

KIWANIS IN ACTION

This is the story of Kiwanians at work. It demonstrates conclusively how tremendous GROWTH IN SERVICE results when the men in each local club accept the opportunities to fully utilize their MANPOWER. Kiwanis In Action summarizes a cross section of the activities carried out in 4300 communities. There are eight areas of work and the following pages throw the spotlight especially on items of major emphasis. Each year th's annual report demonstrates a continuous broadening of the Kiwanis concept of service. To grow in service means to accept the challenge to an intelligent, aggressive, serviceable citizenship. The results are apparent. Kiwanis is truly a spirit that men have taken into the business world, into their professional lives and into their homes. Kiwanis In Action demonstrates that men in every walk of life are willing to give of themselves that mankind might live in closer harmony and feel the impact of brotherhood.

This, then, is the story of Kiwanis MANPOWER and its GROWTH IN SERVICE.

AGRICULTURE AND CONSERVATION

In 1956, the Committee's theme "Agriculture and Conservation — Necessary for Life" was exemplified by thousands of projects and activities carried out in Kiwanis communities. The second annual observance of Farm-City Week, occurring in November, saw nearly 2400 clubs highlighting the year in this activity. Kiwanis International and local clubs coordinated the efforts of hundreds of industries, businesses, and organizations to bring national recognition to this event, leading to a better understanding by both farm and city people of the problems that the other faces.

Activities by Kiwanis clubs in this field were varied and important to their local areas, as they have been since 1924 when the International Committee was formed. The following statistics and examples of activity give an indication of this fact.

ASSISTANCE BY LOCAL CLUBS TO FARMERS NEAR THEIR COMMUNITIES

51,438 workers secured for growing and harvesting crops

PUBLIC AND BUSINESS AFFAIRS

The Presidential Election Year saw well over half of all clubs in the United States participating in the Ballot Battalion program which was the major emphasis project of this committee for 1956. Kiwanis clubs were active in their non-partisan campaigns, not only for the general election in November, but also in the spring registration programs and primary elections held throughout the year. The Ballot Battalion had a three-phased goal: registration of all eligible voters, informing all voters on the candidates and issues, and a get-out-the-vote campaign for election days. In many localities, the Kiwanis club's efforts, along with other participating community groups, were responsible for significant increases in voter registration and voting.

Even with the interest in the Ballot Battalion program, the two committees on public and business affairs promoted many other outstanding projects which found their fruition in the activities of local clubs. Below are statistics related to these various activities and some examples of the successes achieved by local clubs.

SUPPORT OF CHURCHES IN THEIR SPIRITUAL AIMS

The major effort of the Committee on Support of Churches in Their Spiritual Aims was the first observance of "Work and Pray for Permanent Peace Week," held in April, Nearly 1800 clubs undertook local activities to support the objectives that man must be willing to work as hard for peace as he would struggle to maintain his freedom, and also to highlight all aspects of the individual's opportunity and responsibility for promoting and maintaining peace. This event received favorable recognition and comment by many of America's leading churchmen.

Celebrating 20 years as an International Committee, Support of Churches work continued to receive increasing emphasis in Kiwanis communities. The following indicates the scope of functions of the committee:

1. SERVICE BY INDIVIDUALS FOR CHURCHES

BOYS AND GIRLS WORK

Kiwanis work with youth is always a popular area of club activity. Local club action continued to expand under the 1956 International Committee Theme: "Boys and Girls—Citizens with the Greatest Potential—Today and Tomorrow."

This committee, in cooperation with the International Committee on Key Clubs undertook a major emphasis program on good citizenship, which included the youth rally idea. Youth rallies were held in several major centers, as well as in many smaller communities under this combined effort. At such rallies, young people joined in a pledge of good citizenship. Nearly 350,000 teen-age boys and girls were reached via this program.

CIRCLE K CLUBS

1956, the second year of official operation of Circle K International, was one of growth and expansion. There are now 158 affiliated clubs located in 39 states, Canada, and Hawaii.

The Circle K Club is not just another social fraternity but a service organization similar to Kiwanis and other service clubs. It serves at the college level. It is a character-building group which offers service on the campus, to the school and to the community.

When a Circle K club is functioning at its best, the Kiwanis sponsoring committee attends Circle K club meetings and offers guidance and counsel to the club in all of its activities. Not to be overlooked is the unlimited opportunity for joint Kiwanis-Circle K service activities.

The Carthage, Illinois club has two Circle K members attend each Kiwanis meeting on a rotating basis.

The Get-Out-the-Vote campaign was a joint Kiwanis-Circle K project at East Lansing, Michigan.

A joint fund-raising project at Hub City, Lubbock, Texas enabled the Circle K club to share in the profits.

Under the motto, "We Build," Circle K clubs perform a variety of service programs on the campus and in the community. Special emphasis programs for the year included a "Toys for Tots" campaign and the summer work exchange program. This is a project to develop greater international understanding through an exchange of students: French students living and working in a Kiwanis community during the summer and American and/or Canadian students going to France.

A free tutoring service is provided by Baylor University, Waco, Texas.

Palomar College, San Marcos, California, has a campus beautification project.

Periodically movies are shown to the youngsters of a "Home for Incurable Children" by Ryerson Institute, Toronto, Ontario.

Little Rock Junior College, Little Rock, Arkansas has placed park benches on their college campus.

A nickelodeon, a gift of the club at Buena Vista College, Storm Lake, lowa, provides music for the new campus coffee shop.

An "American Bookshelf" has been sent overseas through a purchase made by Potomac State College, Keyser, West Virginia.

The children of the campus nursery were entertained by an Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida.

Waterloo College, Waterloo, Ontario operates a housing bureau for the college to care for the 175 students who must live in boarding and rooming houses.

Assistance to the Salvation Army Disaster Relief program and the Cerebral Palsy Fund-raising Telethon were community service projects of Northeast Louisiana State College, Monroe, Louisiana.

KEY CLUBS

Key Club — a Kiwanis club activity — received national recognition from Freedoms Foundations, Crusade For Freedom, Yale University, Coronet Magazine and many other organizations and individuals during 1956. This outstanding youth program started as a local Kiwanis activity in Sacramento, California in 1925. Key Club International is now composed of 1518 clubs with 35,437 members.

These high school service clubs, counseled by their sponsoring Kiwanis clubs and with the approval of the high school administration, are serving the student body and teen-age communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, and Hawaii. In the 31 years of their existence the Kiwanis-sponsored Key Club has become a vital force in the community service program of Kiwanis International.

5,153 meetings with school administrators arranged for and held 22,098 Kiwanians attended Key Club meetings

5,153 Kiwanians went to Key Club conventions

The Key Club program continues to give its sponsoring club opportunities for service in a three-fold capacity. The Kiwanians can serve the youth community through counsel and help for their Key Club — they can work with the Key Club boys to bring their own and the Key Club's community services to the teen-age population — and they can furnish any Key Club boy with the opportunity of carrying out services of his own for the school and community. Typical examples from the 21,463 reported Kiwanis-Key Club service activities are given below:

1. Kiwanis Serves Youth Through the Key Club

When the Anacortes, Washington Kiwanis club held a Heart Fund Drive in their community they enabled their Key Club to participate in the program by providing a lot where the Key Clubbers could hold a car wash to raise funds.

By allowing Key Club members to do odd jobs such as cutting lawns, putting up storm windows, cleaning store fronts and attics, the Kiwanis Club of Great Neck, New York makes it possible for the boys to raise money for their scholarship fund.

2. Kiwanis and Key Clubs Serve the Community

The Sumter, South Carolina Kiwanis club, along with the Key Club of of Edmonds High School, acquired and furnished a much needed Student Body Recreation Lounge where the students can spend their spare time to plan extracurricular activities.

Key Clubbers and their Kiwanis sponsors in Duncan, Oklahoma joined in a safety program for their community, combining their resources for trophies which they awarded to student "Driver of the Week" winners.

Garfield County Key Clubbers, Glenwood Springs, Colorado have a gum-ball machine business which they run in partnership with the Kiwanis club—using their share of the profits to finance school service work,

3. Key Clubs, with Kiwanis Counsel, Serve the Teen-Age Community

Key Clubbers of Pomona City, California sponsored a fund-raising drive and organized a local committee of Kiwanians, faculty advisors and townspeople in a community-wide program to bring a foreign exchange student to their school.

The Key Club of Kenner Collegiate School in Peterborough, Ontario distributed thousands of pamphlets and covered over 900 homes in a house-to-house campaign to get people out for a tuberculosis chest X-ray.

Missoula, Montana Key Clubbers paid traveling, check-up and miscellaneous expenses for a young girl's trip to an out-of-town hospital where she received a much needed and hoped for operation.

In cooperation with the school authorities and city health department, the Key Club of Boca Ciega, Florida arranged to have all students in their school receive three free anti-polio inoculations.

UNDERPRIVILEGED CHILD

To be interested in and concerned about the less fortunate, is a part of the spirit of the Canadian and American way of life. It is therefore natural that Kiwanis from the beginning has served the underprivileged child. In 1956, the theme of the International Committee was "The Underprivileged Child — A Challenge to Kiwanis Service."

The committee continued Kids' Day as it major emphasis project. The 8th annual observance of this program in 1956 saw more than 2000 clubs participating in activities which involved 1,399,460 kids and raised over $1,000,000 for local club work. The US Air Force, for the third successive year, invited Kiwanis clubs to plan Kids' Day activities at local Air Force Bases. Over 500,000 children were entertained at these "Open Houses."

The scope and effectiveness of Kiwanis club activities in this area of service can best be seen by the statistics and activity examples that follow.

1. PHYSICALLY AND MENTALLY HANDICAPPED

166,416 Children treated in dental and other club-sponsored clinics

329,692 lunches and 450,862 quarts of milk provided

These children were recommended through the New York Herald Tribune's Fresh Air Fund . . . Members of the Vancouver, Washington Kiwanis club serve as "big brothers" in guiding and counseling teen-age youths The Kiwanis Club of Lyndhurst, New Jersey entertained orphans at an Easter Bunny Party Manpower and money for improvement of the Nassau Fresh Air Camp for Underprivileged Children was provided by the Kiwanis Club of Nassau, New Hampshire.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

In 1956, "Education for What?" was the provocative theme for the International Committee for this phase of Kiwanis Youth Service. The committee recognized one of the most important problems of our day in its choice of a major emphasis program for the year. Selected was "Teacher Recruitment — A Must for Local Action."

One highlight of the Teacher Recruitment Program was the "Introduction to Teaching" clinic. A "pilot" clinic, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Valparaiso, Indiana, with the cooperation of all other clubs in the First Division, drew 300 high school juniors and seniors interested in becoming teachers. From that beginning clinics were held in all parts of the country under Kiwanis auspices.
