

Jan. 23, 2014

INScope

Weekly news for faculty, staff and students from the Indiana University School of Medicine

top headlines

Fight the flu

Temporary visitor restrictions are in place at Indianapolis-area hospitals due to increased flu activity. Learn how to protect yourself and others.

Artificial intelligence

An IUSM physician and two computer scientists will use an NSF grant to advance research on artificial intelligence in health care.

APA president-elect

Maryellen E. Gusic has been elected to lead the Academic Pediatric Association.

editor's picks

News to Use

Educational partnership

The IUSM Division of Continuing Medical Education has entered a partnership with the American Medical Women's Association.

Opportunities

Pediatric research

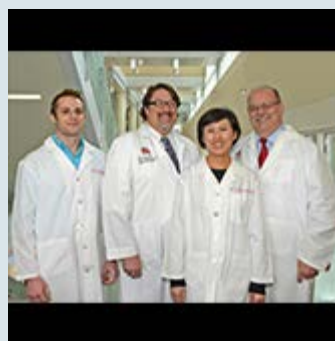

The Herman B Wells Center for Pediatric Research is seeking summer internship applicants.

Grants

Translational research

features of the week

story

Building a better mouse model

A research team at the Herman B Wells Center for Pediatric Research at the IU School of Medicine recently earned accolades from the U.S. Department of Defense for creating a more effective mouse model for neurofibromatosis type 2, a life-threatening genetic disease whose tumors can cause hearing loss in young people.

podcast

Applications are sought for a fellowship program that offers medical students a year to earn a master's in translational research.

Kudos

Executive director

IUSM professor Valerie P. Jackson will serve as the next executive director of the American Board of Radiology.

'Sound Medicine'

This week, "Sound Medicine" examines the risks, benefits and long-term effects of marijuana use in a segment prompted by the substance's legalization in Colorado and Washington state. Other topics this week include PTSD in violent neighborhoods, the federal government's public health challenges and washing hands to prevent the spread of disease.

faculty & staff spotlight

Making his mark

Francis Marshalleck has risen from humble beginnings to become a leader in his field.

events & lectures

IUSM Diversity Week: Abideen Yekinni on "My Journey"

01-24-2014

Medical Humanities seminar

02-06-2014

IUSM faculty and trainee TB skin test deadline

03-01-2014

IU School of Medicine Calendar

student spotlight

Himalayan mission

IUSM-Northwest student Neal Shah won't soon forget his medical mission to the Himalayan Mountain region.

IUSM Newsroom

News and headlines from Indiana University School of Medicine.

IUSM campus links

Bloomington • Evansville • Fort Wayne • Indianapolis
Lafayette • Muncie • Gary • South Bend • Terre Haute

Submit your news

Subscribe or unsubscribe to this newsletter.

IU Communications | 251 N. Illinois St. | Indianapolis, IN 46204