes visual impairment, kidney problems, mental retardation and weak muscles. Some of these children and their parents, as well as doctors, educators and researchers will come together on campus June 20-22 for the first meeting of international or national scope on Lowe's Syndrome. Sponsored by the Dept. of Pediatrics and the Lowe's Syndrome Foundation, the meeting will bring together experts in the field who will present papers on the genetic disease. Presenters and families will be coming from all over the U.S., and from Japan and England.-PP
