

green sheet

INDIANA UNIVERSITY-PURDUE UNIVERSITY AT INDIANAPOLIS

volume three, number two

january 7, 1973

iupui

REGISTRATION AND SUCH

More than 9,000 students have been registered in advance for the spring semester at IUPUI. According to Registrar Neil Lantz, this is the largest pre-registration ever recorded for IUPUI. He expects another 4,000 students will complete class sign-up during the open registration this week (Monday and Tuesday).

Total spring semester registration in undergraduate, graduate and professional schools will exceed 16,000, Lantz estimates. Fall enrollment was 16,938 and there is usually a slight drop in the spring.

* * *

SURVEYS

An annual survey conducted by the University of Cincinnati shows an expected increase of 2 per cent over last year's total college enrollment. There were some interesting declines: full-time students at the 1,428 responding institutions had declined by 0.4 per cent, and in a sample group of 876 colleges and universities there was a 3.1 per cent decline in first-year enrollments. The significant increase was in the part-time student category -- an increase of 2.1 per cent. More students are moving away from the set four-year patterns, and increased access to higher education has brought many older people back to school. . . State University of New York at Buffalo reports that only one of 446 students who received Ph.D. degrees from SUNY is currently unemployed. A survey taken by the graduate school shows that 423 degree holders (96 per cent) held positions "reasonably commensurate with the degree received." The national unemployment rate for Ph.D. holders is 4 per cent; SUNY's rate is one-fourth of 1 per cent. (From University Today Newsletter)

* * *

CALENDAR CHECK-OFF

Pharmacy displays this week in University Hospital will be J.B. Lippincott Co. on Monday, Merrell-National Laboratories on Wednesday and J.B. Roerig on Friday. Displays at Riley will be A.H. Robins Co. on Monday, Bristol Laboratories on Wednesday and J.B. Lippincott Co. on Friday. Exhibit hours are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

You can see the IUPUI Metros in action twice this week on their home court at Chatard High School: Tuesday when they meet Miami University-Middletown at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday when they play St. Meinrad at 2 p.m. In between, there's an away game at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Rose-Hulman.

ISO -- The season's fourth Lolli-Pop Concert pair will be held Saturday at the Children's Museum. Times are 1 p.m. and 2:15 p.m. Tickets are $1. Also on Saturday, the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra's second "Pops" concert will be held at 8:15 p.m. in the Indiana Convention Exposition Center Ballroom. Albert Coleman of the Atlanta "Pops" will be conducting. For more information, call 923-1457.

* * *

CORRECTIONS DEPARTMENT

The note about Social Security rates which appeared in the December 17 Green Sheet was wrong. The notice should read:

Effective January 1, 1973, the rate for Old Age and Survivors Insurance (commonly known as OASI or Social Security) will increase to 5.85 per cent for both employees and employers. All project directors should, therefore, budget an increase in fringe benefits for all new and renewal applications. Individuals on TIAA-CREF, 19.6 per cent; individuals on PERF, 12.1 per cent.

For summer salaries, request 8.6 per cent if the 10-month salary rate is less than $18,000; 2.75 per cent if the 10-month salary rate is greater than $18,000.

* * *

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Offer You Can't Refuse Dept. -- The Flying Purple Puck Trophy will be up for grabs again this year during the fourth annual Purdue vs Indiana hockey game Saturday, January 27, at 7:15 p.m. in the Coliseum at the Indiana State Fairgrounds. If you buy a ticket for the game, you also get one free hamburger at any Burger-Chef and two garments cleaned for the price of one at any Tuchman Cleaners. You can get tickets ($2 each) from Dr. Eugene E. Levitt in Room 32 (third floor, old Riley), Ext. 7324.

The Case of the Missing Locket -- A locket with two pictures in it has been found. If owner can identify it, she may pick it up in the dean's office at Ball Residence, Ext. 8637.

"Pooling" Your Funds -- Non-university memberships for the pool in the Union Building at $11 each, not $9 as reported earlier.

Reactivated -- The Clinical Research Center, Ward K-Long Hospital, was reactivated January 2 for research staff orientation. The unit will be staffed and ready for patient occupancy Monday (January 8) and will contain seven adult and two pediatric patient beds.

Coming Up -- Mayor Richard G. Lugar will talk about the "Role of the Nurse in Community Action" at the Sigma Theta Tau meeting Tuesday, February 6, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. This program, open to all interested persons, will be held in Myer Auditorium at Marion County General Hospital.

* * *

TRAVELLERS

Dr. Ray M. Antley, assistant professor of pediatrics, was one of 21 geneticists invited by the National Genetics Foundation to a workshop last month in Washington, D.C., to discuss problems of genetic counseling. The meeting, supported by a grant from the National Institutes of Health, was the first formal consideration of the elements of high-quality genetic counseling and how to implement such counseling on a national scale.

The American Association for Inhalation Therapy held its annual meeting last month in Las Vegas. Members of the Respiratory Therapy Department who attended were Joseph Koss, Maurice Miller, James Wilcox, Joe Vincent and Anna Mason.

Dr. Leon H. Bourke, associate professor of French, has returned from New York where he presented a symposium on "The Concept of Woman in Le Soulier de Satin." The occasion was a meeting of the Paul Claudel Society which met in conjunction with the Modern Language Association of America.

Shirley B. Quate, assistant professor in English and journalism, attended the November conference of the National Council of College Publications Advisers in New York City. Vice-president for regional affairs for NCCPA, she participated in a session called "Who's Afraid of Tom Wolfe?", a program that evaluated the new journalism education.

Also in New York recently, Dr. Robert W. Hall, Division of Business, recently presented a paper called "Information Habits of Scientists and Engineers in Industry" at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Last fall Dominic J. Bisignano, associate professor of English, travelled to St. Louis for a meeting of the Midwest Modern Language Association and read a paper called "History as Hero in the 19th Century -- Robert Browning, the Ring and the Book, a Marxist Interpretation."

Chicago has been the recent destination for several travelling faculty members. Dr. Hanus J. Grosz, professor of psychiatry, was there to be guest speaker at the annual national meeting of Recovery, Inc. Stephen M. Sachs, assistant professor of political science, visited Roosevelt University to talk about "An Alternate Approach to the War on Poverty." Professor Bernard Friedman and Associate Professor Gerald E. Hartdagen attended a recent conference of Early American Historians sponsored by the Newberry Library. David K. Hollingsworth and Michael R. Cohen, Division of Education, presented a paper called "High School Students and Their Concepts of the Environment: Two Mutually Exclusive Sets," at the National Symposium on Methods of Learning Environmental Science.

Professor Jeremy S. Williams of the Indianapolis Law School was in Windsor, Ontario, recently for a conference on "Information Processing and the Right to Privacy." The principal speech, delivered by the Hon. Robert Stanbury, minister of communications, Canada, revealed the major findings of the Canadian Government Task Force on Information and Privacy. Professor Williams was the chief legal consultant on this task force.

Neil E. Matthew, assistant professor of fine arts, attended the recent meeting of the Mid-America College Art Association at the University of Notre Dame.

Dr. Samuel S. Patterson, professor and director of graduate endodontics, was in Evansville recently for an all-day meeting of the District Dental Society.

Dr. Diane L. Brashear, assistant professor of social service, was in Portland, Oregon, recently to present a paper, "Abortion Counseling," at a meeting of the National Council on Family Relations.

Travellers from the History Department: Assistant Professor Keith A. Winsell attended the meeting of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History in Cincinnati recently. Associate Professor Sabine Jessner was in Bloomington for the West European Conference and Jan Shipps, associate faculty member, attended the meeting of the Western History Association in New Haven, Connecticut.

"The World of Meanings of Social Information Centers" was discussed by Dr. Martin Bloom, professor of social service, at the recent annual meeting of the American Society for Information Science in Washington.

(continued)

Melvin W. Milgate, assistant professor of mechanical engineering technology, attended the Manufacturing Productivity Conference in Washington, D.C., recently. The conference was organized to explore industry-education arrangements as a way to combat loss of American productivity to foreign countries and to investigate ways to enhance domestic production by co-operative industry-education programs.

Dr. Robert Samuels, chairman and professor of biology, and Mrs. Florence L. Goodwin, biology instructor, were in Minneapolis recently for the 25th annual meeting of the Society of Protozoologists. Dr. Samuels presented a paper called "Revision of Serum-Free Medium for Trichomonads" and Mrs. Goodwin's paper was called "Sodium Dodecyl Sulfate Polyacrylamide Gel Electrophoresis of Tritrichomonad Costa Proteins."

John M. Riteris, philosophy lecturer, was in San Francisco recently where he read a paper called "On Some Ethical Aspects of Clinical Transplantation" at the first International Symposium of Clinical Transplantation. The paper will appear this March in Transplantation Proceedings.

Philadelphia was the destination for some 25 IUMC people who attended the recent meeting of the American Society of Human Genetics. Presenting papers were Drs. Ray M. Antley, A. Donald Merritt, Walter E. Nance, Joe C. Christian, Ira K. Brandt, Patrick M. Conneally, Carl W. Trygstad, Ke Won Kang, Lawrence C. Hartlage and Pao-Lo Yu. Other participants were M. Nakata, B. Davis, Y. E. Hsia, D. H. Clement, S. A. Provence, C. A. Kopitzke, M. L. Rivas, E. W. Lovrien and R. D. Friedman. Also R. Newell, S. E. Schmitt, P. I. Bader, J. Grove, M. R. Wiggans and F. P. Harmath.

Dr. R. K. Stoelting, assistant professor in anesthesiology and pharmacology, was in Cambridge, Massachusetts, last month to serve as a visiting professor at the Harvard University School of Medicine.

* * *

ETHEL KERSEY
LIBRARY
420 BLAKE STREET

NB*

*A News Bureau Publication
Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis
1100 West Michigan Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202