MOoving COMPANY CIRCLES THE GLOBE IN 8TH CONCERT

A dance around the globe to music from many cultures and times is planned for the 8th anniversary spring concert of the IUPUI Moving Company, directed by Mary Maitland Kimball, associate professor in PE. "A Universal Language" will feature ancient and original music and movement from nine countries, including all-American New Orleans early jazz. There are three performances, Apr. 25-27, 8 p.m., in the Mary Cable Theatre. Guest choreographers and Kimball have designed compositions to music from Japan, Poland, Africa, Puerto Rico, Spain, France, the U.S., and from an "Empty Street" everywhere in the world. Choreographers assisting Kimball include Margot Faught who founded the IUPUI Moving Company, Iris Rosa, Gina Moss, Melli Hoppe and Laura Davis, who also performs a solo performance, "Peasant Pas from Giselle, Act I," which was first performed in the Paris Opera in 1841. A toe-tapping medley of scenes set to songs from the Smithsonian Institution collection of classical jazz will be presented in "Mardi Gras Vignettes." Dancers and flappers will tap and shimmy to the music of King Oliver, Jelly Roll Morton, Sidney Bechet and James P. Johnson, jazz composers from the '20 and '30s. The finale brings the concert home with "The Parade," and "Riverboat Shuffle," set to the 1927 tunes of Indiana's own Hoagy Carmichael. Tickets to "An International Language" are $4.

Seating is open (festival) on Thursday; reserved on Friday and Saturday. For reservations, tickets or more information, visit or call the IUPUI University Theatre box office, 4-2094.

ICE CREAM DESSERT TOPS OFF DESERT STORM CELEBRATION Everyone is invited to a celebration May 1 at 11 a.m. on the library courtyard where IUPUI will honor veterans of the Persian Gulf war and other conflicts in which men and women have served their country. An free ice cream social follows the ceremonies.

B'NAI B'RITH HONORS HERMAN B

IU Chancellor Herman B Wells will receive the B'na'i B'rith 1991 Great American Traditions Award during a testimonial dinner in Indy May 29. The organization pays tribute to the venerated Dr. Wells for his "continuing involvement with civic and public service programs which exemplify his spirit of altruism. His wise counsel and uncommon achievement have earned him recognition and 26 honorary degrees from our nation's most respected institutions." Such luminaries as Vice President of the United States Dan Quayle, Indiana Governor Evan Bayh, U.S. Senators Dan Coats and Richard Lugar and Indianapolis Mayor William Hudnut III are honorary chairman of the event that will benefit B'na'i B'rith, one of the oldest voluntary service organizations in the U.S. Other VIPs helping with the award include the presidents of Indiana and Purdue universities, Thomas Ehrlich and Steven Beering, respectively, and Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president emeritus of Notre Dame. Dinner chairman are Josh Fineburg, IU trustee, and Gerald Craft, honorary president of B'na'i B'rith.

THEy DO RUN RUN AROUND CAMPUS IN THE FIFTH ANNUAL FUND RAISER FOR ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE

A romp for kids, a 10K for runners and a 5K for walkers is planned in the annual Do Run Run fund raiser that benefits research and treatment for the good of Alzheimer's victims. The IU Center for Alzheimer's Disease is in room 118 in the "cottages," those ancient stuccoed buildings located mid-campus, just a block north of West Michigan Street. To donate your money, volunteer to help or to register to run and walk, you can call there, 4-4333, or call the Alzheimer's Association, 542-8888.
KIWANIS KEEPS 60-YEAR TRADITION WITH HELP FOR KIDS AT RILEY

Back in 1930, the Kiwanis of Indiana donated the K-wing at Riley Hospital, and all through the years right up to last week, they have made many gifts that help save the lives of hundreds of sick kids. On Apr. 11 the tradition continued when the Kiwanians gave more than $50,000 worth of lifesaving pediatric shock room equipment to Riley. Tom Dunham, last year's district Kiwanis governor, presented the gift on behalf of the 10,500 Kiwanis club members in Indiana. On behalf of the staff and patients at Riley, the gift was accepted by Dr. Richard L. Schreiner, Riley's physician-in-chief. The Kiwanis Clubs are not stopping here; they plan to raise more than $1 million in the next several years to enhance Riley's emergency room facilities.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Nice 'n' Neighborly--A team of folks from IUPUI recently generated more than $5,000 in pledges and donations for the Indianapolis Zoo's corporate campaign. Harriet Bennett, assistant director of the Undergraduate Education Center in the Union Building, was chairman of the powerhouse team. They are Chris Keeley, director of Human Resources; Irv Levy, director of Continuing Studies; Joanne Sanders, IUPUI student and former administrator, and Todd Stufflebeam, a counselor in Undergraduate Education. The other team member is Maryellen Beckman, senior service adviser in Telecommunications, who was named by the zoo as "Rookie of the Year" for raising more funds than anyone else.

Quiet Earth Day--It seems that this year Earth Day will pass in reverie rather than revelry on campus. IUPUI is planning no great celebration like last year's, but on Apr. 21 people from campus will participate in Earth Day Indiana in Military Park, where there will be dancing and other planetary events nearly all day. All welcome.

AIDS INFO--The AIDS satellite TV network, sponsored by Physicians Association for AIDS Care, has a multi-focus program Apr. 24, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. in Fesler Hall, Hurty C. Segments will include judgmentalism and AIDS, the impact of ADA guidelines on dental practice, women's issues in HIV disease and confidentiality issues in HIV infection control policies. Call the Infectious Disease Research Clinic on campus, 4-8456.

Smart Start--Some 70 first-year IUPUI students took a bow for their 3.5 GPA or better standing and were inducted during ceremonies Apr. 12 into two scholarly honoraries, Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta. Congrats to faculty, staff and the students for our newest scholars.

Arrington Adieu--Friends and associates of J. Donald Arrington are invited to a reception for him Apr. 25 at 3:30 p.m. in the School of Education third floor commons. He is retiring after 22 years' distinguished service in social studies education.

Health Hot Seat--A health ethicist, an Indiana senator and a state health planner will discuss "Health Related Issues in Indiana" during a free public meeting of the League of Women Voters of Indianapolis, Apr. 23, 7 p.m. in the North United Methodist Church. Speaking will be Fr. Joe Rautenberg, ethicist at St. Vincent's, Senator Virginia Blankenbaker, and Director of Health Planning for the State Board of Health Thomas Reed.

Swimming at 91--A 91-year-old man, a 78-year-old woman, "kids" of 19 years old, and 700 swimmers in between, will compete in the National YMCA Master's Swimming Championships at the natatorium Apr. 26-29. The Jordan YMCA in Indy is the defending national champ. National champion swimmer Mel Goldstein, 52, said that many people who come to watch the meets leave saying "I can do that," no matter what they hope to try. Mel, who directs the contest this year, says he is swimming faster now than he did for Doc Counselman at IU years ago, but a reliable source at the natatorium says "Mel just got taller and hits the wall sooner." The meets begin at 8 a.m. and end about noon on Monday and 3 p.m. other days.
ASISTANCE FUND CREATED FOR CAMPUS GOOD SAMARITAN HURT ON I-70

James LeFlore, a supervisor in Materiel Management at the Medical Center, is still fighting his way back from a serious accident on I-70 last October in which his legs were badly injured by a hit and run driver. LeFlore had stopped to help another motorist who had been injured in a wreck when he was hit. He is on sick leave and without income as he faces mounting medical bills not only for himself, but also for two of his four children, one who has hemophilia and the other who has cerebral palsy. Materiel Management employees already have given $1,000 in aid to the family and have set up a trust so that others on campus can help if they wish. Donations can be sent to The James LeFlore Trust Fund, c/o John Lawrence, Materiel Services, CS #2. For more about the fund and the family’s needs, call Ella Loggins, 4-2043, or Ima Eubanks, 4-2260.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

CORRECTION, director, Regenstrief Institute for Health Care. Notice in the Apr. 7 Green Sheet incorrectly noted that this is a faculty position with tenure. It should have said that tenure status will be commensurate with interests and experience. Your editor regrets the error.

TEACHING, anatomy, Medical Sciences Program, Bloomington. Temporary, starts July 1 for one year with renewal possible. Primary teaching responsibility is in basic human anatomy for undergraduates. May participate in histology, gross anatomy or neuroscience courses for graduate and medical students. Opportunities for individual and collaborative research available. Call D. M. Schroeder, Ph.D., 5-2631.

FOREIGN SOCIAL WORKERS TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK

For the 13th successful year, the School of Social Work, in affiliation with the Council of International Programs, will host social service professionals from other countries who come here to study on campus and work in local agencies. Our guests, who stay with volunteer host families throughout the summer, will be coming from Germany, Hong Kong, Hungary, Israel, Mozambique, Nigeria, Portugal, South Africa, India, Spain and Taiwan. You will have a chance to welcome them with our patented Hoosier hospitality at a reception May 6 from 4-6 p.m. in the fourth-floor Commons area of the school. The 14 visitors arrive in New York Apr. 22 and in Indianapolis Apr. 24, when they begin a three-week orientation to American and Indiana life, health and social services, government and economic-political system. All this is in preparation for their 13 weeks of participation in agencies and programs alongside their American colleagues working in professional specializations similar to their own.

MORE NEWS ‘N’ NOTES

GEMS IN PATH CROWN—Winners of the new GEM (Go the Extra Mile) award, given by the Dept. of Pathology, are Joe Cabage, data management; Bonnie Jennings, blood bank; Chris Starkey, Riley hematology, and Susan Booze, University hematology. Supervisors nominate candidates for their exemplary service to co-workers and patients.

Banding Together—Apparently several musicians on the faculty and staff showed interest in dragging out their old instruments and toning up their embouchure to play in a band at IUPUI, but many said they can’t rehearse at a time when students can. To accommodate non-student musicians and to begin the first university band of its kind that Doug Smith knows about, you are asked to consider being in such a band and to call him, 4-4000, write him, SI 130, or see him in the Mary Cable Building with your comments.

Another Note—The annual IUPUI Concert Band concert is Apr. 30 at 8 p.m. on the University Theatre stage in the Mary Cable Building. It’s free. All welcome.

Happy and caring people who want to help others pay attention to their health are asked to volunteer to be hosts in the eighth annual IUPUI Fitness Day, May 15, 9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. in a tent in the park area just north of University Place. Hosts will help in booths and pass out raffle tickets and balloons to people attending the fair. One-hour shifts are available all day. To volunteer, fill out the form to the left and mail it no later than May 1 to Cheryl Gilmore, Acquisitions Department, University Library, B-10. Or call her at 4-8338.

ADULT DIABETICS NEEDED FOR NEW STUDY

If you are a diabetic and take beef, pork or beef-pork insulin and were diagnosed with diabetes after the age of 40, you may be eligible to participate in a research study at the Medical Center. It is aimed at developing a simple insulin treatment for people with diabetes. It will last approximately six months and involves monitoring glucose concentrations at home and special tests in the hospital. If you qualify, you will be provided with free medical care and materials related to the study. Call 630-6987.
