DEPT. OF HUFFING & PUFFING

It was not a confirmed tornado that swept across the Medical Center campus last week on June 2, but you could hardly tell by looking. Windows were shattered in nine areas of the hospitals and in 15 non-hospital areas, mostly western exposure areas. Affected buildings included the Union Building, Institute of Psychiatric Research, Rotary Building, Medical Science Building, the powerhouse and Purchasing Building. Some 50 windows were lost between the Single Student Dorm and Ball Residence.

The fierce wind and rain also damaged or destroyed 35 trees and knocked down some power lines; three university vehicles wound up with debris in their radiators and five private cars were slightly damaged by falling limbs. Fortunately, no serious injuries were reported.

On a more personal note, a tornado did, in fact, touch down on the city's far east side and totally destroyed the home of Lester Method, a 25-year employee who is currently superintendent of the carpenter shop. (You may have seen the devastation of his home on Page One of the June 3 Indianapolis Star and the photo page of the June 3 Indianapolis News.) The Physical Plant Department has established a Recovery Fund to aid Method. Anyone interested in helping out should contact Dan Moriarity at Ext. 8642.
