

green sheet

803
C1

volume sixteen, number forty-two

december 21, 1986

Happy Holidays

Marie Brunzman

Tom Henry

Lucy Gonso

Donna Syphers

Gretchen Wolfram

Pam Perry

Frankie Hooten

Shirley Rogers

Charlotte Wright

Jim Grim

Calligraphy by Wanda Bragg

Caricatures by Joseph Blazier

POLICE SAY DO NOT MEET WITH PURSE STEALERS

Do not meet with someone who has stolen your purse or property, is the advice from the IUPUI Police Department. Police report that there is an increase in thefts of purses on campus. Also, "several" victims of theft have reported that someone has phoned after the theft with an offer to meet somewhere north of the campus so that the victim can get back the stolen property. In most cases no one shows up; on one occasion the victim was met by a woman. No stolen property has been returned. The caller is believed to be a male. If you have "lost" a purse or wallet, the police want you to call and report it, and they strongly urge you NOT TO MEET with anyone who calls.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Short Subject--Today (Dec. 21) is the shortest day of the year; winter begins.

Westside Ride--Paula will gladly help pay for the gasoline in exchange for a ride to and from the area of West Washington Street and Lynhurst Drive, weekdays, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Call 4-8442.

All Welcome--The interdepartmental molecular biology group presents Peggy Wallace giving a lecture on "Direct DNA Tests for Hereditary Amyloidosis" on Jan. 6, noon-1 p.m., RR 138. Call 4-2241.

Minding His Business--Vice President Gerald L. Bepko adds another new responsibility. He is now a member of the board for the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce.

CST Meetings--Committees for the Corporation for Science Technology have set meetings early in January. Meeting the 7th at 10 a.m. at Purdue in West Lafayette is the Optical Technology Committee. Meeting the 8th at 10 a.m. at the Airport Holiday Inn is the Agricultural Genetics Committee.

Holiday Day Camp--Our neighbor, the Fall Creek YMCA, is offering a "winter wonderland" day camp for children Dec. 22 through Jan. 2 from 7 a.m.-5 p.m. For fees and registration, call 634-2478.

Terrific Madrigal--Gene Tempel's gang from the IU Foundation office here did a terrific job in bringing the IU Madrigal Feast to the Indiana Roof ballroom Dec. 9. Amy Warner went overboard in seeing that every detail was perfect. They were perfect. The talents of the singers and players from the IU School of Music were great, the food was good and roof was ravishingly rococo, exactly as it was "several" years ago when some of us had our senior prom there....

WOMEN NEEDED FOR IMPORTANT STUDY

Nonspecific vaginitis, an extraordinarily common condition of extraordinarily uncommon importance to the health and happiness of women, is being studied by the Div. of Infectious Diseases, Dept. of Medicine. Also called bacterial vaginosis, symptoms include discharge and an unpleasant odor. Women who are not pregnant and who think they have this condition are encouraged to call Dr. John Black for the opportunity to participate in a one-week treatment trial. Participants will be paid $75 upon completion of the study. Call 4-8114.

PEACOCK-PROUD NEW CITIZEN SERVES US

Marie Cramer thinks she has a lot to be happy about. After flitting around the world for 35 years with her military husband, the 66-year-old English native has nested once and for all in our midst, clutching United States of America citizenship papers on which the ink is barely dry. "I feel proud as a peacock with her feathers out," said Citizen Cramer, who is now a hostess in the Union Building cafeteria for Modern Food Service. Over the years a cook, washer and waitress and before coming on campus, she served 12 years in the AFNB executive dining room.

KEATING FUND READY FOR DONATIONS

Tom Keating, columnist for the Indianapolis Star for 14 years, died last year, long before many of his avid fans were ready to quit reading his sensitive, entertaining writing. One of the loves of his life was teaching feature writing at IUPUI. So that budding talented writers will be encouraged to stretch themselves to Tom's caliber, many who loved Tom and his writing have begun The Thomas R. Keating Memorial Scholarship Fund. IUPUI is among the "Keating Group." It is hoped that this one-time-only fund drive will generate a lasting endowment for promising college students. Send your check to PO Box 46277-8889, Indianapolis 46277.

NEW PARTNERSHIP FOCUSES ON BEST IN EDUCATION

IPS and a dozen other public school corporations in Indiana have joined the School of Education to form the Indiana Public School/University Partnership. Almost 14 percent of the 1 million-plus students in Hoosier secondary and elementary schools will be represented. Plans are to develop and test alternative forms of school organization and leadership, mount special programs for at-risk children and youth, create programs for early childhood and adolescent youths, develop and test new pre-service and in-service training programs for teachers. The partnership will also look at leadership training programs for school administrators, appropriate technology use in schools and it will search for ways to use university research resources to investigate solutions to school-based problems. Activities of the partnership are to begin immediately with the overall goal of improving the participating school corporations, as well as improving teacher preparation at IU. Heading the group is Edward L. Robbins, associate professor of education and director of the Measurement and Evaluation Center for Reading Education, School of Education. President of the partnership board of directors is Edward Bowes, superintendent of the Metropolitan School District of Wayne Township. To learn more, call Robbins, 4-6801.-SAR

WALK ON THE WEST SIDE BEGINS

All 1,232 of those huge chunks of limestone that are lined up on Washington Street will soon be placed permanently as part of the new zoo's Riverwalk Promenade. A minority contractor landed the $350,000 bid, the first to do so in competitive bidding for park contracts. The limestone blocks will "fence" the zoo's north boundary and when it's finished, the walk will afford you a lush environment for a gentle stroll along White River.

For Your New Year's Eve Party For a mere $500,000 you and up to 600 guests can take an overnight "cruise to nowhere" on the Queen Elizabeth II. (Harper's Index, January)

POSITION AVAILABLE

NURSING, teacher-practitioner, part-time. Requires MSW with two years' post-master's experience. Desire skill in working with the elderly and evidence of an ability to work as a member of an interdisciplinary team. Send resume no later than Dec. 29 to: Dr. Marge Pike, IU School of Nursing, 610 Barnhill Dr., Indianapolis 46223.
(IUPUI is an EO/AA Employer)

SELFLESS WOMAN WINS EDUCATION'S AWARD

GUIDELINES:

The IU School of Education Outstanding Staff Award is given on the basis of exemplary job performance, positive attitude toward one's job in particular and the school in general, service provided to the school not directly related to one's job, and at least three years' appointed service in the school.

RECIPIENT '86:

Phyllis Gillespie, administrative assistant, Administrative and Student Services, School of Education.

Likes her job: Fifteen-year veteran at IUPUI. "It's part of my life."

Listen's to students: "I'm a good listener."

Helps Others: American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, United Way.

World Traveler: With husband Bill to Maine for annual clambakes, to St. Thomas, the Grand Caymans, Bermuda, Tortorla, St. Croix and Puerto Rico.

Loves Other Than Bill: Grandchildren, Joshua and Heather; anyone who needs her. "Others really need someone to talk with."

The Outstanding Staff Award for 1986: A plaque and cash award given Dec. 5 at the Champions Room. "I didn't deserve it anymore than anyone else who is just doing their job...." -SAR

OPEN AUDITIONS: Auditions to fill roles for two black males and one white male will be held Jan. 12-13, 7 p.m., Mary Cable Building theater. The roles are in the upcoming production of "'Master Harold'... and the Boys" being produced by the IUPUI University Theatre for performances Feb. 20-21 and Feb. 27-28. Clara Heath will direct Athol Fugard's powerful drama about a young white boy who makes the inescapable move from innocense and childhood to poisonous bigotry in the apartheid state of South Africa. Auditioners can be staff, students or faculty at IUPUI or members of the community at-large. They will present a prepared monologue of one to two minutes that is taken from a contemporary drama. For more, call 4-2095.

green sheet

*News Bureau

Indiana University-Purdue University
at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

