Continuing Student Scholarships General Information

IUPUI has long awarded scholarships to both incoming and continuing students in recognition of their academic achievement, leadership and community service. This listing contains information intended for current IUPUI students, transfer students and students returning to IUPUI. New, incoming freshman students are encouraged to read the listing provided about Freshman Scholarships on this website. Eligibility is based on academic merit, although some scholarships also consider financial need. These need-based scholarships require that the student file the FAFSA (www.fafsa.ed.gov). For information on the FAFSA and/or more detailed information on financial aid other than what is provided in this brochure, please see the IUPUI financial aid website at www.iupui.edu/~finaid/.

This list is only a partial list of general and major-specific scholarships that are available at IUPUI. We encourage you to contact your academic school and/or department to inquire about scholarship opportunities within their areas. Private sector scholarship opportunities are also a viable funding resource for IUPUI students. Try free scholarship searching databases such as www.FastWeb.com and www.Collegeboard.com.

Taxes and Scholarships

Students receiving combinations of scholarships that exceed tuition and fees (direct costs) may need to consult with IRS publications #520 and #508 on tax liability for the difference. Please see the IRS website for downloadable copies or more information. (The Scholarship Office cannot provide information on tax advising.)

the semester the student is to receive funding, (3) have a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.50 on a 4.00 scale, and (4) agree to enroll during the Fall-Spring Semesters for the number of credit-hours required to graduate at the end of the Spring Semester, but for no less than a total of 20 credit-hours during the last year. The applicant must also (a) submit an academic transcript, (b) submit two letters of recommendation from current or former instructors, and (c) complete an essay on your academic goals, how you are achieving them, community service, and your plans after receiving your baccalaureate degree.

Community Service Scholarships

*Sam H. Jones Community Service Scholarship

$3,500

Priority Deadline: March 15

Interview Date is set for Saturday April 21st from 9am-6pm

The Sam H. Jones Community Service Scholarship Program recognizes IUPUI students for previous service to their high school, campus, or community, and supports their continued involvement in educationally meaningful service, leadership, and social advocacy. Sam H. Jones was a dedicated public servant who provided dynamic leadership as the Chief Executive Officer of the Indianapolis Urban League. The program honors Sam H. Jones' legacy as a community leader whose vision and dedication improved the quality of life for many in Central Indiana. Community Service Scholars will volunteer for four hours per week throughout the academic year at a select service agency. In addition, Community Service Scholars will enroll and complete a service learning course (P330) in the Fall, and work with others to coordinate a campus-wide service event. Community Service Scholars agree to enroll in at least 9 credit hours per semester and participate in planned community service and leadership development activities during the year. Applicants must have completed 15 IUPUI total credit hours by the end of the spring semester of application and maintain a 2.75 GPA.

Application requires:

1. IUPUI scholarship application
2. Personal essay
3. An academic transcript (OneStart is acceptable)
4. Two letters of recommendation

At least one letter of recommendation must be from an IUPUI campus representative. On campus interviews will be conducted for all finalists on Saturday April 21st from 9am-6pm. For more information regarding the Community Service Scholarship program, visit the Center for Service and Learning website or contact Patty Mathison or via phone at 274-3931.

*Rotaract Altruism Scholarship in Honor of John Henry Weidner

$1,500 non-renewable Deadline: March 15

This scholarship is awarded to an IUPUI student who exemplifies the spirit of altruism: unselfish concern for the welfare of others. It is named in honor of John Henry Weidner who displayed great altruism in assisting over 1,000 innocent people during WWII who were fleeing from Nazi persecution along the French-Dutch border. In addition to this application, candidates for the award may be asked to submit a supplemental application, and finalists will be interviewed. This scholarship is funded by the Rotary Club of Indianapolis and the recipient will be chosen by the John Weidner Scholarship Committee: a panel of Rotaract Club officers, advisers, and others designated by Rotaract.

America Reads/America Counts Team Leader Scholarships

$3750

Deadline: March 1st

The Sam H. Jones Service Scholarship Program recognizes IUPUI students for previous service to their high school, campus, or community, and supports their continued involvement in educationally meaningful service, leadership, and social advocacy. Sam H. Jones was a dedicated public servant who provided dynamic leadership as the Chief Executive Officer of the Indianapolis Urban League. The program honors Sam Jones' legacy as a community leader whose vision and dedication improved the quality of life for many in Central Indiana. The America Reads*America Counts Team Leader scholarship recognizes students who have demonstrated commitment and leadership to the America Reads*America Counts tutoring program. America Reads*America Counts Team Leaders will dedicate 7 hours per week Fall Semester and 5 hours per week Spring Semester to leading a team of coaches at a designated America Reads*America Counts coaching site. Team Leaders agree to enroll in at least 9 credit hours per semester and attend monthly leadership development trainings. Eligibility requirements: Completion of at least 2 semesters as an America Reads*America Counts coach, prior to applying (you may be completing your 2nd semester of coaching when applying).

Application Requires:

1. Completion of America Reads*America Counts Team Leader Application form (available on-line)
2. Personal essay (completed on-line)
3. 1 letter of recommendation

Service Learning Assistant Program

$750 - $3,000 per semester depending on award level;

Deadlines: Fall – August 15th, Spring – November 15th, Summer I/II – April 15th

As part of the Sam H. Jones Community Service Scholarship Program, Service Learning Assistant (SLA) scholarships are available to recognize IUPUI students who have been selected by faculty or professional staff to support community engaged faculty work in teaching, research and service. SLAs may assist their faculty/staff mentor:

- in the design/implementation of a service learning class,
- conducting a community-engaged research project,
- supporting capacity building for the expansion of service learning within a campus department or unit, or
- implementing a professional service project in and with the community.

Unlike other service scholarships at IUPUI, faculty and staff complete the Service Learning Assistant scholarship application and then select a student to contribute to the faculty/staff members' civic engagement project. Please note that SLA scholarships are granted to support faculty/staff projects, not independent student research projects. Eligible undergraduate students who wish to serve as an SLA are as follows:

1. Having completed at least 15 credit hours at IUPUI.
2. Carry at least a 2.75 grade point average.
3. Enroll in and complete at least 9 credit hours at IUPUI/IUPUC during the semester in which they receive the SLA scholarship.

If you are interested in becoming an SLA, talk to faculty/staff in your department or with whom you have taken classes to learn which faculty/staff may have an active interest in civic engagement and be in need of an SLA. Some faculty/staff may be engaged in projects and need student assistance but not know that these scholarship funds are available so go armed with information. To learn more about the Service Learning Assistant Program or to direct a faculty/staff member to the application, visit the Center for Service and Learning website or contact Mary Price (ph) 317-278-2662.

The Sam H. Jones Community Service Scholarship Program recognizes IUPUI students for previous service to their high school, campus, or community, and supports their continued involvement in educationally meaningful service, leadership, and social advocacy. Sam H. Jones was a dedicated public servant who provided dynamic leadership as the Chief Executive Officer of the Indianapolis Urban League. The program honors Sam Jones' legacy as a community leader whose vision and dedication improved the quality of life for many in Central Indiana.

Fugate Scholars is part of a larger Learning Communities Initiative at George Washington Community School (GWCS). College students implement various college preparatory curricula to student's grades 5 – 12 at the school or at various sites where students will matriculate to GWCS. Fugate Scholars will be required to fulfill their hours by serving in two specific ways. First, they will implement college prep activities during the school day to various designated classrooms. Second, Fugate Scholars will either assist as tutors in AVID classes or serve as college student role models in the existing after-school programs at their sites. This may include homework tutoring and leading or supervising an after-school club or activity. Fugate Scholars receive a $1000 scholarship from IUPUI at the beginning of service each semester and will also be awarded an additional $750 education award from The Learning Community Initiative upon completing their service throughout the semester. Applicants must enroll at IUPUI for 9 credit hours per semester, volunteer 6 hours per week and attend relevant trainings and scholarship specific meetings. Applicants must maintain a 2.75 GPA. Application Requires:

1. A completed application
2. A personal essay
3. An academic transcript (OneStart is acceptable)
4. Names, Titles and contact information of two professional/educational references. Written recommendation letters are also accepted and preferred.
5. Current resume or bullet-pointed overview of your skills, background and qualifications.

Research Scholarships

IUPUI Undergraduate Research Opportunities Program

Undergraduate Research Opportunities Program (UROP) offers undergraduate research grants and travel funds to encourage and recognize undergraduates who participate in research and other creative projects with faculty in all disciplines, including music and art. Formal research credits may be earned toward graduation and may be translated into a research transcript notation upon completion of a research portfolio. Further information may be obtained from the UROP Program Administrator: Carolyn Key; email cakey@iupui.edu; phone (317) 278-0644.

Louis Stokes Alliances for Minority Participation (LSAMP)

The Indiana LSAMP program, a National Science Foundation funded project, offers summer and academic year research fellowships and awards to encourage eligible undergraduate students from ethnic populations that are traditionally under-represented in the baccalaureate degree programs to persist and graduate from a Science, Mathematics, Engineering, or Technology (STEM) program. The eight-week summer research training program at IUPUI, includes working with faculty mentors, designing research projects, and attending a research conferences, is carefully crafted to provide the participants early research experiences and personalized interactions with faculty mentors, supporting staff in the Center for Research and Learning, and a network of state-wide research interested peers. LSAMP Scholars receive $3,000 stipends for doing summer research in STEM projects. For more information about LSAMP Summer Research Training Program, contact either Dr. Kim Nguyen at knguyen@iupui.edu, (317) 274-1126, or Mr. Edward L. F. González, elgonzal@iupui.edu, (317) 274-4907. LSAMP Summer Research Fellowship application deadline is March 1 and the application can be found on-line at this website www.lsamp.iupui.edu.

MURI (Multidisciplinary Undergraduate Research Institute)

MURI is a research institute within the School of Engineering and Technology, IUPUI, established to foster inter/ multidisciplinary team research. Students are selected from different disciplines to participate as a team under the mentorship of engineering and technology faculty members or researchers. Projects normally involve more than one traditional science and engineering discipline. Interested students select from and apply to projects that are defined by mentors of MURI and may work during the summer or academic year. Qualified students receive $1,500 stipend for their involvement in the projects. They can also receive independent research course credits pending the approval of their degree programs. Available projects for students to choose are posted on the MURI website normally at the beginning of fall and spring semesters. Contact: Dr. Hasan Akay, hakay@iupui.edu, (317) 274-9710 for more information.

Ronald E. McNair Scholars Program

Applications are due by March 1

The Ronald E. McNair Scholars Program is a national scholarship program supported by the U.S. Department of Education and IUPUI. The program sponsors undergraduate students who are first-generation, low-income college attendees and students who are from populations that are under-represented in graduate education. The mission of the program is to encourage and support these student participants to aspire to and attain careers requiring the Ph.D. This highly selective and prestigious program engages students in faculty-mentored research throughout their undergraduate careers and supports them with a summer stipend. Students may be admitted as soon as they attain junior status and may apply in their sophomore year. For more information please contact the associate director Mrs. Vicki Gayfield at vgayfiel@iupui.edu or (317) 278-6101.

Summer Research Opportunities Program (SROP)

$3,000

Deadline: February 28

SROP offers outstanding undergraduates the opportunity to conduct research during an intensive 8 week session. Students that have traditionally been underrepresented in graduate school, in their field of study, first-generation college students, or students who have a particular interest in conducting research on topics that affect minority populations are encouraged to apply for this competitive summer research program. The program gives undergraduate student first-hand exposure to the experiences of graduate school by placing them with faculty whose work is closely related to their academic interests and career goals. The summer experience includes working with a faculty mentor on a research project, attending research related seminars and workshops, attending an annual summer research conference, and networking with a diverse group of student-fellows in a variety of summer research programs. Fellows are awarded a stipend for their participation. For more information, visit the SROP website: <http://www.iupui.edu/~gradoff/srop/>, or email srop@iupui.edu.

Diversity Scholars Research Program (DSRP)

Full Tuition and Fees

Deadline: March 1, admission and application

Transfer Student Scholarship Requirements

The Diversity Scholars Research Program is primarily aimed at attracting academically talented freshmen pursuing an education in the research setting who will contribute to the diversity of IUPUI. Students in the program are part of a group of undergraduate scholars who benefit from the research activities, individual support and scholarship funding leading to graduation with a four year degree. Priority is given to incoming high school students who meet minimum eligibility requirement. A continuing IUPUI student may apply and awards are based on availability. This award is made to students in a variety of majors at IUPUI and is highly competitive.

Diversity Scholarships

Norman Brown Diversity & Leadership Program

Up to $3000 per academic year for merit or financial need

Up to $6,000 per academic year for both merit and financial need

Deadline: March 1, admission and application

The Norman Brown Diversity & Leadership Program is designed to recruit, retain and prepare serious, academically gifted students who have demonstrated a commitment and/or desire to develop leadership skills for today's multicultural world. Program participants are encouraged to attain academic success, engage in leadership and civic activities, and prepare for work force entry. All scholars are required to enroll full time; maintain a 3.0 cumulative GPA; participate in specific program functions; and meet on a regular basis with an assigned IUPUI faculty/staff mentor. Continuing and transfer student applicants must be Indiana residents and have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale. Students are only considered for the fall semester. Preference is given to transfer student and continuing students who have completed 12 credit hours (but no more than 60 up to junior status). This program is an integral part of IUPUI's efforts to foster the benefits of educational diversity, in part by assuring the obtainment of a critical mass of students from underrepresented minority backgrounds with a history of discrimination. As such, during the application process positive considerations are given to students from underrepresented minority backgrounds and whose presence will enhance the learning environment through increased diversity at IUPUI. Additional consideration is also given to students with significant financial need as defined by the FAFSA. The Olaniyan Scholars Program

Full Tuition/$2000 stipend per year
Renewable for up to four years of eligibility
Deadline: March 15; admission and application
Scholarship open to freshmen and sophomore students

The Olaniyan (Oh-LAWN-eee-yawn) Scholars Program offers academically gifted students interested in the study of black populations the opportunity to work with a full-time faculty mentor to design a research project that will explore some issue or aspect of the lives, history, traditions, or interests of people of African descent. Students will also participate in community internships that encourage civic engagement and partnerships with organizations working to enrich, support, uplift, and encourage African and African American populations within the Indianapolis community. The program is open to students of all races, nationalities, and backgrounds with preference given to students from underrepresented populations in higher education. All scholars must enroll full time (12-15 credit hours), maintain at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA, participate in specific program functions and internship experiences, and meet regularly with their faculty mentor. Applicants can be Indiana or out-of-state residents (out-of-state applicants must contact the Scholarship Office/Financial Aid Office to apply for aid to cover the difference between in-state and out-of-state tuition), meet IUPUI's regular admissions criteria, and have a cumulative 2.7 GPA (on a 4.0 scale) on their high school transcripts. Please go to the website at www.iupui.edu/olaniyan or contact the program director, Dr. Ronda C. Henry, at (317) 278-0885 or ronhenry@iupui.edu for more information.

Diversity Scholars Research Program (DSRP)

Full Tuition and Fees
Deadline: March 1, admission and application

Transfer Student Scholarship Requirements

The Diversity Scholars Research Program is primarily aimed at attracting academically talented freshmen pursuing an education in the research setting who will contribute to the diversity of IUPUI. Students in the program are part of a group of undergraduate scholars who benefit from the research activities, individual support and scholarship funding leading to graduation with a four year degree. Priority is given to incoming high school students who meet minimum eligibility requirement. A continuing IUPUI student may apply and awards are based on availability. This award is made to students in a variety of majors at IUPUI and is highly competitive.

This leadership award was established to recognize students who have demonstrated leadership abilities and an appreciation of basic American values through a record of achievement in community services or service to IUPUI. Juniors and seniors with a 3.5 GPA in academic work are eligible to apply. Preference is given to students in Liberal Arts, Science and Business.

OTeam Orientation and First Year Seminars

What's OTEAM?

The OTEAM is a group of undergraduate students who lead the summer orientation programs and mentor the first year seminar courses during the fall semester. OTEAM members receive a scholarship for their service to the campus community. In order to be eligible for the OTEAM Leadership Scholarship you must meet the following:

- Must be a current undergraduate student at IUPUI.
- Applicant must be currently enrolled at IUPUI.
- Must have completed 12 credit hours at IUPUI.
- Must have a 2.8 GPA and be in good standing with the University.
- Possess positive communication and teamwork skills.
- Be creative and have personal initiative.
- Be willing to work with a diverse group of people.
- Have a desire to interact with students, families, faculty and staff.

Mentoring First Year Seminars

First Year Seminar mentors are members of the course instructional team, which consist of: a faculty member, advisor, librarian, and the student mentor. The mentor's role is to present themselves as a model student. The mentor helps introduce students to resources, expectations, successful academic habits and the campus community. During the fall semester mentors must:

- Be able to commit an average of 5 hours a week to the First Year Seminar Course (including time in class).
- Actively present and participate in the First Year Seminar course.
- Attend all training programs during your scholarship term.
- Participate in all scholarship related activities and meetings.
- Enroll in an UCOL mentoring class, which is covered by the scholarship.

International Student Scholarship Opportunities

International Student Grant

Deadline: March 15 (Fall semester)
October 15 (Spring semester)

The International Student Grant program provides scholarships to international undergraduate and graduate degree-seeking students who have a strong academic record and who are experiencing severe financial hardship. Award amounts vary. The student must hold F-1 or J-1 student visa status, be assessed tuition at the out-of-state rate, and have completed at least two semesters of full-time coursework at IUPUI at the time the award begins. For more information, contact the Office of International Affairs at (317) 274-7000 or ويا@iupui.edu.

Attention: International Students

Some IUPUI scholarships do require U.S. citizenship and/or Indiana residency, as well as financial need as defined by the FAFSA. If, however, international students meet the eligibility criteria for any other scholarships listed in this brochure that do not have the above requirements, then you are invited to apply. Depending on your academic major, you may also be eligible to apply for other scholarships within your academic department.

Note: International student scholarships may be subject to U.S. tax; completing the niversity's International Tax Questionnaire will ensure that any required tax is withheld at the lowest rate possible. For more information contact the IUPUI Office of International Affairs at (317) 274-7000 or ويا@iupui.edu.
