Fact Book 2005-2006

We are pleased to provide you with the 2005-06 Indiana University Fact Book. The IU Fact Book was designed to provide commonly sought information about our eight campuses. The Fort Wayne campus is under the administrative and budgetary control of Purdue University and their data views generally reflect the IU component of their mission unless footnoted otherwise. This year's edition represents a substantial re-formatting that we hope will provide a wide variety of readers with more useful and easy to interpret facts and statistics.

The changes incorporated into this year's edition are based largely on feedback from our readers and from the increasing number of questions and requests we receive from peer institutions and national, state and local organizations. Our goal is to not only provide a quick view of various statistics through our printed copy, but to also provide users with an online version that contains more detailed information (<http://factbook.indiana.edu>).

The information contained within this volume represents significant contributions from a wide range of Indiana University colleagues. We would especially like to recognize the University Budget Office, Financial Management Services, University Libraries, Student Enrollment Services, Registrar, Alumni Association, Residential Program Services, Real Estate, Bureau of Facilities Programming & Utilization, VP for Administration, Purchasing, IUPUI Athletics, University Information Technology Services, and the Accounting Services and Physical Plant Administration offices at Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne. All photos included in the Fact Book are courtesy of Indiana University.

We appreciate both the positive and constructively critical comments we've received regarding previous editions of the Fact Book and encourage you to send us your comments and suggestions for improving future editions.

Presidents of Indiana University

Fact Book 2005-2006

Andrew Wylie (1829-1851)

On October 19, 1829, the Reverend Andrew Wylie was inaugurated as the first president of Indiana College. Wylie was the third member of the faculty and taught classes in moral and mental philosophy and literature. He guided the school through an important time of transition as the state legislature rechartered the college as Indiana University in 1838. Wylie died in office from an injury sustained while chopping wood.

Alfred Ryors (1852-1853)

Alfred Ryors was appointed the second president of Indiana University on June 3, 1852. He had been a mathematics professor at IU from 1843 through 1848, but left Indiana to assume the presidency of Ohio University in 1848, a position he held for four years. Ryors resigned his IU presidency in 1853 to become president of Centre College in Danville, Kentucky, a position he held until his death in 1858.

William Mitchel Daily (1853-1859)

After serving one and a half days as a Trustee of Indiana University, the Reverend William Daily was elected IU's third president on August 2, 1853. He resigned under pressure on January 26, 1859.

John Hiram Lathrop (1859-1860)

After serving as the first president of the University of Missouri and the first chancellor of the University of Wisconsin, John Lathrop was named as Indiana University's fourth president in 1859. He held the post for one year before accepting a professorship at the University of Missouri, stating he preferred faculty life to that of an administrator. In 1865 he was again made president of the University of Missouri and died in office in 1866.

Cyrus Nutt (1860-1875)

Cyrus Nutt was elected to be Indiana University's fifth president in 1860 and was installed on June 27, 1861. IU became coeducational during Nutt's administration, admitting its first female student in 1867. Nutt led the university for 15 years before resigning in 1875. He died a few weeks after his resignation.

Lemuel Moss (1875-1884)

In September 1875, the Reverend Lemuel Moss, a Baptist minister, came to Indiana University as its sixth president. During his administration the curriculum was expanded and there was an attempt to reduce faculty teaching loads and increase professorial salaries. He resigned in November 1884 to become a lecturer on Christian sociology at Bucknell University. He died in New York on July 12, 1904.

David Starr Jordan (1884-1891)

On January 1, 1885, 34-year-old David Starr Jordan was inaugurated as the seventh president of Indiana University. Jordan was an outstanding scientist and the first layman to be named president of IU. He oversaw the university's move to the new campus at Dunn's Woods in 1885, secured money for new buildings from the legislature, introduced the major department system, lectured on the value of the university to the state of Indiana, and increased IU's enrollment and its number of faculty members. Jordan resigned in 1891 to become president of Stanford University, a post he held until 1913. He died on September 19, 1931.

John Merle Coulter (1891-1893)

John Merle Coulter accepted the position of president and professor of botany at Indiana University in 1891. Perhaps the heaviest responsibility during his administration was replacing the faculty members that followed past-president David Starr Jordan to Stanford University. Coulter was also instrumental in continuing IU's extension work, sending lecturers to the larger cities in the state. In 1893, Coulter resigned to accept the presidency of Lake Forest University, a position he held until 1896 when he accepted the appointment of professor and head of the botany department at the University of Chicago. He died December 23, 1928.

Joseph Swain (1893-1902)

Joseph Swain was IU's first Indiana-born president. A native of Pendleton, Indiana, he attended IU as an undergraduate and graduate student, and began his teaching career in IU's departments of mathematics and biology. He left his professorship at IU in 1891 to follow departing IU president David Starr Jordan to Stanford University. He then accepted the invitation to return to IU as president in 1893, a position he held for nine years. Swain was a member of the Quaker Church, and though successful at IU, he ultimately accepted the invitation to become president of Swarthmore College in 1902. He retired from Swarthmore in 1921 as president emeritus and died six years later.

William Lowe Bryan (1902-1937)

William Lowe Bryan, Indiana University's tenth president, was born on a farm near Bloomington, Indiana. After graduating from IU with degrees in ancient classics and philosophy, his interests shifted toward psychology and Bryan went on to earn his Ph.D. in psychology from Clark University in 1892. That same year Bryan helped organize the American Psychological Association and became one of its charter members. He returned to IU in 1893 to accept a professorship in the psychology department and the appointment to vice president of the university. He succeeded Joseph Swain as president in 1902 and led the institution for 35 years until 1937, at which time he retired as president emeritus at the age of 76. Bryan presided over the transformation of IU from a small, traditional liberal arts college into a modern research university. His most notable accomplishment was the expansion of graduate and professional training. During his administration, schools of medicine, education, nursing, business, music, and dentistry were established. He died in Bloomington in 1955.

Herman B Wells (1938-1962)

In 1938, Herman B Wells was named Indiana University's eleventh president, and at the age of 35, was the country's youngest state university president. He served as president for a quarter century and remained a vital contributor as IU chancellor for another 37 years. His association with the institution spanned eight decades, dating from when he was a student to his death. Wells was an educational visionary who helped transform IU into an internationally recognized center of research and scholarship. Under the Wells presidency, IU experienced its greatest growth and widened its scope to encompass the globe. To many people, Wells was an icon for Indiana University.

Elvis Jacob Stahr Jr. (1962-1968)

Elvis J. Stahr Jr. became Indiana University's twelfth president in 1962 after serving as the secretary of the Army during the first two years of the Kennedy administration. Stahr's presidency saw the Gary and Calumet campuses combined to form IU Northwest, the joint IU-Purdue University campus established in Fort Wayne, the founding of the School of Library and Information Science, and the affiliation of the Herron School of Art in Indianapolis with IU. Stahr resigned from IU in 1968 to accept the presidency of the National Audubon Society, a position he held until 1981. Between 1981 and his death in 1998, Stahr practiced law in Washington, D.C., and lobbied for environmental issues.

Joseph Lee Sutton (1968-1971)

Joseph Lee Sutton was an academic presence on the Indiana University Bloomington campus for 13 years before being named president in 1968. His tenure saw the dedication of the IU Main Library in 1970. Sutton resigned his position as president in 1971 but continued his work as a professor of political science at IU. He died on April 29, 1972, at the age of 48, as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

John William Ryan (1971-1987)

John William Ryan became Indiana University's fourteenth president on January 26, 1971. His 16 years of service to the university saw the establishment of IU campuses in New Albany and Richmond, the formation of various cultural centers on the Bloomington campus, and the journalism school becoming a system-wide entity. Ryan retired in 1987 and was immediately appointed president emeritus of Indiana University. He remains an active figure within the university, both as a professor in the School of Public and Environmental Affairs and as a member of several boards and committees.

Thomas Ehrlich (1987-1994)

Thomas Ehrlich served seven years as the president of Indiana University after posts in government and the Ivy League. Though his academic background was in private institutions, he chose to lead a public university because of the responsibilities and challenges of providing both broad access and education of high quality. On retiring from IU, Ehrlich joined California State University as Distinguished University Scholar and held that position until 2000 when he became a senior scholar at the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. He resides in Palo Alto, California.

Myles Brand (1994-2002)

Myles Brand became Indiana University's sixteenth president on August 1, 1994. He presided over a period of remarkable growth at IU, including record student enrollments and national leadership in information technology and the life sciences, while maintaining the university's traditional strengths in the arts and humanities. TIME Magazine named IU Bloomington "College of the Year" among research universities in September 2001, based on the quality of its programs to help incoming students adjust to college life. Under Brand's leadership, research grants and contracts more than doubled, and IU received the largest single private gift in its history, a $105 million grant from the Lilly Endowment to fund the Indiana Genomics Initiative. In 2001, IU was the leading public university in private-sector support. Brand announced on October 10, 2002, that he would be leaving IU to accept the position of president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association beginning January 1, 2003.

Adam W. Herbert (2003-present)

Adam Herbert took office as Indiana University's 17th president on August 1, 2003. A strong advocate of widely accessible public higher education, he accepted the position with a firm commitment to IU's historical mandate to educate the next generation of intellectual leaders and informed citizens and to engage in cutting edge research that enriches our culture, addresses the world's most pressing problems, and fosters economic growth.

Board of Trustees

As the university's governing body, the Trustees of Indiana University have been charged by the Indiana General Assembly with a wide range of policy and decision-making authority to carry out the programs and missions of the University.

The General Assembly named the first six Trustees in the 1820 statute that created the Indiana Seminary, predecessor to Indiana University. In 1828 the legislature changed the name of the institution to Indiana College and appointed fifteen Trustees. In 1838 it established Indiana University and provided for a board of twenty-one members and the Governor as ex officio vice president of the board. In 1852 the number of Trustees was reduced to eleven, and in 1855 to eight.

Although the number of Trustees did not change for over a hundred years, additional legislation set member's terms at three years, staggered the expiration of terms, and changed the manner in which Trustees were chosen. In 1975 the General Assembly amended the statutes to add a ninth Trustee, who is appointed by the Governor and who must be a full-time student of the University during a two-year appointment. Of the other eight members, the Governor now appoints five, and the alumni of the University elect three.

Undergraduate Intercampus Mobility

Fall 2005-06

Fact Book 2005-2006

The table below reflects the mobility of students enrolled for Fall 2005-06. The "Gained" row depicts the number of students who transferred to an IU campus after being enrolled at a different IU campus during the 2004-05 academic year. The "Intercampus Transfer" column reflects the number of students who transferred away from that campus to another IU campus.

Student Credit Hours Per Full-time Academic Appointment

Fall 2005-06

Fact Book 2005-2006

A rough index of instructional resources is provided by dividing credit hour enrollment by the number of full-time academic appointments. That average is distorted, however, because it includes the Health Division at Indianapolis where credit hour enrollment is a poor indicator of the intensity of teaching effort.

Operating Budget

2005-06

Fact Book 2005-2006

The total 2005-06 operating budget for all campuses of Indiana University is $2.3 billion. This figure includes totals for unrestricted funds of over $1.5 billion, for restricted funds $460.5 million, and for auxiliary fund groups of $355 million. Unrestricted funds are used for instruction, research, scholarships and fellowships, student services, and other institutional support. The use of restricted funds is determined by the funding source: federal, state, or local government; private industry; or foundation support. The auxiliary fund groups have been established by the Trustees to carry out activities supporting the University teaching, research and public services missions and includes dormitories, varsity athletics, bookstores, and the Indiana Memorial Union, among others.

Fact Book 2005-2006

Both restricted and unrestricted fund expenditures for research and public service are supported significantly from funds received from contracts and grants. Direct support of instruction from those funds is less significant, but activities associated with grants and contracts indirectly complement the University's teaching mission.

Comparison of Room and Board Rates for Main Campuses of Big Ten Institutions

Fall 2004-05 Compared to Fall 2005-06

Fact Book 2005-2006

Academic year room and board rates for the most prevalent double room accommodation on the main campuses of the public Big Ten institutions appear in the table below. For the 2005-06 academic year, Indiana University's new student rate ranks seventh out of ten campuses. The new student room and board rate of $6,244 is $1,130 less than the highest rate of $7,374 and $514 more than the lowest rate of $5,730 at University of Wisconsin.

School	Number of Meals ¹	2004-05	Rank	2005-06	Rank

Sources of Funds for Major Physical Facilities

Constructed or Acquired

1965-66 through 2004-05

Fact Book 2005-2006

From 1965-66 through 2004-05, the total cost of major physical facilities constructed or acquired on all campuses was $1.8 billion. Bond issues ($701.5 million, 39%) provide the largest source of funds, of which income from student fees is used to cover the debt service cost.

Facilities Inventory Summary

Fall 2004-05

Fact Book 2005-2006

Of the 29.7 million gross square feet, 20 million square feet are assignable to operating units. Not included in assignable square feet are service, circulation, and construction areas, restrooms, hallways, and wall thicknesses. Academic and administrative activities are assigned 10.7 million square feet; auxiliary enterprise services are assigned 9.3 million square feet. The assignable to gross ratio, a measure of building efficiency, averages 67 percent for all campuses of Indiana University.

Percent of Academic-Administrative Assignable Square Feet by Campus and Age of Structure

1900 to Present

Fact Book 2005-2006

The table below depicts the historical development of the campuses according to the percent of current academic and administrative assignable square feet as displayed within each decade. Approximately 18 percent of all academic-administrative space on the Bloomington campus and 13 percent on the IUPUI campus was built prior to 1940. Some of the oldest buildings are on the Bloomington campus and include Woodburn House (1829), Wylie House (1835), Owen Hall (1884), and Wylie Hall (1884).

Academic-Administrative Space by Condition

Fall 2004-05

Fact Book 2005-2006

Space classified as satisfactory includes facilities that are in an acceptable state of repair and are designed for their present use. Space in-need-of-remodeling category means the facility is in need of repair or the design is not well suited to its present use, but it is considered basically sound, capable of being brought to acceptable standards of condition, and adaptable for use. To-be-terminated space includes facilities that would be replaced if better alternatives were available.

Distribution of Academic-Administrative Space by Room Use

Fall 2004-05

Fact Book 2005-2006

Space assigned to academic-administrative activities is divided into 11 categories according to room use:

Classrooms: seminars, general classrooms, and lecture halls.

Instructional Laboratories: special purpose laboratories, service areas and studios used for teaching.

Non-Class Laboratories: laboratories and service areas used for research purposes.

Office Areas: offices, office service areas, and conference rooms.

Study Facilities: reading rooms, stack areas, library processing areas, study collections, and computer clusters.

Special Use: physical education and recreational facilities, greenhouses, and animal quarters.

General Use: museums, lounges, merchandising facilities, food facilities, and meeting rooms.

Support Areas: central data processing facilities, shops, and storage.

Health Facilities at Bloomington: the Student Health Center; at Indianapolis: health profession clinics not located in hospitals.

Residential Facilities at Bloomington: International House, Developmental Training Center, Bryan House; at Indianapolis: Sunset Lane properties.

Unclassified: unused space or space being remodeled.

Instruction and Instruction-Related Space Per Full-time Equivalent Student Enrollment

Fall 2004-05

Fact Book 2005-2006

Of the eleven categories of room use, three are closely associated with student enrollment and teaching activities: classrooms, instructional laboratories, and study areas. Dividing the assignable square feet available in these three categories by the full-time equivalent student enrollment provides a very rough measure of intensity of use of instructional facilities. For all campuses, 10 square feet of classroom space is available per full-time equivalent student enrollment; 13 square feet of instructional laboratories; and 18 square feet of study areas.

Classroom Utilization Analysis

Fall 2004-05

Fact Book 2005-2006

One measure of intensity of teaching is classroom and classroom service area space divided by weekly student contact hours in the fall semester. The lower the ratio, the more intense the use of classroom space. Differences among the campuses reflect the variety in types of instruction. Campuses with mainly daytime instruction have lower ratios than those with mainly evening classes. Another element that affects the utilization factor is the number of square feet of classroom space available per FTE student.

Auxiliary Enterprise Services Space

Fall 2004-05

Fact Book 2005-2006

Of the 9.3 million square feet assigned to auxiliary enterprise services, 4.7 million square feet (50 percent) are located on the Bloomington campus; 3.4 million (37 percent) are located at IUPUI. The Residential Programs and Services operations on the Bloomington campus accounts for the largest amount of space assigned to an auxiliary enterprise, almost three million square feet. Second largest (at 2.3 million square feet) is the Parking Facilities organization at IUPUI.

Few colleges and universities in the nation have more living graduates than IU's 495,529 (through May of 2005). Likewise, with more than 950,000 active records for alumni (graduates and former students of record), friends, parents, corporations, and foundations, the A/FIS database ranks among the largest for the nation's colleges and universities. More than 95% of the records are addressable. Each year, the alumni records department updates hundreds of thousands of records with new address, employment, and university-related information for the benefit of Indiana University and Purdue University Indianapolis.

Living IU Graduates by Campus
Bloomington	294,105	Kokomo	8,020
IUPUI	105,641	Northwest	20,049
East	3,820	South Bend	24,320
Fort Wayne	22,531	Southeast	17,043

Note: Graduates with multiple degrees from different campuses will be counted in each of the respective campuses from which they received a degree; therefore the total count by campus will be larger than the count for Indiana University.
