

green sheet

volume seventeen, number ~~twenty-two~~ ^{#11}

march 22, 1987

EHRlich DUO "WARM, CORDIAL, QUICK"

President-elect Thomas Ehrlich and his wife Ellen (Rome) Ehrlich knelt to receive a gift of flowers from tiny Riley Hospital patient Kyle Phelps, whose parents gladly let their three-year-old join in the reception for the newly selected IU president. Their reaction to the child was "spontaneous, genuine and heart-warming," onlookers said. "Warm, quick, Eastern..." say others who met them at a nicely done reception at Riley on Mar. 7, following the trustees' unanimous agreement. The provost and professor of law at the U. of Pennsylvania will come on board Aug. 1, replacing John Ryan who retires to work on the Campaign for Indiana. Pronounced "err-lesh" (without the "k" sound), Ehrlich is expected to continue visiting campuses, putting names to faces, before he experiences the daily heat and humidity of his first full August in Indiana. In the chore of choosing the top man for IU, Richard Stoner, president of the trustees, and trustee Harry Gonso, chairman of the search committee, traveled more than 20,000 miles interviewing candidates and reporting back to the full committee.

SEVEN GO GOOD NEIGHBORING Campus administrators Lincoln Lewis, David Robbins, Ike Levy, Barbara Jones, G. Kris Keeley, Susan Scott and Harriet Bennett have volunteered to join 93 other people in the 1987 Corporate campaign for the Indianapolis Zoo. Lincoln is captain of our team that will be spending several days seeking new money and pledge renewals.

GREED, WHEELING AND DEALING POINT TO NEED FOR TEACHING ETHICS

Greed and power grabbing on Wall Street, the Iran-Contra deals, post-explosion space shuttle maneuvering and Baby Doe are but a few of the dilemmas involving ethics among decision-makers. Responding to that, the Committee on Learning Resources and the IUPUI Faculty Council have set an invitation-only seminar, "Teaching Ethics: A Multi-Disciplinary Symposium" on Mar. 27, 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m., Bus/SPEA 4095. Centre College President Richard Morrill will give the keynote address at the 9 a.m. session. Panels of people from medicine, journalism, science, public and environmental affairs and liberal arts will discuss ethical dilemmas in truth-telling and teaching ethics. A roundtable discussion is also planned.

ORDER YOUR FRESH-MADE PIZZAS from the Hospitals Cheer Guild and pick them up April 3 in the lobby at Riley or University. Freshly made by Guild members, the pizzas will be ready for baking or freezing. Several ingredients and combinations are offered at several different prices, ranging from $5 to $7.50. Order now by calling 4-8705.

SHORT LONG ON EXPERIENCE FOR RUNNING CENTER

Many years as a mover and shaker in education and in the city make attorney John D. Short a welcome selection as manager of the new $12-million University Conference Center that is quickly taking shape at the corners of Agnes and Michigan Streets. Before Mar. 1 he was director of lease administration at Browning Investments Inc. for four years. Now he is responsible for all operations and activities of the center. He will conduct various promotional projects to solicit use of the facilities by IUPUI academic units, non-university types who are using the Lincoln Hotel next door and by various national, state and local agencies and organizations. John received his bachelor's degree from Notre Dame in 1974 and his law degree from this campus in 1979. His campus home, until the Conference Center is ready, is in the Administration Building.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Spring Sprang--You have until June 21 to celebrate spring, which came on us with the Vernal Equinox at 10:52 p.m., EST on Mar. 20. You have until Apr. 11 to see the wondrous works of art students on display in the Herron Gallery.

Sale Ends Apr. 3--How-to books on just about everything and books for children are in the annual spring book sale at the IUPUI Bookstores through Apr. 3.

Guiding Art--Another public forum to be held by the new Indianapolis Arts Council is Mar. 30, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Children's Museum. Your ideas are welcome.

Her Health--Next in the Women's Studies Lunchtime Forum is Diane Ruyak, National Dairy Council, presenting "Nutrition and Women's Physical Fitness" on Mar. 25, noon-1 p.m., CA 001C. All welcome.

They Also Dance--There is "spirited" choreography in the spring concert of the Singing Hoosiers on Mar. 28, 8 p.m., IUB. Tickets are only $3.50, less for groups of 10 or more. Call IUB, 335-1103.

Newman Center Now--Keeping in step with other places of its kind, the Catholic Student Center at IUPUI is now officially named the Newman Center. It and centers on campuses across the country are named after Cardinal Henry Newman, an intellect of the last century who wrote what was then a startling little pamphlet called, "The Idea of a University." The IUPUI Newman Center offers Mass, meals and more. Call 632-4378.

Joint Meeting--P. Fred Sparling, Dept. of Microbiology and Immunology, U. of North Carolina, presents "Gonococcal and Meningococcal Iron Scavenging Systems: Novel Solutions to a Common Problem" on Mar. 25, noon, MS 205. This is a joint seminar of the Depts. of Microbiology/Immunology and Medicine.

More Microbiology--Dr. William E. Goldman, Dept. of Microbiology and Immunology, Washington U. School of Medicine, St. Louis, presents "Cell Wall Structural Components and Microbial Virulence: Histoplasma Capsulatum and Bordetella Pertussis" on Mar. 26, 4 p.m., MS 205.

Great Decisions '87--Frank W. Blanning, Ph.D., adjunct professor, U. of Indianapolis and IVY Tech, presents "Pakistan and Afghanistan: Storm Over Southwest Asia" in the next lecture on Mar. 24, 7:30 p.m., Christian Theological Seminary. Call 4-3261.

CST Meeting--The Manufacturing Technology Committee, Indiana Corp. for Science and Technology, meets Mar. 24, 9:30 a.m.-1 p.m., Sheraton Marten House.

ONE WOMAN FROM CAMPUS WILL BE SELECTED to attend the Summer Institute for Women in Higher Education Administration, July 5-31, Bryn Mawr College. Deadline for response is Apr. 3. The program includes instruction on academic governance, finance and budgeting, human relations skills, professional development and a series of lectures on policy issues. Open to women on the staff or faculty, the program is designed to enlarge the professional opportunities for women in higher education. Co-sponsors are Affirmative Action and Women's Studies Program, with support from the Office of the Vice President. Interested applicants can call Lincoln Lewis, 4-2306 or Barbara Jackson, 4-4457.

POSITION AVAILABLE

CHIEF, Riley Hospital for Children; chairman, Dept. of Pediatrics, IU School of Medicine. Seek pediatrician with highest qualifications, with strong commitment to child care, education and basic and clinical investigation. Send CV and three references to Arthur L. Norins, M.D.; Chairman, Pediatric Search and Screen Committee; IU School of Medicine; Office of the Dean; 1120 South Drive, Indianapolis, 46223.

IUPUI is an AA/EO Employer

THE SWINGIN' SOUNDS of Dominic Spera and Dave Baker return to the Indiana Roof in the next Music For Indianapolis concert on Apr. 12, 7 p.m. Tickets are at TicketMaster, 297-5151. Groups of campus toe tappers are welcome.

NEED SUBJECTS FOR NUTRITION RESEARCH

Healthy, normal people are needed to test the exchange system for diet control of blood sugar. Requires two hours for each of three meals a day, for two periods of five consecutive days at the Clinical Research Center, University Hospital. Must follow controlled diet designed for each person; all meals provided. Study involves frequent drawing of small amounts of blood from indwelling device. Data and small financial reward available at end of the study. Call 4-0952, 4-4356.

WISHARD BURN UNIT CELEBRATES DECADE OF DEDICATION

Since its beginning ten years ago, Wishard's Adult Burn Unit has treated almost 900 burn victims. The unit, along with the Pediatric Burn Unit at Riley Hospital, forms one of only two burn centers in the state. During a reception on Mar. 18 in Myers Auditorium at Wishard, Dr. James E. Bennett, director of plastic surgery, and Dr. Barbara Siwy, the unit's medical director, discussed the evolution of burn treatment. Former burn patient Mary Ellen Ton shared her experience as a patient in the unit and, for the first time, the audio visual production about burn treatment, "There's a Person Inside," was shown.

EDUCATION CREATING PROGRAM FOR SCHOOL PRINCIPALS

Studies show that good, strong school principals make good strong schools for teachers and students. To that end, the School of Education at IUPUI is creating an Aspiring Principal Leadership Program, which should help compensate for an expected decline in local and national school leadership over the next five years. The successful applicant for a full-time position in the school's Dept. of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies will coordinate the program, teach and will lead teams of faculty and practitioners in the skill training and guidance of people aspiring to be principals. For more, call Hugh A. Wolf, associate dean for Indianapolis and associate professor of education, School of Education, 4-6862.

VARGUS' BECCA AND OTHERS IN "BECCA"

Among the IUPUI students and faculty in the cast of the next play, "Becca," is Becca Vargus, daughter of Brian Vargus of IUPUI poll fame. She plays Ida the Spider, one of the terrifying closet creatures in the play, which is the winner of the National Children's Playwriting Contest, sponsored by University Theatre and others. Charming child actors are also in this and other plays to be performed during a Children's Theatre Symposium on campus Mar. 27-28. Dorothy Webb, associate professor of theater and communication and director of children's theater, directs "Becca," while local musician Jerry Ross directs music. Mary Maitland Kimball, associate professor of physical education and director of dance at IUPUI, is choreographer. Call theater, 4-0557 for tickets and details.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES (THAN WE EVER DREAMED)

From Personnel--A health insurance information meeting is Mar. 23, 8:30-9:30 a.m., Union Building, Grissom Room. A new employee orientation is Mar. 30, 2-3 p.m., Fesler Hall, Hurty Hall C.

U.N. Again--The IUPUI Honors Program and School of Education played host to the 35th Model United Nations, the oldest program of its kind for high school students. Young people representing 153 nations donned costumes and deliberated over the world's woes in Lecture Hall a couple of weeks ago.

Park Avenue Pleaser--Costumed in the period or not, guests who are wined and dined in the annual Victorian Progressive Dinner Mar. 28 are sure to enjoy the fine food and old homes in which they eat, drink and be merry. For tickets, call Evelyn Paine, 4-2523.

Monday Exhibit--"Performing artist" Debra La Grasse will exhibit slides, video, sculpture and other multi-media works in the Herron Auditorium, Mar. 23, 1 p.m. All welcome. Gerald and Dorit Paul make it possible.

All About Children--Bill Cosby's book and script consultant Alvin Poussaint will be among top professionals in the series, "American Dialogue: Strengthening America by Strengthening Our Children." Call 925-4600.

Fashion Show--The IU Medical School Faculty Wives Club spring luncheon and fashion show by Plotner's is Mar. 26, 11:30 a.m., Ritz-Charles. Call Barbara Rogers, 844-9808.

Fein in Forum--Former US Assistant Attorney General Bruce Fein, research director for the House Select Committee to Investigate Covert Arms Transactions with Iran, is among the experts to speak in the symposium, "Federalism and Foreign Policy," on Mar. 28, 8:30 a.m., School of Law, IUB. Sponsor is the IU Chapter of the Federalist Society for Law and Public Policy. For more on this all-day seminar, call David Bell, 812 331-2116.

Sign Up Now--Anyone interested can sign up for the U.S. Olympic Academy XI, hosted by the School of PE here and the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, IUB. It begins with opening ceremonies at the track on June 17 and ends June 20. Call Jeff Vessely, 4-2824.

Karen on Caring--Karen Meier Robinson presents her dissertation, "Adjustment to Caregiving," Mar. 30, noon-1 p.m., NU 487. All welcome.

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University - Purdue University
at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

