

C1

volume ten, number eight

march 2, 1980

IUPUI GROWS: GROUND BREAKING ON TUESDAY

University and city officials will man the shovels Tuesday to break ground for the first phase of a construction project that eventually will reduce from five to three the sites of IUPUI.

The ceremony will start at noon at the southeast corner of the Lecture Hall for the Education-Social Work Building which will house those two schools. The total project also includes a second phase, that of a gymnasium complex south of New York Street that will house the School of Physical Education. The two construction phases will be linked by an overhead pedestrian walkway across New York Street.

John W. Ryan, president of I.U., will direct the ceremonies which will include remarks from Dr. Glenn W. Irwin, Jr., I.U. vice president (Indianapolis); Richard P. Gousha, dean of the I.U. School of Education; P. Nicholas Kellum, dean of the I.U. School of Physical Education, and Leonard Schneiderman, dean of the I.U. School of Social Work. Indianapolis Mayor William H. Hudnut will be among city officials on hand at the program. A reception in the Lecture Hall will follow the ceremony.

The total construction plan will allow the School of Education to move from its cramped quarters in the Marott Building at 902 North Meridian Street, where it has been housed since 1971. It will also mean that the School of Physical Education will move from its current leased quarters on West 64th Street. (The School of Social Work now is housed in Cavanaugh Hall.)

When the entire project is completed, IUPUI will be reduced to three sites: the main campus on West Michigan Street, the 38th Street Campus and the Herron School of Art at 16th and Pennsylvania streets.

This first phase of the construction, the Education-Social Work Building, will connect with the Schools of Business-Public and Environmental Affairs Building and continue the second-level pedestrian spine which permits indoor access from building to building. The 95,400-square-foot structure will have a four-story wing and a two-story wing and will include classrooms, seminar rooms, faculty and administrative offices, counseling centers, laboratories and methods rooms for social work and the Curriculum Resources Center for education.

The School of Education has more than 1,400 full- and part-time students working toward undergraduate and graduate degrees and since 1973 has graduated more than 4,500 teachers. The School of Social Work has had an 18.6 percent increase in enrollment over the past two years, plus an 756 percent increase over the last two-year period in external support for programs in teaching, research and service. The school has plans for a doctoral program and already is engaged in larger programs of continuing studies and graduate education for social workers.

The cost for Phase One is $7,307,845; total project cost (including the gymnasium complex and walkway) is $16,666,340. Bonding authority for the project was granted by the 1979 Indiana General Assembly. Architects are Edward L. Barnes of New York and James Associates of Indianapolis. The Glenroy Construction Co. is directing general construction; mechanical contractor is the Frank E. Irish Co., and the electrical contractor is Ermco Electric Co.

* * *

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE & SOMETIMES WHY

Display -- Pharmacy displays this week in University Hospital will be Squibb & Co. on Monday and Upjohn & Co. on Wednesday. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Biochemical I -- "Insulin Enhancement of Plasma Membrane Phosphoprotein Phosphatase," Biochemistry Seminar by Dr. Camellia Sobhy, NIH fellow with the biochemistry department; Medical Science Building, Room 205, 2 p.m. Monday.

Drama -- Tennessee Williams's "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" will be on stage Monday through Saturday at the I.U. Auditorium in Bloomington. Tickets are $3.50 for the 8 p.m. performances.

Digging In -- The ground-breaking ceremonies for the Education-Social Work Building will commence at noon Tuesday at the southeast corner of the Lecture Hall. All faculty, staff and students are invited.

Ultrasonic -- "Ultrasonic Non-Destructive Testing," Ultrasound Research Laboratories Seminar by Reginald C. Eggleton, professor of surgical research with ICFAR; University Hospital, Room C303, 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Downtown -- The second annual Governor's Conference on Downtown Revitalization is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday at the Convention-Exposition Center.

Remember New Hampshire? -- Robert V. Kirch, professor of political science, will tackle "The Importance of the New Hampshire Primary" during a roundtable discussion Wednesday at 11:30 a.m. in Cavanaugh Hall, Room 144. All interested persons are invited to the informal session sponsored by the Student Political Science Association. For information, call Ext. 7387.

Answers -- "The Search for Solutions," a three-film series-in-one, will be shown Wednesday at noon in Cavanaugh Hall, Room 129. Sponsored by the School of Education and the IUPUI Honors Council, the showing includes three 20-minute films: "Adaptation," "Trial and Error" and "Context."

At IMA -- Miniature paintings from northern and central India feature bold color and detailed religious symbolism in the exhibition "The Classical Tradition in Rajput Painting" which opens Thursday at the Indianapolis Museum of Art. The exhibition, on display through April 13, provides the focus for the spring "Arts Alive" education program at the museum.

Spring Meeting -- The Combined Faculty/Staff Meeting for this spring will be held Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the Champions Room of the Indianapolis Sports Center (tennis stadium). Arthur G. Hansen, president of Purdue University, will be the guest speaker and a reception will follow.

Bard -- The Repertory Theater at the Christian Theological Seminary will present Shakespeare's "Macbeth" starting Thursday and continuing for a three-weekend run. For ticket and price information, call 923-1516.

Biochemical II -- "Initiation of Adenovirus DNA Replication," Biochemistry Special Seminar by Dr. George Pearson from Oregon State University; Medical Science Building, Room 326, Friday at noon.

Coming Up -- "Force Transients in Stretched Smooth Muscle: Are Sliding Filaments Involved?", Physiology Seminar by Dr. Richard Meiss, Medical Science Building, Room 205, 4 p.m. Monday (March 10).

* * *

HERRON STUDENTS TAKE CENTER STAGE

The "1980 Student Show" -- a wide variety of works in a range of studies from the freshmen, sophomores and juniors at the Herron School of Art -- opens March 14 at 7 p.m. with a public reception in the Herron Gallery at the school.

Represented in the first three years of the students' art experiences is the Freshman Foundation Program, a carefully coordinated year of diversified study which serves as a basis for all future work. Paintings, prints, drawings, sculpture, woodworking, ceramics, photography and graphic design represent the second- and third-year students. These works exhibit the sophomore and junior artists' aesthetic considerations and technical abilities in their particular major.

The student show, which runs through April 11, approaches the traditional and non-traditional processes focusing on Herron's bachelor of fine arts degree. The exhibit will present more than 240 works collected from students in the BFA program.

Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday (till 9 p.m. on Wednesday).

* * *

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

At Kokomo -- Hugh Lee Thompson, president of the Detroit Institute of Technology since 1977, has been named chancellor of I.U. at Kokomo, effective August 1.

Order Now -- The time to order academic apparel for the IUPUI commencement on May 11 is now -- or before March 14. The university will pay the cost for the caps and gowns for all attending faculty members, if your order is received in the Alumni Office by March 14. (After that, a late charge of $2 will be added.) For more information, call Ext. 8828.

Queen -- IUPUI's 1980 homecoming queen is Kathy Witter, a junior in the School of Physical Education.

Grant -- Dean Leonard Schneiderman of the School of Social Work has announced that the school has received a $350,000 research grant from the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect, HEW. The three-year research project will be directed by Elizabeth Navarre, associate professor, and will explore the relationship between quality of care and organizational factors in institutional child care. The project will involve the administrative and service staffs of participating public and private residential child care institutions.

Scholarship -- Applications are now available for the John Berry Memorial Scholarship which was established last year by his friends and family members to recognize students in the School of Business who have achieved junior standing. Preference is given to students who have a career interest in accounting and/or real estate and who have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0. For more information, call the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aids (Ext. 4162) immediately.

Poster Sessions Anyone? -- It's that time again. The rush is on, so get your requests in early. Medical Illustrations may not be able to get your work done unless you do. Current time needed is 20 working days.

Positions -- Tenure-track position for assistant professor, Ph.D. or demonstration of equivalent scholarly standing, U.S. black and U.S. urban history, starting August 15. Last date for receipt of vitas is April 4. Send to: Professor Bernard Friedman, Department of History, 925 West Michigan Street, Indianapolis 46202. . . At I.U. Northwest: Two full-time faculty positions available in an NLN-accredited associate of science degree program, minimum of master's degree in nursing required, plus previous teaching and clinical experience. Positions available August 18. Send vitae and names of three references to: Professor Marjorie Sloan, Search and Screen Committee, Division of Nursing, I.U. Northwest, Gary, Indiana 46408. Closing date for applications is April 1.

* * *

GETTING Footholds ON THE FUTURE

Resume writing, job hunting, career decision-making and tips on interviewing are the topics of four workshops to be held this month in April and May by the Office of Career Counseling and Placement (OCCP).

The workshop in resume writing will review two basic resume styles -- the chronological and the functional. Also, students' resumes will be critiqued during or after the workshop which will be held March 18, April 14 and May 2.

Trying to find the right job can be frustrating, but the workshop in job hunting will help students develop a job-search strategy. Students will learn how to research a company, get an interview, use a resume, write employment letters and find job openings. It will be offered March 20, April 21 and May 2.

The workshop on careers will present methods of choosing careers that fit individual skills, interests, values and personality traits and will be held March 17, April 8 and May 1.

The final workshop in the series, "Tips on Interviewing Strategy," will be offered March 19, April 17 and May 2. The session will focus on dress and behavior appropriate to the interview, personal salesmanship and role playing to help students interview successfully.

For information and registration, call Ext. 2554.

green sheet

*News Bureau

Indiana University - Purdue University at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202