- Information on the functions of the Bursar Appeals Committee—Ingrid Toschlog & Rick Ward
 - Frequent Requests to the Bursars Appeals Committee and University Appeals Committee for forgiveness of debt incurred for classes students never attended suggest that students do not always understand the ramifications of financial ramifications for registering for classes, failing to withdraw correctly from classes, or failing to pay attention to official correspondence from the Bursar's Office, Office of Financial Aid, and the Registrar.
 - o Encumbrances beyond a minimum amount
 - Currently a past due balance >$200 prevent students from registering, receiving additional financial aid, or an official transcript (thus, they may not be able to register at another university). This may have an impact on our retention and graduation figures.
 - Current communication strategies used by the Student Account Services to notify students of their bills were discussed
 - Paper bills to all students is likely too expensive and not cost effective
 - Other strategies were suggested although none seemed immediately promising
 - We discussed the need for collecting additional data
 - How many students in the first time full time cohort who were in good academic standing and did not return for their sophomore year had an encumbrance?
 - How many students who have more than 86 credit hours, good academic standing (gpa > 2.0) and who have not attended in the last two years have an encumbrance?
 - o Can we determine the percentage of unpaid balances we collect?
 - From all students (except the professional schools)
 - From students who have FNN (never attended) on their last semester of attendance
 - We discussed possible mediations
 - Can we contact students who have not been attending in a more effective and timely manner?
 - Can we allow a partial payment, perhaps tied to some baseline (see point on actual percentage we expect to recover above)?
 - Can we use financial forgiveness as an incentive for degree retention and forgiveness?
 - debt forgiven after one semester
 - debt forgive after degree is complete
 - How can we avoid "opening the flood gates" to financial irresponsibility?
 - Forgiveness is only granted for one semester or a fixed amount.
 - We agreed to convene and adhoc committee, (Ward*, Bovenzi, Gavrin, Toschlog, Helman, Porter, Meier) once we have collected relevant data, to consider the problem and possible solutions.
 - * convener
