WHY HAVE AN FFA ALUMNI?

Why have an FFA Alumni Association? Why have a National FFA Alumni Association?

These are questions raised on occasion. As Alumni members, we should be prepared to answer when confronted by well-meaning people who, like yourself, are supportive of vocational agriculture and the FFA.

The purposes of the Alumni Association are stated clearly in our National Charter—basically, “to unite support for vocational agricultural education, strengthen the FFA, and promote a greater knowledge of the agricultural industry at all levels.”

Why have a National FFA Alumni Association? I am convinced that the FFA, now celebrating 50 glorious, golden years, would never have grown to a membership exceeding 500,000 members nationally, if solid national and state organizations had not been established. Instead we would have seen a variety of individual agricultural clubs scattered over the country with no singleness of purpose—no coordinated programs.

I would have that same fear if the Alumni did not establish a strong state and national organization. For this reason, I believe we need to support the development of our National Alumni Association.

With thirteen years' experience as a Vo-Ag instructor myself, I am keenly aware of the desire to “Keep the money at home.” I am the first to agree that the strength of the Alumni is based on strong, innovative, local programs of support. But more than that, youth organizations of every type need broad-based, adult and financial support. Had it not been for the establishment of the National FFA Foundation in 1944, the FFA “Blue Jackets” would not be where they are today. It would be an unusual FFA Chapter that has had no members on the receiving end of awards and honors provided through National Foundation funds.

That is why a coalition between the Foundation and the Alumni is so vital. By joining hands in supporting the Executive Sponsor program, we can compliment our local support efforts.

One-third of 1978 is gone. We still have a long way to go to meet our budgeted goal of 275 sponsors. (My own personal goal is at least one per Alumni Affiliate.) Won't you join with me in helping to promote this program? A $100 investment in Agricultural Youth should not be a commodity that is difficult to sell.

FFA ALUMNI LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

The first meeting of the FFA Alumni Legislative Committee met in Washington, D. C., on March 16. Mr. David C. Thomas served as chairman with the other past National FFA Alumni presidents as members. A system is being developed to make the FFA Alumni a stronger voice in our support for Vocational Agriculture in the government affairs area.

AVA AGRICULTURE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The American Vocational Association Agriculture Advisory Committee has invited the FFA Alumni to become an active member. Mr. David C. Thomas, 1977 National FFA Alumni President, represented the FFA Alumni at the April 6 advisory meeting. The FFA Alumni is looking forward to a close working relationship with AVA, NVATA, NASAE, and AATEA. Mr. Robert W. Cox was also present for this meeting.

MESSAGE FROM NATIONAL VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE TEACHER ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

JIM GUILINGER

The National FFA Alumni Association, through its state and local affiliate structure, can be a strong force across this nation in assisting with the development and strengthening of Agriculture Education and FFA in all areas.

Every agriculture instructor on the local level needs assistance in conducting his local program. Some areas where local assistance can be effective is with development of judging teams, selection of award winners and public speaking candidates. Advising the local Vocational Agriculture Teacher on curriculum changes which will expand local course offerings in Agriculture in order that more students have the opportunity of enrolling and becoming involved in FFA activities is another area.

Many times an effective local alumni affiliate can be of valuable assistance to the local Board of Education and school administrators in the support of local program needs of the school and community. These governing bodies need to solicit these alumni groups into the support of board and administration educational goals.

The State FFA Alumni Association can be of invaluable assistance to the State Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association through close working relationships and support of adequate allocation of funds for Vocational Agriculture Education and the FFA. The assistance in the judging of state FFA winners and the help in organizing state FFA Conventions and Leadership Schools are other areas where alumni groups need to become involved.

Joint monthly meetings with the State Agriculture Teachers Executive Board, state supervisors, teacher educators and the alumni officers will produce effective activities for the good of all concerned.

The NVATA has an effective working relationship with the National FFA Alumni through newsletters and close informational exchange between the officers and Program Specialist Woody Cox. With the planned movement of the NVATA office into the Washington, D. C., area in early 1979, we expect to develop closer relationships on the national level. Hopefully, this will encourage the development of effective working relationships at state and local levels to enhance Vocational Agriculture Education and the FFA nationally.

If we jointly work together in as many areas as possible, we can be an effective force for the FFA and Vocational Agricultural Education. Let us begin now to develop those strong bonds of common concern and become that effective force.

WEA SEEKS FARM HOSTS

The International Department would like to remind you of our Work Experience Abroad (WEA) Exchange Program. As you may already know, the program is designed to give young agriculturalists a chance to gain cultural, educational and practical experience in the agriculture of a foreign country. While living and working with a host family for three, six or twelve months, he/she is expected to put in a 44-hour week and, in return, receive a minimum of $145 per month plus room and board.

The "Inbound WEA'ers" (as they are called), are selected persons between the ages of 18 and 24. For the most part, agriculture is their chosen profession and most have attended some sort of agricultural school. This year we estimate over 100 exchanges, from 25 countries, will participate on the program.

The next group from overseas arrives July 1. Anyone interested in hosting a WEA'er should contact: Miss Cece Gaddy, Program Coordinator, International Department, National FFA Center, Box 15160, Alexandria, VA 22309 (tel. 703/360-3600). Notification of interest should be made prior to June 1.

MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP PRESENTATION

Mrs. Ruth Evans presented the $100 FFA Alumni Dr. Perry W. Evans Memorial Scholarship to Noble Sokolosky of Owasso, Oklahoma, during their FFA Parent-Member Banquet. Also pictured is lifetime member Harold Charney.

Dr. Perry W. Evans was a charter life member of the Owasso FFA Alumni Chapter and served as secretary to the organization. He was also an Honorary Chapter Farmer of the Owasso FFA Chapter. He and his wife supported the FFA program in the Owasso community for twenty years.

Noble attended Oklahoma FFA Alumni Leadership Camp four years. He was elected Alumni Camp Counselor for 1976 and served on the alumni camp staff in 1977. Noble is a lifetime member of the FFA Alumni Association. He received the Legion of Merit Award in 1976. Noble is a freshman at Oklahoma State University majoring in Agriculture Economics.

FFA ALUMNI AUCTIONS BEEF

A beef auction brought $655 for the treasury of the Waterford FFA Alumni on February 16.

Mike Weinkauf was top bidder, paying $45 for a packet of three T-bone steaks which weighed a total of three pounds. The auction was the highlight of the alumni's second annual meeting and banquet. The 41 portions of beef came from the hind quarter of the 1,295-pound Grand Champion Steer of the 1977 Racine County Fair, entered by Dan Greil and purchased by Harry Hansen Meat Service of Franksville. Hansen processed and donated the hind quarter to the alumni.

NATIONAL FFA FOUNDATION CHAIRMAN SALUTES FFA

The opportunity to serve Vocational Agriculture and the National FFA Foundation as Chairman of the Foundation Sponsoring Committee is proving to be most gratifying.

I consider FFA as one of the most outstanding contemporary youth organizations in America. The opportunity of working closely with such elite business-professional personnel which make up the Foundation's Professional Staff, the Sponsoring Committee, the Campaign Action Committee and the FFA Alumni Association is indeed a privilege.

One of the most encouraging trends for the Foundation, and the FFA, is the close, amicable relationship developing between the Foundation and the Alumni Association. This coalition of mutual interest will give the Foundation tremendous thrust which is needed in order to meet the demands of an ever expanding incentive program for Vocational Agriculture students.

The Foundation with its unique but not uncommon role, was organized by businessmen in 1944 to coordinate efforts to raise money for FFA incentive programs and to provide needed liaison between FFA and business. This has resulted in a greatly expanded and improved FFA program with funds reaching over $900,000 dollars in 1977, almost four times the amount raised just ten years ago.

One of the most significant steps taken by the Foundation during this period of phenomenal growth was the creation of the Special Projects Program. This has stimulated financial support from the private industry sector. This accommodates those concerns with interest in specific identity with a specific program. There are roughly 50 such individuals and/or joint special project sponsors involving some 37 special projects. We now have about 12 special projects available for sponsorship.

The agricultural industry is a good barometer of the economic status of any country. We all acknowledge and respect the contribution agriculture has made to America's prosperity. Unquestionably, the educational and leadership opportunities afforded students of Vocational Agriculture through FFA programs these past 50 years has been a major factor in this country's unequalled agricultural growth and advancement. Herein lies full justification and remuneration for this strong effort in support of the National FFA Foundation.

We of the Sponsoring Committee are fortunate to have this most helpful partnership with the FFA Alumni Association. With such total commitment on the part of us all, we can guarantee the future of the Foundation and its purpose.

EXECUTIVE SPONSOR PROGRAM

Executive Sponsors are a growing and elite group of individuals who in their own name annually invest $100 in the future of America. Besides making a positive impact on the FFA, the FFA Alumni, and future agriculturists, the Executive Sponsor is recognized when a personalized teaching unit is provided in his/her name to a vocational agriculture department of their choice. The FFA Alumni will share in the contributions received which will allow the development of more support programs for the FFA. See page 5 of this newsletter for more information on this new program.

FFA MEMORIALS

Are you looking for a meaningful way to pay tribute to a lost friend or a loved one? If so, you might want to consider the FFA Memorial Program.

A memorial gift to the National FFA Foundation becomes a living memorial—a thoughtful and, yes, a meaningful gift. That this tribute to a beloved one will help FFA members is a source of comfort and inspiration to the many individuals and groups who participate in memorial giving. All memorial gifts to the National FFA Foundation are invested in a national endowment, the principal of which will not be spent, only the income will be used to provide perpetual support to FFA, a tribute to friends and loved ones in perpetuity.

In the general memorial program, a memorial card is sent to the family of the deceased with the name of the person(s) remembered and the name(s) of the donor(s). The amount of the gift is not indicated.

If you, or your organization, wish to establish a specific permanent memorial fund as a tribute to someone special, please feel free to call and discuss your wishes with us.

The FFA Alumni associations, throughout the country, have memorial giving envelopes. If they are not available to you locally, certainly feel free to request them from your National FFA Foundation, P. O. Box 5117, Madison, Wisconsin 53705, or phone 1-608-238-4222 to discuss your needs.

NEW YORK FFA ALUMNI BANQUET

The New York FFA Alumni gave a salute to the FFA during the 50th Anniversary by hosting their first annual Alumni state banquet. More than 150 persons attended the banquet held in Perry, New York, on February 4. State chairman John Spencer was the prime planner of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. John Keller were presented the New York Outstanding FFA Alumni Award by John Spencer during their state banquet.

NATIONAL FFA ALUMNI CONVENTION

Mark your calendar and plan to attend the FFA Alumni and the FFA Anniversary Conventions in Kansas City, Missouri, on November 8-10. Room reservations with hotels should be made as early as possible. Over 20,000 people are expected to attend this year's Convention.

NATIONAL FFA LEADERSHIP WORKSHOPS

The National FFA Leadership Workshops conducted by the FFA Alumni for the first time at the 1977 National Convention have received outstanding responses. The FFA Alumni will be conducting workshops again this year. Capacity attendance of 1,200 attended the four workshops last year. Mr. David C. Thomas, past FFA Alumni president, will serve as the coordinator of this activity.

Your suggestions of leadership workshop topics and/or FFA Alumni workshop leaders would be appreciated. Please mail your suggestions immediately to the National FFA Alumni office.

Picture above was a Workshop on "Effective Personal Communications — FFA Style" featuring Alumni Scott McKain, Indiana and Ron Wilson, Kansas. This Workshop gave FFA members the opportunity to discover and develop an ability to communicate, speak and lead.

DID YOU KNOW?

- A. Owasso, Oklahoma, has increased their life member affiliate to 50 life members in celebration of the FFA's 50th Anniversary. Walter Thiessen, Owasso FFA Alumni president, welcomed Bob Campbell as the 50th life member.
- B. The Viroqua and Westby, Wisconsin, FFA Alumni affiliates along with Tri-State Breeders Cooperative co-hosted a beef management seminar. Invitations were extended to FFA and 4-H members in a three-state area to participate in the one-day beef management seminar. Over 400 persons participated. The two Alumni affiliates provided manpower to assist in the setup, registration, contest scoring, and cleanup. They also provided group leaders.
- C. The National FFA Alumni will be providing special assistance with the FFA Washington Leadership Conferences. Students and leaders arriving early will be given assistance by the FFA Alumni in planning tours. Over seventeen scholarships will be provided for the Washington Leadership Conferences by the FFA Alumni.

EXECUTIVE SPONSORS

Executive Sponsors is a new approach in 1978—new for the FFA Alumni—new for the National FFA Foundation. By a joint cooperative effort, the Executive Sponsorship Program support is being promoted by both groups. It is hoped to extend to a more comprehensive group of individuals across the country an invitation to give personal support to the FFA through a personal investment of $100. We congratulate the following persons who have already become Executive Sponsors in 1978.
