The History of the Administrative Department of Indiana University School of Dentistry

By G. Childes, R. Hott, W. Leuenberger, F. Pate, J. Walker

*This is the first of a series of articles, written by members of the freshman class, on the history of various departments.

The administration of any group or any collective endeavor involves the service of many functions and the satisfaction of many needs. Often the final, if not the sole, responsibility for the completion of these administrative duties is delegated to one person, a chief executive.

In a college or school such a person exists; his is the title of dean, and his office is called the deanship. When a man accepts this office, he accepts much of the responsibility and obligation alluded to in the definition of administration. To say that the dean of a school takes all of this upon himself would be unfair to the heads of the school's various departments, to the remainder of its faculty, and even to its students, for it would appear that a provident dean seeks and accepts the advice of all people. However, it is just to state that to the dean are left the tasks of weighing the advice that he receives and from that advice and from his own experience formulating final decisions.

Another of the burdens which an educational dean bears is that of being the representative of his school. His character, his ability, his contributions to an entire field or profession, his decisions, even his personal habits and mannerisms are often closely scrutinized; and from such scrutiny opinions are formulated concerning the school which he serves.

With these facts in mind, we have decided that we can best describe that which is implied by the title of this paper by presenting something of the lives and accomplishments of the various deans of the Indiana University School of Dentistry and its precursor, the Indiana Dental College.

In 1879 the Indiana Dental Association

appointed a committee to start setting up plans for a dental college. A circular letter to the dentists of the state asked them to convene in Indianapolis in the office of Dr. W. L. Heiskell, 76½ E. Market Street. The men came in considerable number and made a start by appointing a committee to draft articles of association. At a second meeting these articles were adopted and a board of trustees was selected as follows: W. L. Heiskell, President; M. H. Chappel, Vice-President; J. E. Cravens, Secretary; Merit Wells, Treasurer; P. G. C. Hunt; S. T. Kirk; S. M. Goode; W. M. Herriott; F. Hutchinson. Dr. Phineas G. C. Hunt was chosen to be dean and was asked to take the lead in organizing a faculty. Thus the Indiana Dental College, the ninth dental college to be organized in the United States, was formed.¹

Phineas George Canning Hunt, who was to become the first dean, was born in Champaign County, Ohio, on July 16, 1827. His family moved to Indiana in 1830, and after his father died in 1833 he attended school in Wayne County during the winter. His summers were spent working on a farm.

At the age of 19 Phineas entered, as an apprentice, the office of his brother David Hunt. David Hunt was the second dentist to practice in the city of Indianapolis, and when David died in 1846 Phineas assumed the full duties of the office.

Dr. Phineas Hunt was one of the earlier dentists to invite his professional colleagues into his office and he freely disclosed his technical methods. At this time it had been the custom for dentists to keep their own method secret.

Dr. Hunt was among the first members of the American Dental Association and served as its president in 1872.

When the Indiana Dental College was founded, Dr. Hunt became the president of the board of trustees and the first dean, serving from 1879-1882.²

The second dean was Dr. George Edwin Hunt, the son of the first dean. Dr. George Hunt, who held both the D.D.S. and M.D. degrees, was a native of Indianapolis. Born in 1864, he has been described as a great man, educator, editor, and essayist. Dr. Hunt was graduated from the Indiana Dental College in 1890 and was a member of its faculty from 1891 until his death in 1914. He served as dean for fifteen of those twenty-three years, from 1899 until the day of his death. George E. Hunt was the editor of two journals, Oral Hygiene and The Indiana Dental Journal, and was the author of many articles treating the subjects of dental education, general dentistry, and mouth hygiene.³

Dr. Hunt brought honor to himself and to his school while serving in various official capacities of state, national, and international dental organizations. He was the secretary of the Indiana State Dental Association for seven years and its president for one. From 1895 until 1912 he was the secretary of the National Association of Dental Faculties, its vice-president in 1913 and that organization's president when he died. Dr. Hunt was the vice-president of the National Dental Association for two years, 1906 and 1907, and was the vice-president of the Fourth International Dental Congress which convened in the year 1904.⁴

At his death, Dr. Hunt was much eulogized. A memorial resolution was adopted by the Indianapolis Dental Society and stated in the *Journal of the Indiana State Dental Association*⁵ and the American Dental Journal.⁶ Another memorial statement, apparently authored by the editor of the Journal, appeared in the Pacific Dental Gazette.⁷

The third dean, Frederick Henshaw, was born in Alexandria, Indiana, October 8, 1872. He graduated from the high school in Anderson and also from the Central Normal College at Danville, Indiana. He began his professional career as a school teacher. After teaching for a few years he matriculated to the Indiana Dental College in September, 1894, and graduated from the same institution in 1897.

Dr. Henshaw located at Middletown for fourteen years and later moved his office to 507-8 Pythian Building in Indianapolis, Indiana. He was selected in 1897 to serve as vice-president of the Eastern Indiana Dental Society. In 1898 he was elected secretary of the Indiana State Dental Association, a position which he held for two years. He was also active in many other societies.

On July 18, 1914, Dr. Henshaw was selected to be dean of the Indiana Dental College, thus succeeding Dr. George E. Hunt.⁸

Dr. Henshaw died on May 27, 1938, leaving his estate for the sole use and benefit of the Indiana University School of Dentistry, which he had piloted so successfully during his many years of service.⁹

David A. House graduated from the Indiana Dental College in 1896 and then joined the teaching staff the following year. During Dr. Henshaw's service in World War 1, Dr. House was the acting dean of the dental college. He was affiliated with the Indiana University School of Dentistry until his death in 1933.¹⁰

Dr. Gerald D. Timmons, the fifth dean of the dental school, was born in Valparaiso, Indiana, on August 9, 1897. His first connection with the dental school was when he enrolled as a student in 1921. It was in his senior year that the stock of Indiana Dental College was purchased by Indiana University and became the Indiana University School of Dentistry. In 1926, only a year after his graduation he was asked to join the teaching staff of the dental school. Dr. Timmons was practicing dentistry and teaching until 1931 when he became a full-time staff member.

It was only a short time later that Dr. Timmons was appointed assistant to Dr. Frederick Henshaw, who was dean of the dental school at that time. During his assistantship to the dean the plan for the construction of the present school building was put into effect. The building was completed in 1933.

When Dr. Henshaw became ill in 1935, Dr. Timmons was appointed acting dean and remained so until Dean Henshaw's recovery in 1936. Two years later he was again appointed acting dean upon the death of Dr. Henshaw.¹¹ He served in the capacity of dean until 1940, when Dr. W. H. Crawford was appointed dean of the dental school.

He resigned from the staff and has lead a colorful life since. He has held several positions with the American Dental Association and served as dean of Temple University School of Dentistry. Dr. Timmons also held a position with the American Association of Dental Schools.¹² At one time he served as an adviser to the Selective System. He is one of the persons responsible for students being able to finish their schooling before being drafted. In the past several years Dr. Timmons has received several honorary degrees in gratitude for his accomplishments and contributions to the dental profession.¹³

Minnesota was the home state of Dr. William H. Crawford, where he was born in 1899.¹⁴ All of his early schooling took place in Minnesota, and he later entered the University of Minnesota School of Dentistry and graduated in 1923. After practicing for less than a year he accepted a post at the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry. In 1928 he was appointed to a position on the staff of Columbia University Dental School. Here he continued his work on dental materials and later was recognized as an authority in that field.¹⁴

In 1939 he was selected to be the new dean of the dental school and take charge of the post that had been vacated by Dr. Henshaw's death, and at that time was held by Dr. Timmons. His term of deanship actually started in 1940. While here at Indiana Dr. Crawford advanced the prosthetic division of dentistry and the dental materials research a great deal.¹⁵

It was in 1944 that Dean Crawford's administration appointed Dr. Maynard K. Hine to be the first full-time professor of periodontia and histo-pathology, and who soon was to be the next dean of the dental school.¹⁶

The next year, 1945, Dean Crawford turned in his resignation to assume a similar post at the University of Minnesota, from which he had graduated. His loss was felt by the whole school since under his leadership the school had made strides forward. While under his administration the school rose from a national standing of twenty-eight to a national standing of sixth. This alone demonstrates his organizing and administrative ability.¹⁷

The present dean of this school is Dr. Maynard K. Hine. A native of Indiana, Dr. Hine attended the University of Illinois School of Dentistry from which he received the D.D.S. degree in 1930 and an M.S. degree in 1932.¹⁸ He practiced dentistry for a short time after graduation, then spent two years at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry as a Rockefeller Fellow in Dentistry. Dr. Hine subsequently returned to the University of Illinois as an associate professor in and head of the Division of Oral Pathology.¹⁹

In 1944 Dr. Hine came to the Indiana University School of Dentistry as its first full-time professor of periodontia and histo-pathology.²⁰ Then in 1945, as stated in an "I.U.S.D. Alumni Bulletin," "Dr. Maynard K. Hine, professor of periodontia and histo-pathology at the Indiana University School of Dentistry, became dean July first, succeeding Dr. William H.

Dean Hine reports that...

It is pleasing to report that the 1955 graduating class is one of the largest and most talented that Indiana University has ever graduated. Because of the number of special students from foreign countries, seventy-seven were recommended to receive the Doctor of Dental Surgery Degree on June 13. These graduates took state board examinations in sixteen states and then approximately one-third of them headed for the Armed Forces.

During the annual meeting of the Indiana State Dental Association more than the usual number of class reunions were held this year and I was pleased that I was able to attend many of them. Class reunions are becoming more and more popular each year, and it was indeed enjoyable to listen to the reminiscing that was going on at each of the meetings. The Class of 1930 completed a project which is worthy of mention. Through the activities of Dr. Harry Meyer, Dr. Charles Everett, Dr. Floyd Lytle, Dr. Sylvester Schmid and others, a generous amount of money was collected and given to the dental school. This money will be used to build up the dental museum that we are assembling. Credit will be given to the Class of 1930 for their contributions.

The annual Honors Day program for the dental school was held in the new Student Union Building on May 3 of this year and proved to be a very enjoyable occasion. We would like to have more alumni attend this function since it gives everyone an opportunity to honor the graduating class. This year the Student A.D.A. purchased for the dental school a beautiful punch bowl to be used for the occasional social functions that we hold in our library. The gift and the thoughtfulness behind it are most appreciated.

It is also pleasant to be able to report that the Interfraternity Council has been effective the past two or three years in controlling fraternity activities. One of their projects this year was to purchase a scholarship plaque to be awarded each year to the fraternity which earns the highest scholastic average. This year the plaque was awarded to Alpha Omega fraternity, with Xi Psi Phi earning honorable mention. This plaque, which is illustrated here, will be the property of Alpha Omega for the next year, and will be placed on display wherever the fraternity desires.

It is pleasant to report that graduate and postgraduate activities continue to expand in the dental school. It will be noticed elsewhere in this issue that there are many courses offered next year for graduate dentists; we hope it will be possible for everyone to attend at least some of them.

It is not so pleasant to report that Dr. Ert Rogers of our faculty is approaching retirement, although we can admit he has earned a good rest. Dr. Rogers is to be honored at our annual alumni meeting in Bloomington next fall, and we hope sincerely that all alumni and friends will come out to pay respects to Ert, who all agree is one of the most loyal, faithful teachers Indiana University School of Dentistry has ever had.

We can also report at this time that the 1955 freshman class is almost completely selected and apparently is going to be a good class. More applications were made for this class than for the last two or three years.

Annual Dental Alumni Conference

The fall Dental Alumni Conference will be held this year, Friday, September 23 and Saturday, September 24 on the Bloomington campus. A grand program is being planned with registration starting at 10 a.m. on Friday, September 23.

First, there is the men's football luncheon on Friday noon with Bernie Crimmins speaking. Then, on Friday afternoon Dr. John Buhler, Dean of Emery Dental School, and Dr. M. O. Ross, President of Butler University, will be speaking to us. Mr. Louie Throgmorton, Public Relations Director of the National Republic Insurance Company from Dallas, Texas, will be the principal speaker for the Friday night banquet. Also of much interest during the banquet will be the recognition of the retirement of Dr. Ert

J. Rogers from the University. Later, will be the usual entertainment by Dr. Norvelle at the Little Theater on campus. On Saturday morning there will be a round table discussion headed by Drs. Boyd and Patterson from the dental school. Saturday afternoon is the football game between I. U. and Michigan State.

A good program is being planned also for the ladies starting with a luncheon on Friday noon and more entertainment at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Indications are that we will have a record attendance, and arrangements are being made to accommodate all who wish to come and spend the entire week end.

Alumni Notes

Mrs. Cleona Harvey, Recorder

Mrs. Cleona Harvey, Recorder of I.U.S.D., receiving farewell "alohas" at the International Airport as she left Honolulu following a vacation there. Included in the group are several former graduates and their wives: Dr. and Mrs. Maesaka, Dr. and Mrs. Nakamori, and Dr. and Mrs. Sakurai. Also present were the parents of Dr. Sanford Asahina of the Class of 1954, Dr. and Mrs. Noboru Asahina and daughter, Betty, and Evelyn Crabtree, former dental assistant in Riley Hospital.

Many of the Alumni will remember that I took a leave of absence during the winter and spent it in Hawaii for my health. I am happy to report I am much improved. I can't resist taking this opportunity to tell you a little more about my wonderful time there and the gracious hospitality of the dental alums. As you will note from the above picture, most of them were out to bid me "aloha" as I left for the States January 25.

Prior to my departure I had the pleasure of visiting high up on Tantalus mountain with Dr. and Mrs. Sakurai and from their lovely home we could view all of Honolulu as it lay stretched out before our eyes—wonderful!

Then, too, I enjoyed the gracious hospitality of the Wahiawa home of Dr. and Mrs. Maesaka. They lived up in the pineapple country and almost next door to Schofield Barracks where the 25th Division returned just a short time after I landed in Hawaii. If anyone wants pineapple when they get to Hawaii be sure to see Dr. Maesaka as he gets them ripe from the field—such beautiful country.

Dr. and Mrs. Nakimora had a farewell dinner in my honor in their picturesque Japanese Room bordered on two sides by his orchid greenhouses—over 500 plants and they were a sight to see. The box of them I am holding in the picture is proof. All of the I.U. men were there except Dr. Sanford Asahina but he was ably represented by his parents and sisters. I was presented with a beautiful Monkey Pod salad bowl with fork and spoon, and a similar gift given to me to present to Dean Hine. It was indeed an occasion long to be remembered.

Mrs. Asahina, whose many kindnesses to me shall never be forgotten, took me to visit the Strong Carter Dental Clinic. I was very happy to get to meet Dr. Dawe and his fine assistants and enjoyed visiting the clinic where several of our graduates have interned. It is doing a wonderful work on the Island of Oahu and the visit was one of the highlights of my tour.

As I close this little resume may I again urge all who can to visit Hawaii and make or renew acquaintance with these grand folk who are staunch supporters of I.U.S.D.

And now just a word of thanks to all of you dear people who remembered me with a Christmas Greeting—space will not permit me to acknowledge them individually—but it was pretty wonderful to arrive Stateside and have all that mail waiting for me.

Ready for the news from each class? Here we go—

Class of 1892

From Dr. Arthur T. White, 117 East Colorado Street, Pasadena 1, California, "Just perused the February edition. It is an interesting hour. Just saw Powell ('92) letter. He is still a spry old kid, we have a pow wow once in a while, reminiscing about the old days. Hunt, and Kimberlin, M.D., and Henshaw, and Nymman, and Lucas and Kibler both of whom, I believe, are hoping for avocadoes to sustain them if they ever grow old. Me I started my 64th year at the chair last March 1. All is well. Kindest to any one who might be interested. Keep Indiana at the top of the heap".

Class of 1903

We were pleased to have Dr. M. M. House visit us and attend the meeting of the Indiana State Dental Association May 15-17.

Class of 1904

Dr. O. T. LaGrange, Corner Main and Jefferson Streets, Franklin, Indiana, has this to say, "I just returned from a visit with my classmate, Dr. E. R. Oberlin, Tampa, Florida—Class of '04. The doctor's health is only fair—but he puts in five hours in his office each day 5 days a week—has more than he can do. Still puts out some very fine cast gold dentures and some fixed bridges. I took the Mrs. and drove the round trip of 2560 miles. Didn't think I could do it but did it without any bad results. Now it is hard to get back to work. Dr. E. R. sent his regards to you and the dental school. Also a few samples of teeth he saved. Notice the color of the southern teeth and the color of mine—very unusual teeth to extract."

Class of 1913

From Havana, Cuba, a note from Dr. Raul N. Montero of 3rd Avenue #8810—76 y 78, Playa Miramar, "I intend to go to Indianapolis on a short visit. I belong to 1913 graduates, Xi Psi Fraternity, and only once was able to go back there many years ago. I need some information on time to make my plans. Please let me know about date Commencement would take place and if some alumni will be there by that time . . ." Needless to say we wrote and encouraged him to come and we would try to find some alums with whom he could have a good visit.

Class of 1924

Dr. H. L. Forber, 145 Cherry Street, Phillips, Wisconsin, writes that he is quite interested in going to California to live because of Mrs. Forber's health.

Class of 1926

Some interesting news from Dr. H. K. Maesaka, 509 Olive Avenue, Wahiawa, Oahu, Hawaii, bringing us up to date on his activities, "I am leaving for Hong Kong and Japan on March 18 or 20 on Japan Air Line. I am going over for business and pleasure. I am making this tour to Hong Kong and Japan to look over the place and make a report to my company for future tour places and also to get some souvenirs for myself." (Dr. Maesaka is vice-president of Kirkpatrick Travel Agency as well as being a very busy dentist). "Yes, Mrs. Harvey, I was fortunate to be elected president of the Japanese Dental Society of the Island of Oahu. We have a membership of about 85 dentists. In Japan I have to meet the president of the Tokyo Dental Society and extend to them invitations to attend the dental convention which we will have in July on the Island. I have also to be a good-will ambassador for my Rotary Club . . . I will be gone for about 45 to 60 days".

Class of 1928

Dr. William O'Hara, P. O. Box 372, Waipahu, Hawaii, writes, "Am glad to hear from you and am happy to hear you enjoyed your visit out here. I am glad to hear that you liked the Monkey Pod souvenir . . . Give my aloha to all my classmates".

Class of 1935

When Dr. Stone—Comdr. Arthur Stone, U.S.S. Columbus (CA 74) c/o Fleet Post Office, New York, New York, wrote us in March he had completed a five month's cruise of the Mediterranean and sent us some very interesting information concerning his ship, etc. It seems they traveled 26,835 miles, visited 11 ports, and in general had a very fine trip.

Class of 1937

A note from Major Alfred D. Milteer, Dental Clinic #1-B, Camp Gordon, Georgia, gave us some information concerning a predental student who has been one of the enlisted men in the dental corps assigned to Dr. Milteer as an assistant in prosthetics. It seems that Dr. Milteer "sold him on Indiana University" and we appreciate his interest and the information concerning this young man.

Class of 1943

Dr. David Ferrell was recently awarded the Master of Science degree from Ohio State University.

Class of 1945

Dr. Hugh Deale with his wife and six children sailed on April 7 for Belgium, where they will study French for six months. They will go on to the Belgian Congo next fall. Dr. Deale was a dental missionary in the same area from 1948 to 1953 and he says "unless something unexpected arises, we probably will continue in this work indefinitely." The Deale's address in Belgium is: Bureau des Missions Protestantes, 5 Rue du Champ-de-Mars, Brussels. After six months it will be: Minga, M.M.C.C., via Lusambo, Belgian Congo, Africa.

Class of 1946

In February Major Charles C. Alling, U.S. Army, William Beaumont Army Hospital, El Paso, Texas, wrote Dean Hine as follows: "I thought the enclosed reprint might interest you momentarily on its way to your circular file! I remember very clearly your council and guidance and the first article I had published in the Dental Digest . . . All is going well with me professionally, and I am enjoying my role in the rotating internship at this hospital. I have about five hours with the interne group on a lecture basis every week in which I cover oral diagnosis, pathology and surgery. In addition the internes rotate through this oral surgery section as my assistant for a three-months period. We are planning a trip back to Indiana in the spring of 1956, and I am looking forward to seeing you and the school again, at that time."

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Becker of 7 Alden Road, Marblehead, Massachusetts, announce the birth of Charles Andrew, March 24, 1955.

Dr. William Croxton has opened an office in Lafayette, Indiana, for the practice of dentistry for children. He is also completing work on his M.S.D. degree in Pedodontics at I.U.S.D.

Dr. Charles L. Howell writes, "We are planning on returning to Indianapolis sometime around the middle of August"— as most of you know he has been in Washington, D.C., for the past two years with his address at 3914 Keller Avenue, Alexandria, Virginia.

Dr. Bertram H. Kotin is now living at 13439 Riverside Drive, Apartment D., Sherman Oaks, California.

Among those who are being called upon to assist in career day programs is Dr. Raleigh L. Phillips, David Trust Building, Brazil, Indiana, who said, "Would you please send me 20 booklets concerning the requirements for admission to the school of dentistry and also an outline of the various subjects taken each year while a student in the school of dentistry. These are for the senior students at the various high schools in Clay County who are interested in considering dentistry as a career."

Class of 1948

News from Dr. Thomas Boyd at Christmas time was "please extend our best Yuletide Wishes to all our friends at I.U.S.D. Our daughter is really 7½ months of pep and curiosity with apparent admiration for everyone. We're heading for the great Hoosier state in mid-February sometime and quite elated over the fact that our two years is about over". We are happy to report that Dr. Boyd is now associated with the Athletic Department as their dentist on the Bloomington Campus and his office address is 401 N. Jordan Avenue.

Dr. Bert W. Gilbert of 926 Carraway Street, Tallahassee, Florida, sent the following news, "I just returned from Florida State meeting in Jacksonville, where Dean Hine was the featured clinician. He did his usual splendid job, and it was very pleasant meeting him and Mrs. Hine again. The first person I saw after I got to Jacksonville was Phil Whisler, who is practicing in Largo, Florida. I hadn't seen Phil since we graduated in 1948 and it was good to see him again."

Class of 1950

Dr. Ralph E. Laybold, 2348 Wabash Avenue, Terre Haute, Indiana, had the misfortune to lose his diploma during a move. He wrote for another and we told him for the sum of $5.00 he could have a duplicate. He answered, "I am certainly happy to learn that I do not have to go back to Dental School for four more years to get a new diploma . . . I do not have any recent Alumni Bulletin news at this time. I have two daughters age 3½ years and 19 months."

A note from Dr. Paul R. Pirtle, R. R. #2, Box 402, Princess Anne, Virginia, tells us he is still with the Federal Public Health Service.

Dr. J. F. Simmonds, 1092 Broadway, Anderson, Indiana, did something very unusual as told in his letter of March 1 to Dean Hine and I quote, "I am very interested in the P.G. course in oral surgery but find that it is a little short notice for this ole appointment book of mine. Will the course be offered again this year? I would definitely sign up for it if it should happen to fall on any date after August. I am scheduled to go to Las Vegas about the middle of April to gain what knowledge I can about handling mass casualties after an A-bomb attack, to view a test shot, and probably get some more schooling on Civil Defense from the dentists' viewpoint . . . I attended the course recently in Maryland at the Staff College, which course was for dentists only, and find that dentists are going to be in extreme demand as auxiliary physicians in case of such a disaster as an A-bomb attack, and discovered also that the closer the area is to the ocean the more dentists from that area enrolled in the course. People in the coastal cities are getting quite concerned. Met the dentist that was present at Schofield barracks during the Pearl Harbor attack—he had much to say about what a dentist really can do if he has to—and heard a report from a naval officer on how the dentists, and dentists only, handled the casualties on the U.S.S. Bennington in its recent disaster."

Class of 1951

Dr. George Cunningham gives us his new address as 10913 South Maidstone, Norwalk, California.

Class of 1952

Captain Elmer T. Duncan, 6022nd U.S.A.F. Hospital, APO 994, San Francisco, California, sends, "Greetings from the Far East. It seems I never get around to any correspondence with you or your office except when help is needed. As you remember I accepted a regular commission, completed an internship at Fitzsimmons Army Hospital, took some short administrative courses, and have since been assigned overseas near Tokyo, Japan. I have been doing prosthetic work since arriving this station, and after 18 months feel I am rendering a reasonable service. We have two study clubs in this area wherein we concentrate on Prosthetics, Oral Surgery, and Clinical Photography. We have a small five-man laboratory with C.D.L. service available. The work is very enjoyable because I am able to see, without interference, just what I can do. I enjoy the unlimited challenges of the field. We have several Prosthetic Board men in the area who are very helpful to us neophytes. . . . I often think of you and the school in a smug manner being glad to have been associated with such a group of people . . . I feel very well equipped with the profession's fundamentals when I work each day with people from schools all over the country."

Dr. Alvin Grayson stopped in a few minutes just while we were typing this column to say hello as he is on his way to France—where he expects to be stationed for about two years. He looks fine and reports he has gained, beside a wife, about 20 pounds.

Dr. Aponte (1st/Lt. Rafael) of 376 Tactical Hospital, Barksdale AFB, Louisiana, reports he expects to take the Puerto Rico State Board in August.

I had a lovely card from Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Applegate and to my horror I have lost the address—hope they see this and send it to me. Mrs. Applegate wrote "Dr. Applegate has been in private practice since last February and hopes his own office will be ready for occupancy in early January. We're glad to be taking the plunge, and are reasonably optimistic. Dr. Helmick is happily settled in Covina, California—they now have two sons. Dr. Houck is still with V.A.—they also have two sons."

Class of 1953

Dr. Loftus Brown announces the opening of his office for the general practice of dentistry at corner Tindall and Woods End Roads, Middletown, New Jersey.

From Washington, D. C., comes a letter from Dr. W. E. Peet, "For the past two years I have been assigned to Walter Reed Army Hospital. My tour of duty will be terminated as of September 30, 1955. I have been practicing in the Operative section, Dental Service, and have been doing the endodontia. I feel I have gained a great deal of experience and would like to continue to work and learn in the field of endodontics."

Class of 1954

Dr. J. Oscar Levia gives his new address as 3a. Avenue #13-76, Guatemala, C. A.

A change of address for Dr. Hugh Snyder: Lt. Jg. H. P. Snyder (DC) 572784 USNR, Gen. G. M. Randall TAP 115, F.P.O. New York, N.Y. At the time we received this information Dr. Snyder's ship was scheduled to leave Seattle for New York via the Panama Canal. They had just finished training maneuvers at San Diego and while there he spent some

FRESHMAN CLASS

At this writing, the time is not long till we, the freshman dental class, will no longer be the "greenest horns" in the field of dentistry. In fact, one week and four final examinations are all that separate us from the status of "sophomores". For the most part, we have worked hard, but yet, at the same time, we have not failed to enjoy ourselves.

As far as class activities, the functions in which we participated this semester were "rushing" by the dental fraternities and our spring dance. We all enjoyed the "rush" parties at Indianapolis and in every case, a good time was shown the class by the upper-classmen of the fraternities. Our spring dance was held at the Van Orman—Graham Hotel on May 20th, and was attended by the entire class and their dates. Everyone had a good time at this, our last get-together of the year.

Since our first semester, the class has become less tense and, at the same time, more fully cognizant of our individual capabilities. This, added to the fact that we all are anxious to move on to Indianapolis, has seemingly made this second semester more enjoyable for everyone.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

As September, 1954, came uneventful so came a group of sixty-odd, brand-new, wide-eyed sophomores. Eagerness was a symbol of endeavor as they realized they were about to enter into a world of dentistry, quite apart from the basic medical courses of Bloomington. They came; they saw; they learned many basic techniques which they realized would be fully appreciated and relied upon as they become "clinic bound" in September, 1955.

The social whirl actually began before school as about ten couples met at Michigan City on Lake Michigan for a three day funfest on September fifth. The interum between this was filled with individual stags and parties at the various fraternities and with impromptu affairs until on December fifteenth was held one of the most spectacular and entertaining dinner-dances. Held at the Delta Sig house on Central the entire class with wives and sweethearts danced and dined away a wonderful evening. This was one of the first affairs under the leadership of the new sophomore class officers;

Herb Tietzer, President; Ed Molenda, Vice-President; Von Miller; Treasurer; and Pat Craven, Secretary.

A sophomore laden dental school roundball team succeeded in gaining the final game of the Medical Center tournament before succumbing to a "ringer" laden medical school team. Played at the Marion College gym, before a very sizable crowd, the audience was more than profound and impressed at the large following and enthusiasm displayed by the dental team followers.

With the sophomore year nearing its close, the air is filled with expectancy of the clinic years ahead. To say the least we are apprehensive . . . but confident that all the incomprehensible items we have learned this past year will, with orderliness, fall in place and another step gained toward our day of graduation.

Class functions do not have a way of ending with the closing of the school year. Many group parties and outings are being planned this summer in all parts of the state to tide over the summer and this is the proper place to extend an unlimited invitation to all alumni in these areas to join us. You will be the honored guests of the new junior class of the Indiana University School of Dentistry.

JUNIOR CLASS

Lament of a Junior Student

Gold foils are scarce
Partials can't be found
Dentures never go
And bridges don't go down

Instruments disappear
Seniors act naive
Just exposed a pulp
And is my patient peeved

Lines are quite long
For just a piece of wax
Forget your requisition?
Should've stayed in the sack

Drex and Frank and John
Are all great boys no doubt
But when it comes to giving grades

Schools out!

Pulp exposures, rubber dam
Are to us no great shock

And particularly that saying
"Let's finish up doc—tuh"

First appointment, second appointment
Enlarge all the while
Holy cow, I just remembered
I sealed in my file

Primaries, secondaries
Border trimming, try ins
But when it comes to delivery
"Did the right patient come in?"

Extract them, remove 'em
Extirpate them, extrude 'em
But whatever you do
Don't say "pull 'em"

Scale them, polish them
Polish them, then scale them
And when you've done it fifteen times
Then go ahead and extract them

And so we leave the Junior year
And look toward our "gulp" senior year
We say au revoir to our technique
And for board patients go and seek.

SENIOR CLASS

The final semester for the class of 1955 is nearing its end. This fact poses a problem for many of us since it means that all required work must be finished with no possibility of catching up "next semester". Needless to say the clinic resounds daily with final gold foil pounding and hearts break with each bridge that fails to go to proper seat. It is the final flurry of academic activity before we face the public.

Again, this year's graduating class is sending a top-heavy percentage of its members to the armed forces. Our very best wishes go with them.

Most equipment demonstrations are over and most everyone has an idea of what type is to grace their offices. The supply firms, as usual, have given us a very good look at the equipment and supplies which are available. For this we are grateful and appreciative.

Everyone was properly nervous for the mock state board practical held May 12 and 13. There are a few of us who feel that Friday the 13th and a class III gold foil were an unhappy combination, to say the least. However, it is past and it is hoped that much good will come from the experience.

Activities which still remain on the calendar are the annual Eli Lilly inspection trip and dinner, and the traditional Razz banquet. The Lilly trip and dinner are considered among the high points of the senior year. Of course, the Razz banquet is a fitting climax of the four year association of seniors and faculty.

We are glad to have our final year come to its close. However, we profoundly regret the ending of some of the satisfying close associations formed during the past four years.

The senior class would like to take this final opportunity to express appreciation to the entire faculty and assisting staff for all the assistance tendered us during our school years. It is our hope that we be able to bring credit to them and to Indiana University School of Dentistry as we develop our careers.

PSI OMEGA

Following a beautiful buffet dinner given by Mrs. Guthrie Carr of Lafayette, mother of Kelley Carr, the active chapter of Psi Omega Fraternity held its March election of officers. The results of the elections were as follows: George T. Jancosek, Grand Master; Don Lahrman, Junior-Grand Master; Ronald Hauswald, Secretary; John Stamper, Treasurer.

After an active rush program during the months of April and May, the pledges and outgoing senior members were honored at an annual Hawaiian dance on May 21. Pledge pins and recognition certificates were issued at this time. The evening was highlighted by the music of the Montgomery-Johnson Quintet. A happy time was had by all.

With graduation approaching rather hurriedly, the spotlight was thrown on the senior members of the fraternity. A lawn party was given by Dr. J. Frank Hall of Indianapolis on June 7 in their behalf. The party, attended by all active members, was sparked by smell and taste of food barbecued with Dr. Hall's own personal touch. Dr. Hall, who is the Chief of Staff of Oral Surgeons at Indianapolis General Hospital and Secretary of the Psi Omega Alumni Association, has shown a highly appreciated interest in the activities of the active chapter.

Plans for the summer months include the arrangement of social and educational programs for the coming year. The slower pace of activities will also allow time for the interior and exterior redecorating of both the main chapter house and annex. All members and pledges are looking forward to an active and successful school year.

DELTA SIGMA DELTA

Once again the doors are about to swing closed on another successful year at Delta Sigma Delta. This has also been a year equally blessed with scholarship endeavor, as well as many social functions. We began the year under the capable leadership of Floyd Hale, with a great deal of assistance from our fine faculty advisor, Dr. Frank Denny.

It was not long after school commenced that the thoughts of a good ole "Delta Sig" dance was on our minds. In the first week of October our first dance was held. As usual, our big initiation formal dance in December was held this year with a fine turnout. A class of thirteen was initiated on Sunday, December 10. Other noteworthy events to follow during the year was our rush week-end, April 29-30. On Friday night our "stag" party was held and several very nice clinics were presented by Doctors Boyd, Hutton, and Wilson. Saturday our dance was held and attended by a large number from Bloomington. Sunday, May 15, was the day that initiation was held for the seniors to leave the ranks of the undergraduate and enter the graduate chapter. Many loyal Delta Sigs were present to witness the event. The ceremony was followed by a dinner at the Highland Country Club at which one hundred-twenty couples attended.

Not only have we been socially active, but some of the fellows have proven that they are still athletically inclined. Several of the brothers were on the dental school basketball team which was runner-up in the Indiana Union Basketball Tournament. They won a nice trophy for the school.

In the field of activities, three out of the four officers in the sophomore class were held by Delta Sigs. Herb Tietzer was elected president, Edward Molenda, vice-president, and Pat Craven, secretary. Floyd Hale occupied the position of president of the Junior A. D. A. and Fred Fillmore, a junior, was elected president of the Indiana Student Union. We might also add that Fred has a four-piece band which plays very fine music at the Union dances.

Elections were held in April with the results of a fine group to lead our house next year. John Williams was elected president; Don Stroud, vice-president; John Mathews, treasure; John Ames, secretary; Gene Fryar, senior page; Dick Myers, junior page; John Morfus, tyler; and your's truly as historian. Dr. Denny will retire this year as deputy and Floyd Hale, who will be on the staff at Indiana University in the prosthetics department, will be our new deputy.

We might add a note of interest for the class of '57 that plans are being drawn up for a new house. It is tentative that the new house will be ready to open in the fall of '57. I can truly say that the graduate chapter has shown much interest and a word of thanks should go to them for the help they have given us this year.

Time has certainly whizzed by this year, and with only one week until finals, we all find ourselves unprepared. And with this, I bid you adieu.

Robert H. Owens

ALPHA OMEGA

Alpha Omega, Alpha Gamma chapter, has just concluded one of its most successful years. This year's Senior Farwell honored our three graduates—Lewis Benjamin, Norman Glassman and Jerry Shulman. Lew is opening his office in Beech Grove; Norm is entering the Air Force; Jerry is the property of the Navy. Norm and Jerry are leaving us as expectant fathers.

At the Senior Farewell Alpha Omega honored Dr. Ert Rogers, who, after many years as a teacher and friend, is retiring.

Dr. Jesse Trager, National President-Elect of Alpha Omega, honored us with his presence at the annual affair.

The credit for the success of the dinner-dance goes to our chairman, Marvin Bernstein.

Dr. Philip Fogle is still our wonderful deputy counselor—doing a terrific job.

Members of the fraternity accompanied Dr. Patterson to Louisville, recently, to help initiate a new group there.

Ed Pollack, last year's graduate, is planning to open his office on the Northwest side of Indianapolis. His classmate, Paul Denver, is in California, presently serving in the Navy.

The results of our recent elections produced a very capable group. The incoming officers are:

David Lehman.....	President
Marvin Bernstein.....	Vice-President
Lloyd Delman.....	Secretary
Richard Fallander.....	Treasurer

Best wishes for a successful year!

Alumni support for the undergraduate chapter continues to grow and this year marked the use of the "Big Brother" plan in our chapter. To all aumni we urge you to keep in touch with us and attend the annual Senior Farewell.

See you at the National Convention.

XI PSI PHI

June is almost here and again our illustrious seniors are about to take another big step in their dental careers, that of going into practice. The fraternity is very proud of each of its graduating seniors and wishes them the best for the future.

It is a pleasure to announce that five of our seniors received awards on Senior Honor Day. Wallace Bell received an O.K.U. key and the C. V. Mosby award for orthodontia, Joe Rinard an O.K.U. key and first prize for his senior essay, Fred Dettman the C.V. Mosby award in research, Dan Hayes the Certificate of Merit from the American Society for Dentistry for Children, and Kenneth Scales second prize for his senior essay. The fraternity was also honored on the same occasion by having its name placed second on the Interfraternity Council Scholarship Plaque.

The seniors will be honored by the fraternity at the senior dinner on Saturday, May 21st.

A very successful rush was concluded on May 11th when thirteen freshmen indicated their preference for Xi Psi Phi in the balloting at Bloomington.

This years annual rush dinner was held at the Hawthorne Room on April 1st. One hundred and ten freshmen, actives and alumni attend this affair and went to the house for a stag party which included clinic tables, movies and card games.

Thanks again, alumni, for your very fine support and cooperation. The dance at the house the following night was also very successful. The Zipettes did a great job on decorations and prepared a very appetizing buffet dinner. Dancing followed the dinner.

Election of officers was held on April 17th. Officers for the coming year are as follows:

President.....	Harold Bohnke
Vice President.....	Don Marlin
Secretary.....	Dave Cook
Treasurer.....	Mike Dragomer
Pledge Master.....	Harrison Lawyer
Scribe.....	Dick Notter

Ellis Shackelford is the newly elected President of the Junior A.D.A. and Harrison Lawyer the new Secretary.

ADMINISTRATIVE DEPARTMENT

Crawford . . . ". Dr. Hine's name was appearing in places of national renown even before his appointment as dean. In January of that year he was appointed to a two-year term to the National Advisory Dental Research Council, and in the month of April of that same year he spoke at a symposium on periodontia and endodontia sponsored by the Department of Oral Health of the Dental School, Meharry Medical College.²²

One of the more profound displays of faith that can be accorded a man is that he should be requested to assist in the building of an organization other than his own, an honor accorded to Dr. Hine in 1951 when he was appointed the dental consultant on the central administrative staff of the University of New York to advise them in the development of their educational program in dentistry.²³ Then in the spring of 1952 several national and international honors were accorded to Dean Hine; in March he was elected president of the International Association for Dental Research, the following week he was selected as president elect of the American Association of Dental Schools, and shortly thereafter Dr. Hine was notified of his appointment as chairman of the Committee on Dental Research of the American Dental Association.²⁴ A year later he was elected president of the American Association of Dental Schools.

The contributions that this man has made to dental literature also have been manyfold. He is the co-author of two text books, Periodontia and Preventive Dentistry and has been an author of the Journal of Periododontology. Previous to his acceptance of the responsibilities of the deanship, Dr. Hine performed a large amount of research which was published in leading dental journals.

In a personal interview with Dean Hine we found out about the many duties and the responsibilities of a dean. The present breakdown of the administration follows a simple plan as follows: dean, department heads, and faculty.

The duties of a dean are very numerous and diversified. We will try to cover the important ones briefly. As can be expected, one of the most important duties is the selection of students each year to make up a new freshman class. To help the dean in the selection of new students is the Aptitude Committee, and then when the year ends the Promotion Committee meets to decide whether a student should advance, take some subjects over, or leave the school.

A good dental clinic is important, since it serves as a place for the training of the future dentists and also as a small source of revenue. As manager of the clinic the dean must see that it is run smoothly and efficiently. Smooth operation is necessary to serve the 12,000 patients that make 62,000 visits yearly. Materials and supplies are also necessary for the clinic, such as gold, wax, and plastics. Not only are materials needed for the clinic, but for the teaching of classes as well. It is the dean's responsibility to see that these materials are present when needed.

Dr. Hine feels that research is very important in dentistry in finding new materials to replace old ones that are more difficult to work with or have inferior qualities, and also in finding ways to prevent dental problems. Research requires money and the problem of getting this money is the responsibility of the dean. At the present Dean Hine states that the dental school is carrying on much research work and none of it is being paid for by the taxpayers.

The present plans of the dean and his administration are to increase the dental hygiene course. It is now only four years old at Indiana Dental School. As most everyone knows, one of the present plans soon to be carried out is the expanding of the school's facilities by building a new wing on the present building.

Looking to the future is also important, as well as carrying out the present plans, Dean Hine states. He hopes to increase the training for graduate students and also make it possible to increase the number taken into the freshman class to meet the ever increasing demands for dentists in Indiana.

Along with keeping the school modern, up-to-date, and reasonably balanced in all departments, Dean Hine feels that he must be a public relations expert. Not only is it his job to keep good relations with the public, but with the students and the faculty as well.^{25 26}

DEAN HINE REPORTS

Good progress is being made on the Medical Science building, which, when it is completed, will make it possible to bring the freshman year back to Indianapolis. Although teaching of the basic sciences has been good in Bloomington, we believe it will be a definite help to our overall teaching program to have the freshman students and the basic medical science departments on the Medical Center campus. We are planning an expansion to the dental school building so that it is probable by 1958 or 1959 we can increase the size of the freshman class by about one third.

Plaque awarded by Interfraternity Council annually to the fraternity which earns the highest scholastic average.

PLAQUE HONORING DEAN HUNT

During the Indiana State Dental Association meeting last May the dental school was honored to have two distinguished visitors—Dr. M. M. House of Whittier, California and Dr. I. Lester Furnas of LaJolla, California. During their visit they both spoke of their respect for the Dean of Indiana Dental College while they were students, Dr. George Edwin Hunt. Both men commented that they and numerous other students were indebted to Dr. Hunt for their opportunity to complete their dental studies. To show their admiration, Drs. House and Furnas prepared the plaque illustrated above which they presented to the Dental School to be hung in the Dental Library. A similar plaque was also presented to Xi chapter of Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity.

"YORICK"
Skull is 3½" x 2¼"

With This Miniature Skull You Can SHOW Patients What You're Talking About

TRYPING to explain to patients why "permanent" dentures should be remade periodically to preserve normal occlusion and condylar relation takes some talking. With "Yorick" you can show them. You can also show—

- How tissue changes cause loose dentures.
- How abnormal condylar relations cause auditory troubles and facial neuralgia.
- How bite raising can relieve such conditions; restore normal appearance.
- How cusp interference causes unbalanced occlusion.

Whereas patients recoil at such demonstrations on a human skull, they're intrigued with "Yorick." Yet this little half-sized skull in "Ivory" is a replica of a human skull, with cranial sutures, nerve foramina, full dentition and a movable mandible.

"Yorick" Is Invaluable in Educating Patients to Accept the Advanced
Concepts of Dental Service
