October 2003

Letter from the President

What an exciting time for Indiana University and its alumni! President Adam Herbert and IUPUI Chancellor Charles Bantz are settling in and finding their places among our IU family. Enrollment at the university reached record levels for the fall semester. The IU School of Medicine is celebrating 100 years with ceremonies that include the unveiling of an extraordinary Dale Chihuly "DNA Tower" glass sculpture, which will stand in the atrium of the VanNuys Medical Science Building on the IUPUI campus.

Now is a great time to reconnect with your alma mater. This newsletter highlights IU Alumni Club of Indianapolis events for the next few months; I hope you'll find something that interests you and join us in celebrating our university. We'll cheer on the Hoosiers and Jaguars, serve our community, learn what to expect for the economy in the upcoming year, and enjoy a fun-filled holiday evening at the Children's Museum.

Now is also a great time to visit one of our campuses and see what a vibrant and inspiring place Indiana University continues to be. You'll discover arts and cultural events, opportunities for continuing education, thrilling athletic contests, and the construction of amazing new facilities that will further enhance our stature as one of the most beautiful and state-of-the-art universities in the country.

I hope the IU Alumni Club of Indianapolis plays a positive role in your connection to Indiana University. Our Board of Directors is made up of volunteers who are committed to bringing you programs that delight, educate, and encourage you to participate. This newsletter contains a slate of seven candidates who are asking for your vote of confidence for the upcoming three-year board term. Please take a moment to register your vote.

You may contact us any time at indyclub@alumni.indiana.edu or drop me a note at 4285 Springwood Trail, Indianapolis, IN 46228 to share your ideas, concerns, or questions.

As students, you recognized Indiana University as a resource for a quality education. As alumni, don't overlook IU's capability for providing lifetime opportunities.

Hail to Old IU!

Cathy

Club Awards Scholarships to IU Students

The IU Alumni Club of Indianapolis is proud to be able to provide financial assistance to students from our geographic area (Hamilton, Hancock, Hendricks and Marion counties) who will be attending any of IU's eight campuses. Our Scholarship Committee reviews many applications each year, interviews the top ten candidates, and selects recipients to receive $1,000 each.

Our scholarship program is funded through an endowment. If you would like to help us build toward additional scholarships in the future, send your tax-deductible contribution, payable to the IU Foundation, to Kristi Gaynor, 5415 N. Pennsylvania St., Indianapolis, IN 46220.

Recipients for the current academic year are:

- Najeebah Bade from Indianapolis. A freshman at Bloomington, Najeebah wants to become a lawyer and then be elected into political office. She wrote in her application: "If our world were 'ideal', we would all be represented in a kaleidoscope. Each time the dial is turned, the vivid colors that appear would not blend, thus representing our differences; but in the same token, a harmonious picture would form."
- Julia Hodson, graduate of Greenfield Central High School. Julia is a freshman at Bloomington studying journalism. She told us that she is competitive and always wants to be the best. "No matter what comes my way, I will stay determined to be someone I can be proud of."
- Sharell Hendricks, graduate of Northwest High School. When Sharell enrolled this fall as a freshman at Bloomington to study accounting, she became the first person in her immediate family to go to college. She hopes to go on to graduate school and eventually have her own accounting firm. Numbers aren't her only strength, though; she also enjoys reading and playing the violin.
- Gary Walters. A single dad raising two children, Gary is a junior at IUPUI studying nursing. He will be the first person in his family to obtain a college degree. While Gary entered the study of nursing to make a difference in the world outside of his immediate family, he says that in the end he will be successful if his kids love him and he has made a difference in their lives.

Cathy Randall, Sharell Hendricks, Julia Hodson, Najeebah Bade, Gary Walters, and Kristi Gaynor

We were also pleased to award a special $500 scholarship to an outstanding IUPUI student. Our recipient was Joy Gilmore, a sophomore who is pursuing her degree in art education. Joy says that art is a great release for frustrations and emotions, and she wants to teach troubled students to express themselves positively through their art.

We want to thank our scholarship committee members, who serve our club and our alma mater with dedication and passion for excellence: Zac Engle, David Frederick, Betty Landis, Tracy Martin, Janette Pittsford, Mary Elizabeth Rudd, and Chairperson Kristi Engle Gaynor.

Applications for the 2004–2005 academic year are available at www.indiana.edu/~alumni/clubs/indy. The deadline for applications is February 20.

Sponsored by the IU Alumni Club of Indianapolis, the Varsity Club and the IU Alumni Association.
